NEW TAX LAW AFFECTS MORE THAN HALF MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF PROPERTY

City Treasurer Will Act to Collect Unpaid 1922 Taxes, as Authorized by Recent Legislation—Demands to Be Followed by Auction Sales After August 1—$528,000 Involved at Present

Here is a warning to real estate owners, who have not as yet paid their 1922 city taxes.

Acting in accordance with an amendment to Chapter 126 of the General Laws of Massachusetts, recently passed by the legislature, City Treasurer Fred H. Rourke soon will send out demands for the unpaid 1922 real estate taxes. Later on the real estate on which the taxes remain unpaid, will be advertised and after Aug. 1 will be sold to the highest bidders. The 1922 unpaid taxes in this city amount to $528,000 and under the new law the city treasurer is instructed to collect at once.

The amendment to the law, recently enacted by the legislature, reads as follows: "If any tax betterment or special assessment remains unpaid fourteen days after demand therefor, the collector, in the case of any tax betterment or special assessment upon real estate within one year from Oct. 1 in the year of assessment and in case of any other tax within two years from said Oct. 1, shall collect the tax together with all incidental charges and fees and in the manner provided by law." Heretofore the law allowed two years for the payment of real estate taxes.

Wooden Cars Telescoped and Crushed—Seven Passengers Injured—Officials Attribute Accident to Rain Which Caused Brakes of Elevated to Slip

NEW YORK, July 16.—Two wooden coaches of a crowded elevated train were telescoped and crushed, injuring seven passengers today, when it crashed into the rear of an empty subway train in the Bronx. The collision occurred opposite the Interborough Parking yards near the Kings Bridge station on the Jerome avenue division, where elevated and subway trains travel the overhead structure. Transportation officials attribute the accident to rain which caused the brakes of the elevated to slip.

WAS WELL KNOWN BUSINESS MAN

DEATH LAST NIGHT OF JAMES W. M'KENNA

JAMES W. McKENNA

James W. McKenna of 767 Bridge street, well known local undertaker and for the past 20 years an esteemed citizen of Lowell, died at 11.15 o'clock last night at his summer home, Boar's Head, Hampton, N. H., after an illness of several months' duration. The body was removed to his late home this morning.

James Walter McKenna was born at Fox Lake, Wisconsin in 1871 and at the age of nine year went to McCook, Nebraska, where he later married Miss Louise I. Hickey of Lowell. Removing to Denver, Colorado a short time after his marriage, he entered the undertaking business, which he conducted along successful lines for six years. He came to Lowell 20 years ago and established undertaking rooms at 413 Bridge street, which he personally conducted with unusual success until illness forced him to 6eek respite in his home. His dignity, tact and painstaking skill won him a legion of friends who sympathize with

Whether or not the city council will be called upon to take action on an additional $3800 for the election department, needed to make up the increase in salary for the members of the election commission or listing board, at its regular meeting tomorrow evening, will depend upon whether or not the city solicitor will present an order therefor.

This matter has been hanging fire for some time and Councilor Frederick A. Sadlier, who is very much interested in the order is anxious to have some action taken. Of course the members of the board are also vitally interested in the matter and are doing their utmost to have the order put through. At the last meeting of the council it was voted to request the city solicitor to prepare an order for the next meeting, but when questioned this morning as to whether or not he will have it ready for tomorrow's meeting, City Solicitor Reynolds was non-committal.

The council will also be called upon tomorrow night to take action on several loan orders for the street department. One calls for a loan of $45,000 for macadam work, another for $10,000 for the paving of Chelmsford street and a third, for $9000 for the paving of Lawrence street. The $45,000 order was discussed and approved by the finance committee at a recent meeting, but the other two orders, also discussed, were not approved. It is understood that prior to the regular meeting tomorrow night the finance committee will meet again to discuss the Chelmsford and Lawrence st loans and there is a possibility that the committee will recommend a transfer of $9000 from the $30,000 loan for the widening of the corner of Hall and Aiken streets to the Lawrence street paving order.

BUSINESS CHANGES IN CENTRAL STREET

Fred Howard, who for a number of years, has been conducting a drug store at 167 Central street, has leased the store occupied by Frank J. Campbell at 225 Central street, and within a short time will remove his business to his new stand. The Campbell drug store was purchased by Mr. Howard from Andrew Roach and Mrs. Margaret J. Fitzgerald.

It was also learned today that the proprietors of Liggett's drug stores have leased the street floor of the new building being erected at the corner of Central and Jackson street and will establish another one of their chain drug stores there.

RESUME TASK OF DRAFTING REPLY

British Officials Disappointed But Undaunted by French Premier's Speech

Still Hope to Make Proposals Which Will Be Acceptable to Allies

London Paper Treats Speech as Finally Slamming Door Against Britain

LONDON, July 16—(By the Associated Press) British hopes of assuming the allied leadership in the negotiations for a reparations settlement with Germany are considered here to have had a serious setback during the week-end by reason of the speech which Premier Poincare of France delivered at Senlis Sunday.

Nevertheless the British officials who returned to Downing street early today to resume the task of drafting a reply to the latest German offer were not so sure that the situation was as gloomy as the news from Paris seemed to indicate.

The British attitude, as reflected in official circles, is that the least said about the Poincare address, the better. It is recognized that the atmosphere of a war memorial unveiling was not a

TRUCE ENDED AT BROCKTON

BROCKTON, July 16.—Announcement that "the truce is ended" was made today by leaders of striking shoe workers of the city. A meeting was called for this afternoon at which the question of resuming picketing of shoe plants will be voted on.

It was said by strike heads that they refused to assume responsibility on the question of renewing an active campaign, and will let the rank and file of strikers decide.

The city solicitor's ruling on July 8 that picketing was illegal resulted in clashes between police and strike sympathizers last week in which many arrests were made. A permit for a mass meeting yesterday of strikers at which the question of calling off the strike and abandoning picketing was to be put to a vote, was refused by the city authorities. The strike has been in progress since May, when a large number of shoe workers went out to enforce demands for abrogation of the contract between the Shoe Manufacturers' association and the Boot & Shoe Workers' union which calls for settlement of all disputes by the state board of conciliation and arbitration.

TWO MEN KILLED AND GIRL FATALLY INJURED WHEN TRAIN STRUCK TRUCK ON WAY TO LOWELL

Train and Truck Came to Crossing Near Nashua at Same Time—Driver of Truck Applied Brakes, But Owing to Slippery Condition of Roadway, the Auto Slipped Across Rails in Path of Locomotive

NASHUA, N. H., July 16.—Two men were killed and a girl is dying at the Memorial hospital here, the result of the striking of a five-ton auto truck by the locomotive of the Nashua-bound passenger train on the Keene branch of the Boston & Maine railroad at Richardson's crossing, Milford, this morning. The dead:

Earl Wilfred Moore, 25 State street, Lynn, Mass.

The identification of Mr. Cheever seems positive as owner and driver of the truck. He was driving toward Nashua. The truck was loaded with blankets from Monadnock mills in Marlboro, going to Lowell.

On the body of the young man was the card bearing the name and address given, and also a pencilled notation: "Hotel Ellis, Keene."

The girl, Mary Cheever, 14-year-old daughter of the driver was unconscious from skull fracture when removed from the wrecked truck. At the hospital here at 10 o'clock she was said to be dying.

Train and truck came to the crossing at the same time. The driver of the truck applied his brake to stop, but owing to the slippery condition of the roadway the truck slid across the rails, where it was struck by the locomotive.

LOWELL MEN HAVE MIRACULOUS ESCAPE FROM VIOLENT DEATH

Automobile Driven at Breakneck Speed By Henry Beauparlant of Ludlam Street, Crashes Head-on Into Side of Buildings in Brookline—Police Place His Companion Under Arrest—Beauparlant's Condition Serious

Henry Beauparlant of 69 Ludlam street, this city, miraculously escaped instant death yesterday morning when the automobile which he was operating in company with a man giving the name of James J. McMahon of 1473a Lakeview avenue, violently crashed into the wall of the Brookline Riding school in the Boston suburb, rendering Beauparlant unconscious and severely shaking up his companion McMahon. The impact of the car against the building tore a large hole in the wall and completely demolished the machine.

Patrolman James Travers of the Brookline police was standing at the corner of Thorndike and Harvard streets, Brookline yesterday morning when an automobile flashed by him at rapid speed; hurtled across the junction of Washington and Walnut streets and crashed head-on into the

STREET WORK WELL UP TO 1923 SCHEDULE

That the street department is keeping pace with its 1923 schedule of work is shown in a report submitted to the press today by City Engineer Stephen Kearney. The schedule of granite block paving for the season is 8,271.8 square yards and already 7,559.3 has been done. Reinforced concrete work scheduled for the year is 3,142.9 square yards and in this instance the department is far ahead for the work accomplished to date amounts to 1,341.1 square yards. Relative to asphaltic concrete the schedule calls for 6,383.4 and in this case also the department has done more than contemplated, for 7,005.6 square yards have been laid.

This morning a gang of men of the street department were put to work on the excavating of the south side of Westford street near Tyler park, preparatory to the laying of reinforced concrete.

O. M. I. CADETS LEAVE FOR ENCAMPMENT

Two hundred khaki clad boys left the O.M.I. Cadet Armory in High st., at 1 o'clock today for their annual encampment at Milligan's grove. This is the 18th annual encampment of the Cadets and the number journeying to the camp today assures its success as the greatest of the eighteen.

The journey from the armory to the grove was made in trucks and regardless of the rain that threatened to become heavy and the rough-riding of the trucks over the slippery pavements, the boys enjoyed every minute of the ride, singing and cheering all the way.

One company left last Saturday and spent that day and Sunday in setting up the 25 tents and the mess hall so that the boys today had dry quarters to go into on arrival.

Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., chaplain and founder of the organization, went with "his boys" and will stay with them until their return home. A military chapel has been

FRANCE DEMANDS FULL PAYMENT

Premier Poincare Declares France Has Made Last Concession to Germany

Government Insists on Complete Execution of Treaty of Versailles

SENLIS, France, July 16.—(By the Associated Press) In this little town, the nearest point the Germans reached on their smash to Paris, Premier Poincare gave yesterday what is considered his preliminary answer to Great Britain's attitude on reparations which was enunciated last week in both houses of parliament. His real answer, of course, will be in reply to the note that Great Britain will propose as a joint allied reply to Germany.

The French premier did not make any direct reference to the British position, but simply outlined his own, anticipating in several instances what is generally believed will be the features of the British proposal.

France, asserted M. Poincare, stands unalterably for the complete execution of the treaty of Versailles and the full payment by Germany of the debts of 132,000,000,000 gold marks, the sum fixed at the London conference. France, he added, in consequence opposes the appointment of an international finance commission to reconsider Germany's debts and supplant the reparations commission.

No more concessions will be made by France, was the gist of his address to the citizens of Senlis, some of whom saw the Germans place part of their village in flames and shoot some of the civilians. From the signing of the peace treaty until now, France has been making concessions continuously, he asserted.

"Then why have we said we have reached the end?" he asked. "It is because until now they always have been at our expense. Has not Germany been so well looked after during three whole years that she has been allowed to default on all her obligations so that we had to pay with our own money 100,000,000,000 francs she owed us and has not paid? Has she not been allowed to rebuild a commercial fleet and develop her canals and railroads and enrich her great industries at the expense of her creditors."

Germany has done nothing to stabilize her finance, he declared, and will not put her house in order unless forced. To think that she will do otherwise is a delusion.

"For three years the allies had followed this mirage and for three years things have been going from bad to worse. If we were not in the Ruhr Germany would have continued to slip into the abyss she dug, but we would have been empty-handed, while now we hold security, and we are powerful enough not to have let go."

The French premier reminded his hearers that France had been disappointed in promises of guarantees of protection from her allies in the war and reasserted his position that France's present methods are legal under the Versailles treaty. He laid stress on his and the government's hope that close relations with Great Britain will be continued and recalled that he was one of those who helped bring about the alliance between Great Britain and France.

RECOVERS HER SIGHT

FISKDALE, July 16.—One of the greatest pilgrimages yet held in honor of St. Anne, one rivalling the famous ceremony held at Beaupre, Quebec, occurred in this little hillside town yesterday when more than 5000 men, women and children climbed the steep, grassy slope to the tiny out-door shrine dedicated to the mother of the Virgin Mary.

The climax to this remarkable spectacle came late in the afternoon when it was announced that one of the pilgrims had been restored to sight after nine months' of blindness that had been diagnosed as chronic by specialists.

Mrs Elizabeth A. Corset, 65 years old, who lives at Prospect Park in Springfield, and is mother of 15 children, was the woman who said her eyesight had been restored.

Six weeks ago I commenced a series of novenas to Saint Anne," Mrs. Corset told a reporter as she emerged from the little chapel here. "I was stone blind for nine months. My heart was bad. The doctors all gave me up. I had faith in Saint Anne. I prayed to her and made the journey here from my home and prayed all the time. I felt the good saint would hear.

"After my first journey here a heart affliction disappeared. Then my eyes began to improve and after yesterday's service my poor, weak old eyes began to see. I can see clearly as when I was a girl and without glasses. I owe it all to St. Anne. I will dedicate my whole life to her in the future."

Many Cures Reported

A score of other remarkable cures and improvements have been reported thus far this season, according to the Rev. Father Joseph M. Marceau, pastor of the church here.

From all sections of New England and New York state and from as far west as Ohio, the pilgrims came for yesterday's service. The blind, the halt and lame participated in the ascent to the tiny shrine hidden in a clump of fir trees at the summit of a mount that sets directly back of the village center of Fiskdale. The climb to the shrine represents Christ's last journey to the cross of Calvary's mount.

Heading this impressive march was the pastor of the church followed by surpliced and cassocked altar boys carrying beneath a canopy of gold and silk covering a marble statue of St. Anne carrying the Virgin Mary as a child in her arms. Following these came a long line of uniformed Boy Scouts of America from St. Joachim parish, Chicopee Falls.

In this procession were men and women and little children of many races and creeds. Some were men and women who had travelled miles for yesterday's service on stretchers. They were carried up the steep green slope by uniformed men, St. Jean the Baptiste guard, connected with the parish.

Elderly men and women were pushed up the ascent on wheel chairs by eager relatives and blue coated guards, the most touching sight being the long thin line of little ones in carriages and stretchers and in arms of parents as they toiled their way over the hill—tiny victims of infantile paralysis with little wide eyes blazing with the fervor of faith in the saint.

Along a pathway on the edge of the hillside a choir of a hundred mixed voices chanted hymns and meanwhile Father Superior Deydier, head of Assumption college, Worcester, lead the audience in prayer.

Arrived at the summit, Father Gagnon of Chicopee directed the singing of his choir from a hand stand opposite the shrine. Then Father Deydier opened the services in French while the pilgrims fell to their knees on the ground and facing the shrine the supplicants repeated the Litany of the Blessed Virgin and the Litany of St. Anne. The ceremony was repeated in English.

It was after the descent and during vespers in the chapel below that Mrs. Corset made the announcement of the return of her sight. During the benediction the afflicted who made a novenna to the saint had places nearest the altar rail. The church was filled to capacity and thousands knelt outside.

PRES. HARDING PLAYS ROLE OF ENGINEER

TALKEETNA, Alaska, July 16.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding, as head of the government, drove one of its own locomotives today over its own railroad. He said Mrs. Harding has as much fun as two youngsters on their first train trip.

When the train arrived at Wasilla on the Alaska railway, Mr and Mrs Harding went up to the engine and chatted into the cab. The chief executive, after brief instructions, took the throttle and drove to Willow. He was in charge of the engine for 26 miles, which was traveled in 51 minutes. Mrs Harding occupied the fireman's side of the cab.

The engineman said that Mr. Harding was a good engineer, but the striking car steward disagreed. This functionary pointed out that in stopping the train the pilot had jerked the cars so severely that 11 cups were broken in the diner.

While the engine took water the president visited with some section men at work nearby. He helped them paint a new bunkhouse, wielding the brush vigorously.

The Hardings, while going to Fairbanks, the northern terminus of the railway from Steward its southern end, have been spending much of their time in a speeder. This is an automobile with flanged steel wheels fitting the rails. Traveling in this behind the train is much better than staying in the presidential private car, Mrs. Harding assured members of the party.

Statistics show that the favorite marriage age is 24 for men and 21 for women in England.

AUSTRIAN ROYAL PLATE TO GO ON SALE

VIENNA, July 16.—What is probably the rarest and most valuable collection of silver plate in Europe, the famous silver treasure of the Cumberland family, is reported to be coming into the market. It was kept in the Cumberland royal villa at Penzig, just outside Vienna, until the death of the old King of Hanover in 1878. Afterwards it was removed to the Cumberland country seat at Gmunden in Salzkammergut.

The collection includes priceless specimens of the work of the first silversmiths in England, France, Augsburg, Hanover and Asnabruck, during the three centuries between 1560 and 1830. The only other collection which approaches it in extent and completeness is that in Windsor castle.

The total weight of the Gmunden treasure is about 130,000 ounces and its value in Austrian crowns must amount to several hundred milliards. But it is understood that the purchaser, or purchasers, will have to pay in some foreign money of normal exchange, and not in depreciated Austrian crowns.

SAVING IN COST OF MAKING ELECTRICITY

(The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The United States is becoming an increasingly heavier user of electricity, but despite the mounting power totals, the consumption of fuel to produce it is decreasing in proportion. Geological survey figures show that the consumption of coal for that purpose in 1922 was only 2.5 pounds a kilowatt hour, as compared with 5.2 pounds in 1919.

A total of 47,659,000,000 kilowatt hours was generated last year. Of this amount 36.1 per cent. was generated by water power. New York leads the list of states in production, manufacturing 15.57 per cent. of the total for the country. Other states in order are Pennsylvania, California, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Massachusetts and West Virginia.

TO SORT MAIL IN SPEEDING AIRPLANE

LONDON, July 16.—A "flying mail train' is the latest type of airplane to be developed in England.

In the plane's mail-chamber, says the Daily Chronicle's aeronautical expert, sorters will be able to carry on their work just as they might in a railway mail-train. It will have a radius of 2000 miles and will be able to stay in the air 24 hours without alighting. The crew in charge will be provided with regular sleeping quarters on board. They will, in fact, work in shifts while in the air, some of them sleeping while others are on duty in the control chamber.

If necessary, when flying at night or immersed in fog or cloud, the crew will be able to bring into play mechanisms which will endow the craft with the power of automatic self-balance. The machine will virtually fly itself, and all the helmsman will have to do will be to keep it on a compass course by means of the rudder.

LONDON, July 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Prime Minister Baldwin announced in the house of commons today that he would communicate to the United States for its information the draft of the reply he was preparing to the German reparation note. Mr. Baldwin's statement was made to J. Ramsay MacDonald, the leader of the labor opposition, in reply to the latter's question. In reply to Commander Joseph Kenworthy another questioner, the prime minister said the recent German note on reparations was addressed to the United States as well as to the British and allied governments, but that no recent conversations had occurred between representatives of the British and United States governments in regard to reparations or the present European situation.

Third Generation is Using Syrup Pepsin

No other Laxative can replace Dr. Caldwell's in the confidence of those who use it

THERE are thousands of healthy, robust young men and women who have never in all their lives taken any other laxative for constipation than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Their parents were given it by their parents; the grandparents are using it today. It is the one laxative ideally suited to all the family, safe for the little ones, effective in grownups, so compounded that elderly people, who are constantly forced to take a laxative because the intestinal muscles are weakening, find increased dosage unnecessary. This wonderful constipation remedy has been used continuously for 30 years, and over 10 million bottles are now sold annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world! The cost averages but a cent a dose. Every druggist sells it, and under a guarantee to do as claimed or your money will be refunded.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

Mr. J. B. Belk of Shaw, Miss., relies on it entirely to keep his children in health, and Mrs. Catherine Connolly of Jersey City, N. J., declares that not only herself but all her neighbors and friends use it and tell others about it. There is scarcely a day that someone in a family does not need it for constipation, flatulency, auto-intoxication, biliousness, intestinal poisoning, headaches, colic and cramps, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. The formula is on the package. As the popularity of this natural vegetable laxative increases, the public discards the harsher physics like calomel, coal-tar in candy form, salt waters and powders. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin empties the bowels more cleanly and without any danger.

Tension in Steel and Coal Strike Area in Nova Scotia Increased

SYDNEY, N. S. July 16.—The tension in the steel and coal strike area was increased today when the authorities reported that a rail had been removed on the Sydney and Louisburg railway shortly before the passage of an express and that a boy had been arrested while jamming a switch with a piece of iron, at a spot nearby. The tampering was discovered in time to prevent an accident.

The rail was removed near Dominion mine No. 1 during the night and replaced just before the Sydney to Louisburg express came along.

The line from Glace bay to Sydney is being patrolled by troops. Coal operators plan continuous movement of coal from the pile at No. 2 mine.

WRESTLING MATCH ENDS IN DISTRICT COURT

Anthony Zyckowski went to visit his brother in Dracut over the week-end and between drinks on Sunday they got into a debate over their comparative strength. The two started to wrestle and the rumpus was so great that the police were summoned and brought Anthony back to the Lowell police station.

Anthony's brother told the court that Anthony got boisterous and they were forced to call in the police. But Anthony, with a perpetual grin and a bad cut on his head, said it was all fooling.

And then everyone in the court room wondered what might have happened had they been in earnest.

Anthony's case was filed upon payment of costs, with the understanding that he keep away from his brother's house. The costs amounted to one dollar, but Anthony was broke, and his brother settled.

Several suspended sentences were imposed today by Judge Enright.

George Gallanos was given a suspended sentence of two months for drunkenness.

Daniel J. O'Leary, making his third appearance within a year, was similarly treated, as was also James C. Buotte, before the court for the fourth time within a year.

Joseph Hall was given a like sentence.

A suspended sentence was ordered carried out against John F. Sheely and he will be committed to the state farm.

Bernard F. Meehan, who got drunk Saturday night and began to amuse himself by throwing pails of water out his window at people passing, his house was fined $15. He was given a week to pay.

Aleck Cherlonka was sentenced to two months, but execution was suspended.

It was charged that he was so drunk Saturday that he drove his wife and children out of the house.

John A. Berlin was charged with assault upon Camille McCartin, by whom he was employed as a baker in Billerica. Mrs. McCartin said that Berlin was a good worker when sober, but that he got drunk Saturday and started to abuse her. As she was alone in the store with him she was forced to cry for help.

Berlin said he did not remember anything about the occurrence. He agreed to leave Billerica if given a chance, and the court imposed a suspended sentence of four months.

Edward Demaris pleaded guilty to operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and a fine of $100 was imposed. The drunkenness complaint was filed.

Wilfred Metiver was charged with drunkenness. The court was informed that the defendant had acted unseemly in a camp at an early hour Sunday morning. The case was continued for further investigation and Metivieri was ordered to furnish surety in the sum of $500.

NO BARRIER TO KING CUPID'S ARROW

Far be it from Judge Enright to defect the course of the arrow from cupid's bow.

This morning the judge continued the cases of Arthur J. Smith and John H. Burke until July 23, at Burke's request, as he said he was to be married on July 22, and he didn't want to be bothered with a second court procedure. Apparently one court was sufficient.

Smith was charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and Burke was charged with drunkenness.

SAVES HIS WIFE FROM DROWNING

JEFFERSON, July 16—Diving fully clothed into the waters of Eagle lake yesterday afternoon, George N. Flagg grabbed his wife's bathing suit as she was sinking and after a struggle brought her to shore.

FEW PASSENGERS ON BALTIC TO BE ADMITTED

NEW YORK, July 16.—Of 524 passengers from Great Britain on the Baltic, which arrived today from Liverpool, only 42 first cabin passengers will be admitted to the United States. The remainder will probably be deported as the maximum July quota for Great Britain has been exhausted.

Thirty-five of the British quota surplus, already are on the island. The arrival of the Olympic and Aquitania this week is expected to push the number above 1000.

A report gained currency that the immigrants on the Baltic in excess of the month's quota, would be admitted and charged against the August quota.

IN MEMORIAM

Though your death was sad, dear,
And you bore your pain so brave;
We have been so sad and lonely
Since they laid you in your grave.
A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is still,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled;
Yet again we hope to meet you
When the days of life are fled,
And in heaven with joy to greet you
Where no farewell tears are shed.
Friends may think we have forgotten
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the sorrow
That smile hides all the while.

JAMES J. O'LOUGHLIN.
MRS. S. QUINN and Family.

(Quinn) O'Loughlin, we wish to extend our sincere thanks and heartfelt gratitude. To the neighbors and children of the "village" and to the Buffalo boys are we especially grateful. $20,000 LOSS

Big Storehouse Collapses At Orange, Mass.

ORANGE, July 16.—The three-story building owned by the New Home Sewing Machine company and located at the rear of the Boston & Maine freight office collapsed between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Tapioca flour valued at $70,000, which was stored there by the Minute Tapioca company, was damaged. Workmen succeeded in covering the stock with canvas and preventing its total loss.

The noise of the collapse was similar to that of an explosion and startled people in the immediate vicinity.

The collapse was caused by overloading the building, there being 3000 or more sacks of flour there. The estimated weight of this was between 250 and 300 tons.

The building, a wooden structure, had been used in years past as a stock room for sewing machine cabinets by the New Home company. The Minute Tapioca company had leased it the past year for storage purposes.

The building is a total loss, timbers and wreckage being strewn for some distance. The estimated loss on the building is $20,000.

The nurses assigned to look after the welfare of the children this week are as follows: Miss Grace Carroll, in charge, assisted by Misses Margaret Craig, Alice Gorman and Josephine Leclaire.

The girls will leave camp next Saturday noon and Monday morning the boys will take charge. Already 45 of them have reported to take in the two weeks of open air life, which is being offered them without charge and it is hoped this number will be increased before the latter part of this week. Expert Calls Mary Philbin Greatest Feminine Star of Screen Today

MARY PHILBIN

BY JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, July 16.—In the past three years there have been six great performances on the screen by feminine players. (Memory over a longer period is not to be trusted by one who sees hundreds of thousands of feet of film in a year.)

Those six great performances are Lillian Gish in "Orphans of the Storm," Pola Negri in "Passion," Elsie Ferguson in "Outcast," Pauline Starke in "Salvation Nell," Pauline Frederick in "Madame X" and Mary Philbin in "Merry Go Round."

The first five named gained their triumphs after considerable experience before the camera. Mary Philbin flashes like a meteor to her place in the constellation of screen stars.

"Who is Mary Philbin?" is the question being asked on Broadway today where "Merry Go Round" is being shown. That's the situation that Jack Jungmeyer predicted when he previewed the film at Hollywood.

Mary Philbin, winner of a beauty contest two years ago in Chicago and not yet 20 years old, is potentially the greatest feminine star of the screen today. Here is the greater glory because she is beautiful. Few beautiful women have acting talent, even though they do gain stardom because of their beauty.

Jungmeyer in his preview of "Merry Go Round" said that one could not tell where Von Stroheim had quit directing and Rupert Julian had begun. That is so, but Stroheim technique is stamped all over the picture. Beyond a doubt it was Stroheim's idea that Norman Kerry, the hero, should have his hair clipped as close as a convict's. That was his own effect in "Foolish Wives."

George Hackathorne does a great bit of character acting in "Merry Go Round" as a self-abnegating hunchback. He is doubling on Broadway, being a drug addict in Mrs. Wallace Reid's "Human Wreckage." These two roles place him in the foremost rank of screen character actors.

Saw John Charles Thomas enacting scenes in "Under the Red Robe," his first venture in movies. With three rib mending from recent fractures, he led one mounted chase after another, reining up his horse in a space of ten feet in the crowded Cosmopolitan studio lot. He was in the saddle the greater part of the day, displaying more physical stamina than one would expect from a singer. . . . Saw Bill Powell in the same picture. Had never ridden a horse before, but said he at no time had to stand up to eat his meals and from now on he intends to take up mounted sports. . . . Saw Alan Crosland, the director, handling mass scenes of "Under the Red Robe" without raising his voice above conversational tone. . . . Saw Gloria Swanson, Lucille LaVerne, H. B. Warner and Ferdinand Gottschalk enacting scenes for "Zaza" under the direction of Alan Dwan. . . . On an adjoining set at the Paramount studio Sam Wood directing James Rennie, Hale Hamilton, George Fawcett, Mary Eaton and Dorothy Mackaill in the film version of Arthur Train's "His Children's Children." They were going right along, with the picture, although an actress to play the leading role of Diana has not yet been selected. . . . Saw Ralph Ince directing Tom Meighan, Lila Lee, Chas. Abbey and William P. Carleton in interior scenes of "Homeward Bound," a sea picture. Exteriors were taken during a storm and so rain and wind machines played a torrent against the windows of the interior cabin sets. Thus when the picture is completed there will be the illusion of the entire action actually taking place in the open. . . . Saw Cecil Bing, Tom Meighan's brother-in-law, making his film debut in "Homeward Bound." . . . Saw Seena Owen and E. H. Griffith, the director, recently back from Banff where "Unseeing Eyes" was filmed. Miss Owen tells me she is the first woman to cross the Canadian Rockies in an airplane and, during the weeks they were on snow location she was the only white woman in the cast, an Indian girl having [illegible] feminine role in the picture. . . . She and Lionel Barrymore were judges in a baby show in which all the contestants were [illegible]. . . . Saw "Bill Alone," a Christy comedy, with Jimmie Adams in the leading role. First comedy that I can call to mind in which all the principal characters were in blackface. A race between Mississippi steamboats is featured. Big stuff for a two-reel comedy.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND

"What a Wife Learned," a highly dramatic picturization that will have a strong appeal to all ages and classes, is being presented at The Strand during the first part of the week. If you want to see and enjoy a reflection of present-day life, don't miss this special production. "Slippy McGee," an adaptation from the famous stage success, is the second feature, and this also should give genuine satisfaction. The remainder of the bill will have a good comedy, an interesting Weekly and musical numbers by Al Forest and Leo Betoncourt. Don't forget that Strand comfort is to be had here—and that means much.

MERRIMACK SQUARE

Elliott Dexter, George Fawcett and May McAvoy have the leading roles in "Only 38," one of the most entertaining comedy dramas of modern life ever filmed. It's the leading feature of the current program at the Merrimack Square theatre. Clara Kimball Young in "The Woman of Bronze" is the other underlined attraction. The Merrimack Square is cool and the most comfortable theatre in town.

RIALTO THEATRE

"The Danger Point," which opens a three-day run at the Rialto theatre today has in the cast many well known stars. Carmel Myers has the leading feminine role, while William P. Carleton, Vernon Steele and Joseph Dowling has important roles.

"The Danger Point" tells the story of a powerful man, James Benton, the founder of Benton city, a prosperous oil center. Benton carries a girl from the city and brings her to Benton to live. The young girl cannot accustom herself to the rough and ready ways of the oil town, and her husband, always busy, innocently neglects her. Of course, she bitterly resents it and decides to leave him.

From there on, the story really commences. There is a very realistic train wreck that changes the lives of everybody in the drama. You will like "The Danger Point," for it is just the sort of picture that appeals to everybody.

Bryant Washburn in "A Full House," is the second feature and it is said to contain laughs aplenty. Washburn as usual manages to get himself into a lot of trouble and has a pretty hard time explaining matters.

Jack Hoxie, famous western star, is also on the program in the first episode of "Thunderbolt Jack," a new serial and a Mack Sennett comedy, and Burton Holmes Travelogue are also included in the program.

EAGLES SPEND SUNDAY AT REVERE BEACH

Revere beach again took on a familiar aspect yesterday when more than 1000 members of the Lowell aerie, 223, Fraternal Order of Eagles, held their annual outing there. As a yearly event, it proved to be even more successful than previous outings.

Fourteen open electric cars, several trucks, and a great many automobiles were used in transporting the crowd to the beach, the start being made at 9.30 o'clock.

There was no set program for the day. The members of the party split up into small groups upon arrival at the beach and spent the day at the amusements along the boulevard. Several brought their own luncheons, but the majority had dinner at the hotels at the beach. Bathing and other outdoor sports were enjoyed during the afternoon, and it was a tired but happy crowd that returned to Lowell late last night.

The committee in charge of the outing was as follows: Worthy President Thomas F. Flynn, chairman; John M. Hogan, Martin J. Crowe, David J. Hackett, Richard J. Flynn, John B. O'Loughlin, Joseph J. Driscoll, Howard G. Bean, Frank Gonkin, James W. Pollard, Lawrence Rogers, Thomas F. Garrity, Timothy F. Barry, Hugh S. Gallagher, Charles C. Schloss, Allison C. Gallupe, Alfred St. Onge, George M. SYDNEY, Australia, July 16.—Two Irish republicans, Father Michael O'Flanagan and John J. (Sean) O'Kelly, arrested here in April on charges of engaging in seditious activities, were removed from jail today and escorted aboard the steamer Mongolia shortly before it sailed.

Ten days ago they were offered their release on provision that they agree not to address public meetings and later declined another offer to leave the country voluntarily.

CANVASES HANGING AT THE WHISTLER HOUSE

The Whistler house in Worthen street has opened a second annual summer exhibition of canvases by painters of Lowell and vicinity. The invitation this year was extended only to those who make a profession of painting. The exhibition will continue through to Sept. 15 with free admission.

The local painters are represented by Joseph A. Nesmith, who contributes four of his White Mountain landscapes, and Mary Earl Wood, who shows a figure study of a young girl, a large landscape, "Mountain Lake in November," and two outdoor sketches. Other sketches are expected and will be on exhibition at a later date.

W. Harry Smith of Billerica has contributed four very pleasing water colors. A view of Beacon street, Boston, on a parade day; "The New Bridge, Billerica," "Apple Blossoms, Concord River," and "The Blue Wagon."

H. Winthrop Pierce, of Andover, has a souvenir of his residence some years ago in Mexico, "The Road to Orizaba," a delightful work. "Milking," and other colorful pieces, some touched with fancy.

Gertrude Sanderson, of Littleton, is represented by two capable pictures, "June in the Fenway" and "The Road to Town."

The exhibition committee of the art association has secured from Concord, four northland water colors lately exhibited by Charles Hovey Pepper in Boston and a delicate and exquisite "Figures on the Sand" by Elizabeth Wentworth Roberts.

This is one of a series of ten pictures, the other nine hanging for the summer exhibition of the Concord Art association, of which Miss Roberts is secretary.

60-FOOT CAMERA TO PHOTOGRAPH ECLIPSE

TUCSON, Ariz., July 16.—Immense telescopic cameras 40 and 60 feet long, gigantic reflectors and a number of smaller instruments will be moved into Mexico for the purpose of photographing the sun during its total eclipse next September, according to plans announced here by Dr. A. E. Douglas of the University of Arizona.

Dr. Douglas will head an expedition while a second will be conducted by Professor W. A. Cogshall of the University of Indiana.

The Douglas expedition will take with it a 40-foot focus camera which will reproduce the sun with a five-inch diameter. An even larger camera with a sixty-foot focus will be taken by the Cogshall expedition.

These cameras will be held in position by means of specially constructed towers.

San Felipe, 144 miles south of the International boundary, has been selected as the site of the Cogshall expedition's observations. Dr. Douglas has not definitely selected his location.

Prince Leopold Studies Foreign Politics

BRUSSELS, July 16.—The initiation of Prince Leopold, heir apparent to the Belgian throne, into the intricacies of foreign politics has been begun. The crown prince took his first lesson last Friday, the instruction assuming the form of a half hour conversation with the foreign minister of Japan regarding the reparation question. Prince Leopold henceforth will call once a week at the foreign office for continuation of his instruction.

GIRL CHUMS MARRIED TO THE SAME MAN

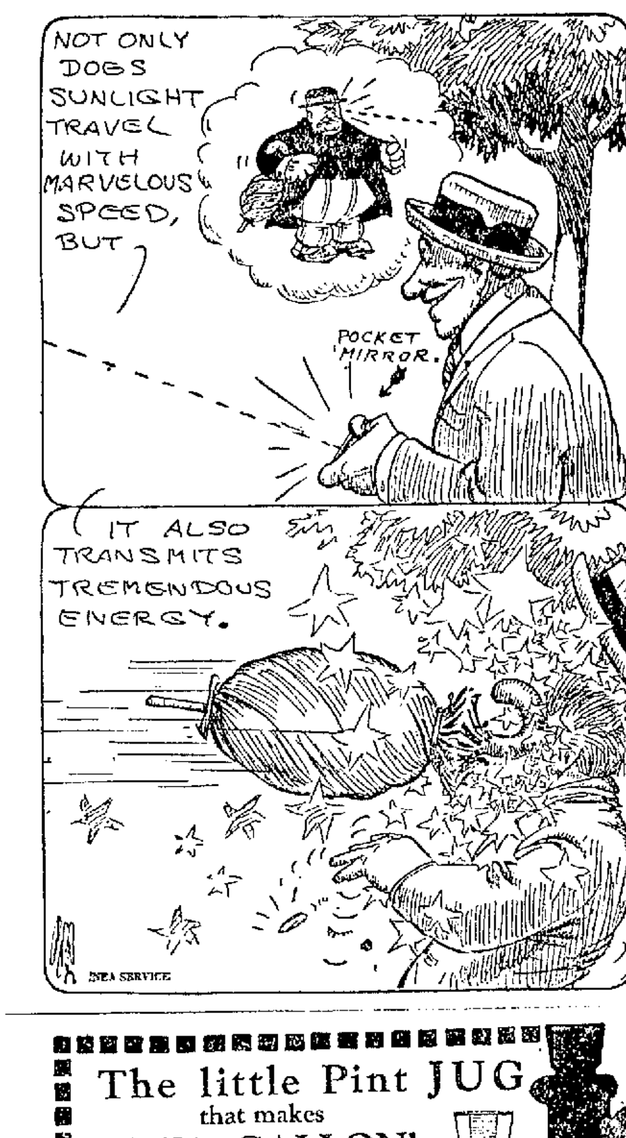

NORRISTOWN, Penn., July 16—Two Norristown girls, who attended the same Sunday school and lived on the same street, had the same man for a husband, but did not know it, according to proceedings brought by wife No. 2, who seeks to have her marriage declared null and void.

The girls were Virginia E. Young and Elizabeth Given. The man in the case is Joseph Runp Smith, a student at the University of Delaware, Neward, Del., who lived with his mother in Kennett Square, in Chester County, Penn. At the time of his marriage, Smith resided in Conshohocken.

The complaint the girl, who is now with her mother, Rebecca C. Young, 618 George street, makes in her action to annul her marriage, is that she and Smith were married on Aug. 28, in Elkton, Md., by the Rev. D. F. Lockerbie. At that time, although unknown to her, he had a lawful wife living. His marriage to Miss Given took place on May 9, 1917, and the ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Thomas H. Evans, then pastor of Haws Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Norristown.

Smith is now in Montgomery county jail. He was brought here from Kennett Square Saturday night and had a hearing before Magistrate Kehoe in Norristown, today.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE FOR MUSSOLINI

ROME, July 16. (By the Associated Press.)—Amid scenes rarely enacted in any chamber Premier Mussolini last night won a vote of confidence from the chamber of deputies with a margin of 163 votes on his electoral reform bill.

Before the vote was taken Mussolini harangued the deputies in his accustomed style. His fiery address was punctuated with outbursts of applause, both from the bench and the galleries that swept his auditors into songs and those inside into a riot and those who waited outside into wild demonstrations.

The vote was 303 to 140, seven not voting, an enormous majority considering the strenuous attempts against the reform made by the socialists and communists, and some others, who thought this a good opportunity to break the premier's power.

HANGED HIMSELF IN DRACUT GARAGE

Early Saturday morning, John J. Sullivan of 201 Middlesex street, committed suicide by hanging from a rope attached to a Ford automobile in Cunningham's garage in Parker avenue, Precut. The body was discovered by the owner of the garage later in the day, and the Lowell and Dracut police notified.

Officer Nolan of the Dracut police investigated and found that a previous attempt at strangulation had been made, evidence to this effect being found in a belt attached to a nail in the wall. An improvised noose had been constructed with the aid of a belt.

Sullivan came to Lowell about eight years ago from Hillsboro, N. H. For the past few years he had conducted a battery service station in Middlesex street. On his person was found a sealed letter addressed to his brother, Humphrey Sullivan, 64 Saratoga Street, Hillsboro. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY SAVED FROM DEATH

Through the heroism of Harry O'Hare and John Sheehan, two young men residing in the vicinity of Lawrence street, Ollie Richardson, aged 5 years, of 21 Watson street, was saved from drowning in the Wamesit canal yesterday noon.

As far as could be learned the boy fell into the water while playing on the banks of the canal at a point near the plant of the U. S. Cartridge Co. Attracted by his cries for help O'Hare and Sheehan rushed to aid him and without even taking time to divest themselves of their clothes, dived into the water and brought the unconscious form of the lad to shore.

While the rescue was going on a hurried call was sent to the police station and Inspector Walsh and Officers Liston and Spillane were rushed to the scene with the pulmotor, but the apparatus was not needed as O'Hare and Sheehan had rendered first aid and revived the lad, who was later taken to his home in the ambulance. O'Hare and Sheehan were warmly congratulated for their heroic act.

WOODSMAN LOST LIFE IN N. H., FOREST FIRE

BEEBE RIVER, N. H., July 16.—The head bookkeeper for the Woodstock Lumber Co., stated this morning that a complete check-up of men who entered the woods to fight the forest fire which on Friday and Saturday burned over 6000 acres, left one casualty that could be confirmed. That was the death of a woodsman whose heart failed as he was running from a trap in which the flames caught him.

"To my knowledge all are accounted for," he said.

Rain which started last night, the first since June 7, has drowned forest fires in the state.

TAMMANY BLAMED BY DRY LEADER

HUNTINGTON, N. Y., July 16—Repeating the charge that politics were back of the second grand jury investigation into his affairs, William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, declared last night that Tammany politicians had abandoned hope of convicting him, even should an indictment be returned. He charged, however, that they still were striving to obtain an indictment in the belief that it would destroy his influence. Mr. Anderson spoke at the regular Sunday night services at the Methodist Episcopal church.

"I had a representative last winter, unknown to the wets," he said, "who circulated among Tammany politicians who knew all the inside dope. They all admitted that they had nothing on me, many of them admitting it with curses and lamentations and the expression of desire that I be railroaded in any event."

Mr. Anderson concluded his address last night by declaring he had proved "to the satisfaction of every fair-minded person the deals that have been pulled off between Tammany and certain republican leaders to betray law enforcement republicans and elect Tammany wets."

COUPLE ARRESTED BY NARCOTIC AGENT

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 16.—Federal agents here today were unable to corroborate the story of Walter E. Brown of Boston, arrested in Albany last night, charged with possessing narcotics, that he was a salesman from the M. D. H. Products Co., of Buffalo. The agents reported they had found no such firm in the city.

Brown, with a woman claiming to be his wife, was arrested in an Albany hotel when a federal narcotic agent, who occupied an adjoining room, scented opium fumes. Opium and drugs valued at $1600 were seized in the room, together with a large amount of cash and valuable securities.

BROKER ENDS LIFE ON EVE OF INQUIRY

NEW YORK, July 16—Magistrate Oberwager, today made the final entry "discharged" on the record of an investigation of the charge that Smith Weigand, broker, had been responsible for the loss by "Little Joe" Jacobs, waiter, of his life savings of $60,000. Weigand committed suicide at Milford, Conn., yesterday, on the eve of resumption of the inquiry.

"Little Joe" appeared before the magistrate several weeks ago asking summonses for Weigand and Langley & Co. brokers. He told the court that by working 17 hours a day, seven days a week for 15 years, he had amassed $60,000. Weigand, one of his most liberal patrons, he said, had tipped lavishly and otherwise made himself "a good fellow" until, gaining the waiter's confidence, he had induced him to turn over the savings for investments in stocks.

Recently, finding his health failing, "Little Joe" decided to retire and asked Weigand for his money. Weigand, he said, told him it had been lost in the market.

Philip Wittenberg, Weigand's lawyer, declared today that Weigand had been blameless in the transaction Jacobs, he said, had insisted, against Weigand's advice, on speculating.

LEGION URGES REMOVAL OF COLLEGE HEAD

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 16.—The executive committee of the American legion, Department of Oklahoma, yesterday voted to make formal demand upon Governor Walton for the removal of George Wilson from the presidency of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanic college.

On the eve of his appointment the American Legion charged that he was "unfit to hold a position of public trust." The legion has investigated a statement he was alleged to have made more than a year ago, in which he was quoted as having said: "I never see an American Legion button but I want to shoot a hole through it."

Wilson denied the statement.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR DETECTIVES FOILED

WASHINGTON, July 16—The U. S. Department of Labor through the Bureau of Labor statistics here presents preliminary figures concerning the volume of employment in June, 1923, from 6441 representative establishments in 50 manufacturing industries, covering 2,251,655 employes, whose total earnings during one week amounted to $60,066,469.

Identical establishments in May reported 2,251,037 employes and total payrolls of $60,469,137. Therefore in June as shown from these unweighted figures for 50 industries combined, there was an increase over May of less than one-tenth of one per cent. in the number of employes, a decrease of 0.6 per cent. in the total amount paid in wages, and a like decrease in the average weekly earnings.

Comparing June with May 21 of the 50 industries show increases in employment and 23 increases in pay roll totals. The greatest increases in both occurred in the structural ironwork, confectionery and ice cream, baking, and sawmill industries, with slaughtering and meat packing joining the group as to pay roll totals.

The general increase in rates of wages was continued, in a lesser degree, during the month ending June 15, 472 establishments reporting an average increase of 10.7 per cent., affecting 77,723 employes, or 61.8 per cent. of all employes in these establishments, and 3.5 per cent. of all employes covered. Approximately 3000 establishments have reported increased wage rates during the last four months.

Twenty-three industries show increased per capita earnings in June, as compared with 36 out of 47 industries in May.

Comparing June, 1923, with June, 1922, all but two industries out of 13, men's clothing, and cigars and cigarets, show increased employment, while all show increased pay roll totals. Woolen goods, car building and repairing, automobiles, and silk goods show the greatest gains in employment.

A combined total of reports from the 50 industries shows that 83 per cent. of the 4515 establishments reporting as to operation were on a full-time basis, 16 per cent. on a part-time basis, and one per cent. were shut down. This is a slight decrease over May. Men's clothing, sawmills, pottery, steel shipbuilding, and sugar refining have gained most in operating time.

Reports of the Interstate Commerce commission show an increase on April 15, 1923, in all employes on Class 1 railroads, excluding executives and officials, of 1.5 per cent. as compared with March 15, 1923, and an increase of 18.5 per cent. as compared with April 15, 1922. There was a decrease in the monthly pay roll total in April, 1923, of 3.9 per cent. as compared with March, 1923, but an increase of 21.2 per cent. as compared with April, 1922.

TO AID WAR VETERANS

Legislative Program to Be Pressed Upon Congress by Disabled Veterans

WASHINGTON, July 16.—A legislative program calling for adjusted compensation for World war veterans and affecting their rehabilitation, hospital care and insurance will be pressed upon congress when it convenes in December by the disabled American Veterans of the World war. The program, based on recommendations adopted by the third annual convention of the organization held recently at Minneapolis, was announced here today.

The proposals provide a rating of total permanent disability for veterans who have been given hospital care for 12 consecutive months, and that all veterans so rated and those being treated at home shall receive the same family allowance as given veterans' bureau trainees. An effort will also be made to have all veterans recommended for permanent total disability rating carried on this roll temporarily pending final award. Total disability rating will be sought for men entitled to training which has been found not to be feasible and a rating of 50 per cent permanent disability will be asked for men discharged from hospitals with diagnoses of arrested or quiescent tuberculosis.

Amendment of the civil service laws will be proposed to place disabled veterans who attain a passing grade in an examination at the head of the eligible list.

Hospital treatment for all veterans regardless of the origin of their disability is urged together with extension of the three year period of presumption for tubercular and neuropsychiatric disabilities.

Removal of the time limit on applications for compensation and permission for any applicant to appear before the rating board in person at government expense are asked, and the same privilege of reinstating war risk insurance is sought for veterans disabled in the service as enjoyed by those not disabled. Retirement of disabled emergency officers on the same basis as regular army officers also is advocated.

Among other proposals is one for establishment of a committee on veterans' affairs in the house of representatives and another for codification of all veterans' laws.

M'ADOO TO CONFER WITH COUNSEL FOR MORSE

WASHINGTON, July 16.—William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, was expected to confer today with counsel for Charles W. Morse, his sons and co-defendants in their trial here on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government which entered its 14th week on the succeeding of court.

Mr. McAdoo, who was subpoenaed as a witness by defense counsel to testify as to his knowledge of the affairs of the Virginia Shipbuilding corporation, a Morse concern, for which his law firm served as legal counsel, probably will take the stand tomorrow or Wednesday.

There was some probability also of a decision today as to service of the subpoena obtained by defense counsel for the appearance as a witness of Woodrow Wilson. Counsel have indicated they would be guided entirely by the opinion of Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the former president's physician as to whether his physical condition made his appearance in court advisable and would not insist on his attendance.

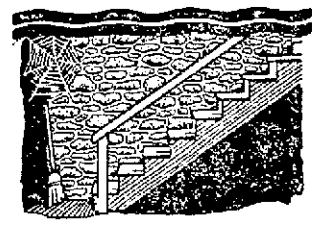

The defense also will introduce in evidence this week the deposition of John Barton Payne, former chairman of the shipping board, taken before his departure for Mexico City as one of the American commissioners now in negotiation with the Mexican government. In his deposition, as made public prior to being read to the jury, Mr. Payne declared in reply to a question of defense counsel that during his chairmanship of the shipping board he never was able to ascertain how the government's account stood with the Virginia shipbuilding corporation.

MANILA, July 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The political fight in the Philippines was opened anew here today when J. P. Laurel, secretary of the interior, resigned after he had instituted charges of bribery against Ray Conley, United States secret service officer.

Governor Wood has refused to accept Laurel's resignation, pending a conference. The resignation of the mayor of Manila will follow, according to reports in political circles here today.

LANGUAGE AND THE FILM

For some time past there has been considerable discussion in the newspapers and magazines regarding the necessity of an American language, and Esperanto has been proposed by some as a particular thing we need. Another kindred subject that has been discussed very widely is the possibility of instruction through movie films where language was formerly the only medium available.

In reference to these matters Dr. Henry Van Dyke recently told at a conference of British and American professors of English, that any attempt to establish a new American language would be a joke. He said "the proposal to make a new American language to fit our enormous country may be regarded either as a specimen of American humor or as a serious enormity." In this a majority of those who have had any practical experience in such matters, will agree fully with Dr. Van Dyke. "The natural style of the persons who bravely make the proposal gives rise to practical dreams of the kind of new language which they would probably make if they were let loose upon the job," says Dr. Van Dyke. That such would be the case may easily be assumed from the grotesque failure of most people to use the English correctly. The invention of a language is no easy matter. There is no certainty as to who invented any particular language; but the assumption is logical that it grew slowly and naturally as a tree in the forest. Whether it will serve the best purpose of its originators depends upon the faithfulness and accuracy with which its principles are applied and developed.

The people of the United States are accused of having a contempt for accuracy of speech; and there is already apparent decay of conversation and the study and practice of oratory which is succeeded by what Dr. Van Dyke aptly designates the fierce speech and abominable racket of modern life. "Lazily unintelligible, syncopated speech is like a dirty face. America may be the chief offender; but if my memory does not fail me, I have this year in Lunnon heard some folks talk who were hard to understand and whose voices were perceptibly nasal—quite as much so as the voices of 'Noo Yawk.' "

Before attempting to invent a new language it would be well to make the best use of that which we already have—a language capable of perhaps as fine and exact an expression of ideas as any other in the world. Naturally the professors of English offer the bitterest opposition to the influence of the movie as an educator, and they still place their faith in the soundness and delight of good books printed in correct English.

The movie is in no sense an educator except in the sense that it presents in a pictorial way, ideas that could not possibly be as well conveyed in language. It is impossible to describe a man's countenance and the expression of his face in terms of language, so that he can be easily recognized if met on the public streets. The picture alone can do this and in this respect it has its special field and it does not make any pretense of taking the place of language as an educator. Those who would attempt to make it a substitute for language would fail hopelessly although we do not agree with Dr. Van Dyke that the movie film has not a distinct place entirely its own as a medium of education. It is descriptive and graphic and thus presents pictures which make a lasting impression upon the mind and in this way certain forms of instruction can be conveyed by the film much better than in any other way. It is absurd to institute any comparison between the film and the application of language to the general communication of ideas.

TEXTILE MILL ACTIVITIES

Installation of new machinery, enlargement of working room and new power facilities increasing service in various New England cotton textile mills, are noted in a current review of report of trade-mark improvements in the physical conditions of well-known cloth producing plants here and there. Lowell mills are regularly spending large sums of money from surplus accounts for the installation of new looms and other necessary machinery. The Jacquard loom is more popular than ever in many textile centers, and Lowell mill operators have taken a definite favor for them, as is the case down south where competition stands at issues.

Notable improvements for increasing and conserving the great water power privileges of the Amoskeag Manufacturing company in Manchester, are also just noted. Three feet of the stone foundation of the old Amoskeag falls dam are to be removed, this work resulting in increasing the height of the water in the pond above the new hydro station. Every added foot in the pond is equivalent to 25,000,000 cubic feet of water and 3,000 horse power for eight hours in operation. Amoskeag adds, or 2,500 horse-power for 10 hours.

The power of this mill at Manchester has called attention to its wonderful structure that has been in place and held steadily for the past 52 years. The big granite blocks are dowelled together and are as solid and substantial today as when the curve dam was erected in 1871. The removal of this old construction will mean increased water power for running the mills of Manchester. There are today 475 acres in the area of the artificial pond developed at the Amoskeag hydro station abutting the new Manchester dam.

The important improvement now being made at the mills of the Lowell city "up the river" will not only increase very materially the amount of available horse-power by water for operating the Manchester mills, but in the course of 12 months, will play a most important part in the conservation of coal and fuel oil. In brief, there are likely to be no more vexatious periods of "low water in the canals" up in the city of the Amoskeag.

AIDING ANXIOUS GREECE

Serbia and Rumania have renewed for a further three years' period their so-called defensive treaty, concluded in July, 1921, the object of which is to oppose any attempt on the part of Hungary or Bulgaria to upset the treaties of Trianon and Neuilly.

This is one of the chain of understandings actually constituting the "little entente."

In furtherance of the policy of this bloc, the foreign ministers of Czecho-Slovakia, Jugo-Slavia, in Rumania, are to meet at Sinaia, in Rumania, on July 26, for a general conference to review the entire central European situation. And here the prospective entry of Greece into the "little entente" will be vividly discussed and an attempt made to bring into line the somewhat divergent attitude toward Bulgaria and Russia.

It is understood that another conference, with Poland assisting, will take place later on, the recent recurrence of the disagreement between Czecho-Slovakia and Poland having retarded the whole-hearted entry of the latter into the bloc.

LAWRENCE WANTS METHUEN

The city of Lawrence is to move for the annexation of Methuen. This town essayed the role of a city a few years ago but through some technicality, the change was illegal, and then Methuen resumed the even tenor of her way as a town. If it should vote in favor of becoming a part of Lawrence, that city would all of a sudden become equal in population to Lowell and considerably greater in area. In order to keep ahead of our ambitious sister down the river, it would then be necessary for Lowell to annex Dracut and North Chelmsford. We have discussed this change in the past, but it seems that the people who reside in these adjoining towns, do not care to be annexed to Lowell. Most of them have automobiles and thus they can earn their living in our city while residing outside our borders. Some of the suburban towns have a fairly low tax-rate but the people who live in the city get more for the money they pay in taxes than do those of the neighboring towns.

DRUNKEN MOTORISTS

Daily, it seems, the menace of intoxicated motor drivers on the highways is becoming more serious. If present conditions are not speedily checked, we shall soon be face to face with a state of affairs in which cautious people will have to stay at home or use the highways at the peril of their lives. Registrar Goodwin, as shown in The Sun a week ago, has stated that there are 30,000 unlicensed operators in Massachusetts; but he did not say how many of these are intoxicated. Many, it is feared, of the licensed operators are among those who appear on the highways in a drunken condition. Judge Enright has given a few sentences; but nothing except a good stiff sentence to jail will have any effect in causing them to be more careful. But sentences in the lower courts are not of much use unless they are sustained on appeal to the superior court.

POLITICAL CRITICS

Two candidates for the office of mayor are adopting every possible means of misrepresenting Mayor Donovan's official acts, evidently with the hope of making political capital by trying to discredit him; but the people are not blind to their game. Mayor Donovan is not stepping outside the charter to let contracts or make purchases in violation of law, nor is he crowded with a swelled head as a result of having been elevated to a high position. He is showing good judgment in letting his unscrupulous and carping critics keep up their joyful cackle. It does him no harm and it is not likely to do its authors any good, although it may fool a few of the simple-minded ones. The public is with the mayor.

TODAY'S ELECTION

All the resources of the republican party as an organization are being thrown into Minnesota to secure the election of Gov. Preus as United States senator. The defeat of the republican candidate would cast a shadow over the national election of next year and greatly encourage the democratic party and the disaffected elements of the republican party that have been lining up in various blocs particularly the Farm Labor party. The contest is being settled today at the polls and tomorrow there will be either great rejoicing among the republicans or all pervading gloom regarded as the harbinger of defeat in 1924.

UNDER THE TREATY

Now that the five power naval treaty limiting the competition of governmental navies has been ratified, indications are not lacking to show that the same five powers are entering into a new competition in other lines of armament, principally aircraft. It is announced, too, that Japan is to exceed the United States naval program if congress authorizes the increase of auxiliary cruisers as proposed. At the same time, each of the powers, pretends to be living up to the spirit of the new treaty although some of them are quietly violating its main provisions.

One of the most refreshing features of the circus parade in passing through the streets of Lowell was the presence of so many fine horses. The horse has disappeared from our streets so that nowadays we rarely see one except a sway-backed nag attached to a dilapidated farm wagon or a peddler's cart. The horse is still one of the greatest attractions in every first-class circus.

A Thought

A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast; but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.—Prov. 12:10.

There is no beautifier of complexion or form or behavior like the wish to scatter joy, and not pain, around us.—Emerson.

No Need of More

The tramp's clothes were in the last stages of dilapidation, and he wore sorry shoes. But his face was radiant, and he whistled merrily as he slouched along the street. A man called from his door:

"Here, I have a job for you, if you want to earn a quarter."

The tattered man grinned happily as he shook his head.

"No, boss, thanks all the same. I've got a quarter."

Day Was Half Gone

Gov. McKelvie of Nebraska said at a Lincoln luncheon: "Farm life is very hard. A young coal miner thought that during the coal strike he'd take a kind of rest cure by working on a farm. Being a husky young coal miner, he soon found a job, and the farmer called him to go to work the first morning at 3 o'clock. He wasn't used to such hours and turned over and took another snooze. So it happened that it was quite 3:30 when he descended into the dark farmyard, where all hands were busy milking. He perceived the boss by the light of one of the lanterns, and strolled over to him. 'Good morning, boss. Fine morning,' he said heartily. 'Humph,' grunted the boss. 'It was.'"

How Different

The argument had been long and heated over the question of man vs. woman.

"Well," remarked the husband at last, "at least there is one good, sweet and perfect thing a man can have and a woman cannot."

"Never," cried his wife, passionately. "Never! I absolutely deny it! What do you mean?"

"A wife!" replied hubby.

Use Hand Mashie

Two men, neither of whom could be considered of championship class, and whose knowledge of the rules of the royal and ancient game of golf were no more accurate than was their knowledge of the technique of the various shots, were standing at the first tee. One of the men, taking a vicious swing, sliced to such an extent that the ball struck an oak tree with such force that it came bounding back across the tee, and the player in question caught the ball in his hand. With a bewildered look on his face, he turned to his opponent and asked: "What shall I do now?" His opponent, with no intention of joking, replied, "Tee it up, hit it again and then put your hands in your pockets."

Evensong

The embers of the day are red
Beyond the murky hill.
The kitchen smokes; the bed
In the darkling house is spread,
The great sky darkens overhead,
And the great woods are shrill.
So far have I been led,
Lord, by Thy will,
So far I have followed, Lord, and wondered still.

The breeze from the embalmed land
Blows sudden toward the shore,
And claps my cottage door.
I hear the signal, Lord—I understand.
The night at Thy command
Comes. I will eat and sleep and will not question more.

—ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Now that Woodward avenue in Pawtucketville is being graded, all that is needed to make the avenue perfect are a few electric lights and the residents of the district hope that the public service board will soon see its way clear to install two or three arc lights from the corner of Wright street to that of Brookside street, the end of the avenue. The avenue is a connecting link between Mammoth road and the Pawtucket boulevard and is the scene of considerable traffic. For a long time the roadbed of the thoroughfare has been in a very poor condition, but despite the appeals of the residents of the district, the street department officials could not see their way clear to remedy matters. A few days ago City Engineer Kearney instructed his assistants to use the top layer that is being taken from Varnum avenue, in filling cradle holes in Woodward avenue and all that remains to be done is a little rolling and the avenue will be in a fairly good condition. Now if the public service board grants the petition that was filed some time ago for the installation of arc lights, the petitioners will be very grateful. There are but two gas lights in the avenue and oftentimes they are turned off in the early part of the evening by mischievous boys. The residents of the avenue feel that their lives are important to a certain degree as police protection.

Walter J. Bickford, the new auctioneer for the Gorham street confiscated house, is one of the best known residents of Pawtucketville. He is a republican who has been connected with the town politics for a great many years and at present is a member of the school board, a position he has held for the past seven years. For several years he was agent of the American Woolen Co. in Pawtucketville, having severed his connections with the company two or three years ago when operations in the plant were discontinued. He is a good mixer and counts a host of friends in this city.

Yesterday was a great day for the excursion trucks, I counted nearly a dozen of them gaily decorated and heavily laden with humanity of all sorts and sizes, bent upon having a real day's outing at Pawtucket. But oh! what a bumping they got and if I may be allowed to remark, what a drenching most of them got on the return trip. Some of the trucks were crowded and some were not even in the rain. There was a general wash down of the light dresses and even some of the straw hats worn by the men wilted.

PHONE STRIKE TO CONTINUE

Miss O'Connor Says Refusal of Company to Arbitrate Means Fight to End

BOSTON, July 16.—Julia S. O'Connor, president of the telephone operators department, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and leader of the present strike of operators in New England, yesterday declared that the effect of the refusal of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. to agree to the arbitration of the strikers' demands as proposed made their offer to return to work null and void and that from now on the strikers would continue their fight for a seven-hour day and higher wages.

Miss O'Connor made this statement at the meeting of the Boston Central Labor union. Later John J. Kearney urged that steps be taken to have the Massachusetts legislature order an investigation of the situation in Massachusetts. The suggestion was approved and the executive board of the central body was instructed to draw up a bill to be submitted to the convention of the Massachusetts state branch, American Federation of Labor, which opens in Worcester on Aug. 13, to be approved and urged as a state labor measure.

George E. Capell, press secretary of Local 103, International Brotherhood of Electric Workers, announced that the members of his union had voted a donation of $1000 for the striking operators and the next meeting of his union will be a "special notified meeting" for the purpose of voting to assess each member $1 a week until the strike is over. This union has more than 1000 members.

Miss O'Connor, in explaining the present situation, in part said:

"We attended the conference of mayors at Providence last Friday, knowing that nothing could come out of it, but the mayors believed they could do something and tried hard to bring about a settlement.

"When we were asked our minimum terms of settlement, I gave them, knowing all the time that they would not be accepted by President Jones of the company and also knowing that rejection by him would place the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. on the defensive and give us a big advantage.

"The telephone situation in Rhode Island has been in terrible shape for a number of years before the strike. This was not the fault of the workers, but undermanned forces and inadequate equipment. The records of the Providence city council show the requests from the officials of the company, asking the subscribers in that city to be patient for a short time and the troubles would be ended, as plans were under way to increase the equipment.

"At hearings in that city on the telephone situation the operators who are now on strike were eulogized by the company management and all kinds of promises made for the bettering of the service. Our offer for a settlement was not in any way a concession that we are defeated, but was made with the hope of bringing relief to the telephone users. This offer is now withdrawn and it is a fight for the first principles for which we went on strike."

The only serious disturbances since the strike was called on June 26 occurred in Springfield, where rioting has taken place on several occasions when gangs of strike sympathizers have clashed with the police and numerous arrests have been made.

Service to the public has been little impaired except in several Rhode Island centres and in Lawrence, Springfield and Worcester. In Greater Boston, where the faction of the operators which has refused to strike is the strongest, service was little affected.

Meantime the striking operators remain out and company officials claim that their places are being rapidly filled by new girls.

DEVICE TO AVERT SEA SICKNESS

NEW YORK, July 16.—Germany's answer to the question that has been puzzling the shipping world several years, "Will Germany regain her former prestige on the high seas?" was answered yesterday when the steamship Albert Ballin of the Hamburg-American line, a revolutionary piece of seagraft, steamed into New York harbor, her strangely building sides the puzzle of old seamen and ordinary craft that ply up and down the bay on a Sunday.

The Albert Ballin is the first merchant mariner to adopt the new stabilizing device, known as the Frahm system of anti-rolling tanks. Other vessels have tried out the device, the tanks occupying space in the hold. But the Albert Ballin has two compartments on each side of its hulk and these compartments are built within the skin of the ship. The effect is a strangely sullen appearance not without symmetry.

Capt. Koch in command of the new vessel, said that the stabilizing device worked perfectly and that during the voyage across there was not a single seasick person on board. The stabilizing device provides only for a beam sea and not for a head-on sea, when the best of vessels will pitch.

Washing machines which can cleanse 250 shirts at once are now being made.

NOTABLES AT FUNERAL OF SEN. DILLINGHAM

WATERBURY, Vt., July 16.—Funeral services for United States Senator William P. Dillingham, of Vermont, who died here last Thursday night, were held today at the Wesley Methodist church. About 350 federal and state officials, led by Vice President Calvin Coolidge, attended the services, conducted by Rev. Duncan R. Davenport, and they followed the casket to the Dillingham family lot in the local cemetery.

The service was brief, consisting only of a reading from the Scriptures and a prayer by the minister, in which he eulogized the senator.

Among those present from Washington were United States Senators Richard P. Ernst, of Kentucky, Ralph H. Cameron of Arizona, Park Trammell of Florida and Frank L. Green of Vermont; Walter W. Husband, commissioner general of immigration; Carl A. Loeffler, assistant sergeant at arms of the United States Senate and Mrs. F. A. Ainslee, assistant director of the budget bureau.

CHINA TURNING TO INTENSIVE FARMING

China has more than 59,000,000 farmers who, with their families, comprise 80 to 90 per cent of the nation's total population. Of a total area of more than 3,000,000,000 acres of land, about 212,000,000 acres are under cultivation, including 43,000,000 acres of wet lands used chiefly for rice production and 16,000,000 acres of gardens and fruit orchards.

China ranks first among agricultural countries in the production of rice, tea, silk, soy beans and grain sorghums, the report says, and is second only to the United States in tobacco and possibly in wheat production also. On the average China produces more cotton for commercial use than Egypt and, including production for local use, nearly as much as British India.

SACRED HEART CHURCH LAWN PARTY PLANS

The 14th annual lawn party of the Sacred Heart parish will be held on the parish grounds in Moore street next Saturday afternoon and evening. Plans are rapidly developing for this annual feature in connection with Sacred Heart social events, which have reached a high standard in years past.

As usual, a midway will be one of the many features. Articles of every description have been ordered and will be placed in attractive booths for inspection and sale next Saturday. Several booths of a novel nature will be erected this year in addition to the familiar stands of bygone years. Each table will have its own committee and competition for the largest number of sales will be at a high pitch.

Rev. John H. Doherty, O.M.I., will have general supervision of arrangements and has the co-operation of every member of the parish. The general committee is as follows: General manager, Councilor Thomas McFadden; assistant general manager, David Anglin; secretary, Kathleen McLean, and treasurer, Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I.

EX-PRISONERS ADOPT CHINESE BANDITS

NEW YORK, July 16.—Two of the Chinese bandits who kidnapped a train-ful of foreigners recently in China have been adopted by ex-prisoners and will be brought home as servants, Ward Cheney, who greeted the freed captives, wrote to his father, Charles Cheney, in a letter made public yesterday.

The younger Cheney met the released hostages on a train in China.

"I must have been the first outsider they had seen since they were captured," he wrote. "They were still in the clothes they had worn as prisoners and all had full beards. They had with them two of the bandits, who had treated them kindly and whom they were bringing down to adopt as servants. The two bandits, with rifles slung over their shoulders, looked like scared children."

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

In the Blood

I swear when I get home again I'll never care to roam again,
I'll settle down and try it
In some quiet
Little spot.
My friends shall not be censuring my roving and adventuring,
I'll be a plodding peasant.
In a pleasant
Garden plot.

For when of home I'm pondering, I feel I'm sick of wandering,
I weary of the places
And the faces
That are strange.
I think I'll be in readiness to lead a life of steadiness,
And stick around forever
Where there's never
Any change

And yet I know, down deep in me, though wanderlust may sleep in me,
It's pretty sure to waken
When I've taken
My abode;
And sure as flowers sprout again and grasses grow about again,
And luring winds are blowing,
I'll be going
On the road!

Peter Linehon of St. Peter's church, this city, for the benefit of the St. Andrew's church field day, which is scheduled to be held this week.

The program was as follows: Quartet, Miss Florence Hague, Miss Helen M. Quigley, James King and James E. Donnelly; duet, Miss Florence Hague and James E. Donnelly, reading, Miss Katherine McNally; song, Miss Mae Rynne; group of songs, Master Lantagne, accompanied by Miss Lantagne; song, Miss Florence Hague; quartet, "Sextet from Lucia"; song, Miss Helen M. Quigley; duet, Miss Helen M. Quigley and James King; group of songs, James E. Donnelly, reading, Miss Margaret Garvey; song, James King; quartet selections. 30 CHILDREN LOST IN THRONG AT REVERE

REVERE, July 16.—More than 150,000 persons passed the day at the beach here, and were it not for the rain in the late afternoon the attendance would have exceeded any record this year.

Thirty lost children were cared for at the Metropolitan District police station by the matron, Mrs. Ellen Gallant, during afternoon and evening. There were more than 4000 bathers and many special outings, several groups coming by auto trucks and cars. So great was the traffic along the beach roads that all automobiles were excluded from the boulevard at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Along the North Shore drives traffic was so congested that automobiles were unable to make headway in the usual manner, in some instances cars being delayed 20 and 25 minutes.

SEEK NEW ALPHABET FOR USE IN RADIO

NEW YORK, July 16.—The establishment of a universal telegraphic alphabet is urged in a statement issued today by the Engineering Foundation. Radio engineering is leading the peoples of the earth toward a common language, the foundation asserts.

Methods to simplify and expedite the electrical transmission and messages should be evolved through national legislation and international conferences. Science and commerce will not hesitate: is statecraft ready to perform its function? the foundation asks.

"There are ship lanes in the northern Atlantic," the statement continues. Crowding automobiles in city streets have necessitated traffic lanes. Aviation is establishing lanes in the air. Allotting of lanes in the ether has become urgent."

General Squier in 1913 commenced investigations for improving transmission of the telegraph alphabet, according to the foundation, as the old Morse system failed to meet the needs of present day transmission. In the Morse code the current is interrupted between signals; with the redesigned system the current flows uninterruptedly.

"The new contiuuous wave system designed by General Squier," the foundation states, "can be applied to radio telegraphy. Variations for dots, dashes and spaces are reduced to the minimum on the theory that the least practicable change of the fundamental wave should be made. For easier reading the waves have been made square-topped.

"The modulating frequencies employed in the new method being of low order, it should be simple to devise instrumentalities to differentiate between them and the higher frequencies of 'static' or other natural disturbances. This new plan proposes to enter the unused infra-audio range, not only adding a useful band of frequencies but one below the range of the human ear. If employed for telegraphy this band could not interfere with radio telephony receiving.

"National legislation and international conferences are now in order," the foundation declares in conclusion, "to put into use these methods of relief to establish this simple universal alphabet. Radio engineering is leading the peoples of the earth toward a common language, a mutual understanding."

HEIRS OF ABDUL HAMID TO FIGHT FOR FORTUNE

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 16.—American lawyers may soon begin a legal battle to establish the right of the heirs of the late Sultan Abdul Hamid to oil properties and real estate in the territories now detached from Turkey, estimated to be worth $500,000,000. The heirs of the former sultan include four princes and four princesses, and they are headed by Prince Mehmed Selim Effendi, presumptive successor to the Caliphate.

The heirs are seeking satisfaction at Lausanne, and if this endeavor fails they will instruct their American attorneys to begin legal proceedings. They say that the Lausanne conference seems inclined to give a decision which would class the properties in question as belonging to the Turkish crown. This they aver is wrong, declaring that according to law the properties should pass in equal succession to Abdul Hamid's sons and daughters and that they will take every means to secure justice.

Although the former government of the Committee of Union and Progress usurped certain of the rights of the heirs and did its best to invalidate succession, it is claimed that it failed in its object.

A number of American concession-hunters have been after the heirs to grant them rights in the immense domains of the former sovereign of Turkey, and have competed with British promoters in their financial offers. If Lausanne decides in favor of the heirs, they will be able to farm out the properties without delay. Otherwise they will contest and make a legal fight.

DUKE OF YORK TOO BUSY TO ATTEND UNVEILINGS

LONDON, July 16—Members of the British royal family have announced that they will be obliged to decline future invitations to unveil war memorials.

This announcement was made when a reply of the Duke of York to an invitation to unveil a war memorial was made public. The duke said that he, in common with others members of the royal family, found it impossible to travel over the country, especially for these ceremonies, when he has so many other pressing and important demands on his time.

Members of the royal family have already unveiled more than three hundred war memorials which include many national memorials, to which local ones are but supplementary.

TO DECIDE KNOTTY QUESTION IN LAW

(The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The supreme court has been asked to decide whether the counterfeiting in this country of Canadian securities can be punished under the penal code. The question was before the Eighth circuit court of appeals for solution, but that court found it so perplexing that it called upon the highest court for instructions.

Isadore Lavisch was convicted in the federal district court for eastern Michigan of counterfeiting Canadian excise stamps, and was sentenced to five years in Leavenworth. While serving sentence he applied to the federal district court of Kansas for a writ of habeas corpus, which ordered his discharge on the ground that the offense for which he had been convicted did not constitute a violation of any law of the United States. The warden of the penitentiary, while holding Lavisch in confinement, took the case to the federal court of appeals for that circuit, which suspended further proceedings until the supreme court could consider and pass upon the question.

WOOD ALCOHOL CLAIMS VICTIMS IN GERMANY

BERLIN, July 16.—Wood alcohol has claimed the lives of at least 18 German drinkers within the past few months, although neither prohibition nor bootlegging prevail here. This type of spirits is used widely in industry and science, and the victims have been laborers who believed they were getting cheap drinks by consuming small quantities of the liquid that remained in tank-cars after unloading.

At Hamburg some time ago a large number of harbor truckers became seriously ill from drinking wood alcohol and ten of them died. A few days ago five more victims were reported from Prussian Silesia, and three from Berlin-Grunewald.

Repeated warnings have been issued by employers and authorities against the deadly and blinding effects of the chemical as a drink.

For rain water to sink to the level of most wells it takes from 12 to 18 months.

SPAIN DISTURBED OVER NEW LOSES IN WAR

LONDON, July 16—Spain is facing a grave crisis over the Moroccan situation says a Reuter dispatch from Madrid. The problem appears every day to be farther from a solution. The situation is extremely delicate, and the abortive attempts which have been made to arrive at a bloodless settlement have only aggravated it.

The Moroccan campaign is unpopular in many quarters, the correspondent continues, and the vacillating policy which has been the outcome of many recent changes of government has so far produced no definite results. The territory lost in 1921 has never been entirely reconquered and the civil protectorate which was declared last February exists in little more than name, inasmuch as the Riff leader, Abdelkrim, is still in possession of a large portion of the zone and has been able to make his own terms with the Spanish in regard to the release of prisoners.

The government's policy was to reorganize the army and make a determined bid for the conquest of the zone, but the recurring demands in the press for the cessation of hostilities and the punishment of those responsible for former defeats forced it, for a time, to abandon the idea of further aggressive action. The army was, however, reorganized and newly equipped with tanks, aeroplanes and other modern instruments of war.

Following the appointment of a new civil governor of Morocco, a friendly Moorish chief, Dris Er Riffi, was in April appointed native governor of the Riff province. But Abdelkrim waes still in undisputed authority over half of the province, and the government decided to withdraw a large number of the troops. This decision was never translated into action and, in spite of protests from the press, the Spanish troops continued to occupy advanced positions at considerable risk of attack. On May 31 a Spanish convoy was attacked by a large body of the enemy and sustained nearly 20 casualties.

It has for long been felt, the correspondent concludes, that the Moroccan problem ought to be settled without further bloodshed, and the news of this disaster cannot but give further impetus to the demand for a cessation of hostilities, and that without delay.

MAYOR DONOVAN TO FORMALLY OPEN NEW TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Lowell Americans and Bellevues Listed to Pry Off Lid on the South Common Tonight—Both Teams to Present Strong Lineups—Umpires Lyons and Hickey in Charge

With Mayor Donovan on hand to formally open festivities by pitching the first ball, the new Twilight league is scheduled to get underway on the South common at 6.15 o'clock tonight, with the Lowell Americans and the Bellevues listed to pry off the lid. In the event of rain, the opening will be deferred until tomorrow night.

In arranging the schedule for the new league, it was planned to play on Monday, Thursday and Friday nights, the arrangement being arrived at in order not to conflict with other games. But it was decided that in the event of a game scheduled for Monday night being called off, the same teams would meet the following night.

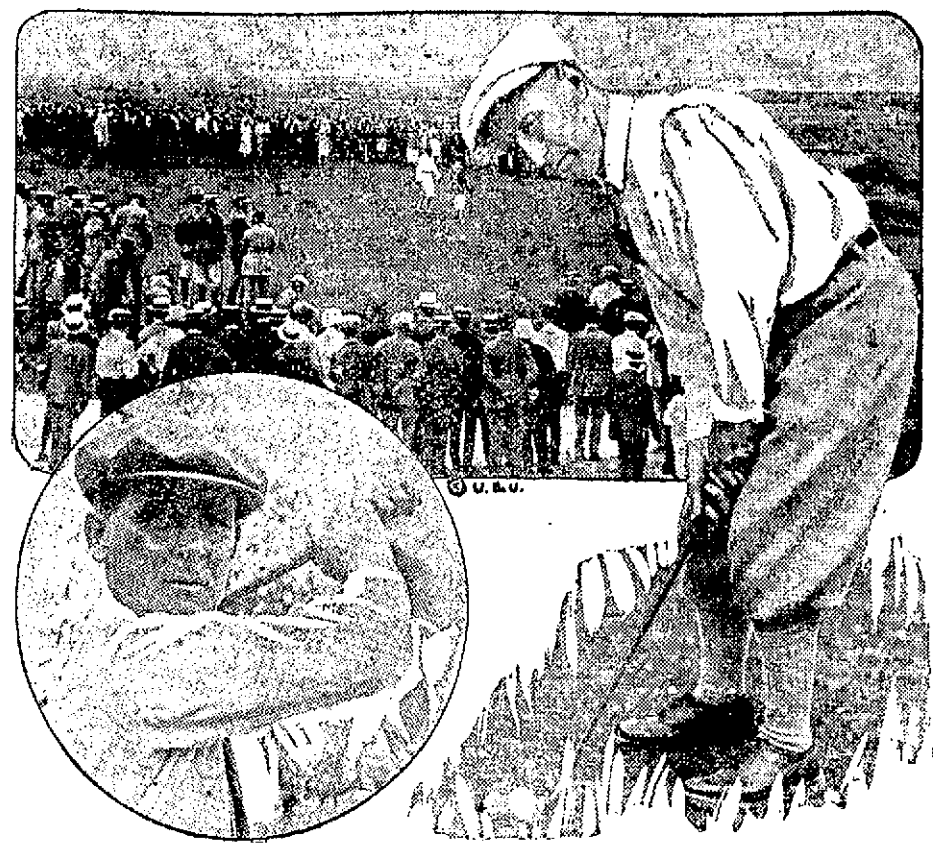

This action was due to the late start and the desire to try and play out the schedule within the regular season. Other postponements or ties will be played up as soon as possible. Should it be impossible to play both tonight and tomorrow night, no attempt will be made to get underway Wednesday night, but the teams scheduled to play on Thursday night will have at it.

The Bellevues and Lowell Americans are great rivals and the lineups include many of the younger stars of the local diamond. In addition may be found several prominent players of the former Twilight league.

The opening game is scheduled to start at 6.15 o'clock, with Umpires Wally Lyons and Tommy Hickey in charge.

To Continue Contest

Frank Ricard, the well known jeweler and booster of sports, announced today that he was well pleased to hear of a revival of Twilight league games, particularly because of the work done by Superintendent Kernan of the park department in erecting bleachers, etc., on the South common. Mr. Ricard also paid tribute to Superintendent Atkinson, Lieutenant Frawley and the other police officers, for their contribution to successful athletic competition on the common, to Mayor Donovan and the building departments, and in conclusion, he added that he was glad to see that their efforts were not in vain. He said that he would continue his Most Popular Twilight league player contest, and stood ready to assist in any other way in making the new league a success. He congratulated the officers and wished them a most successful season.

PLAYING FOR OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

BOBBY JONES GOLF CHAMPION

7000 Spectators Cheer Georgian as He Realizes His Great Ambition

INWOOD, July 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Robert T. "Bobby" Jones Jr., a sun-browned boy from Dixie, became the open golf champion of America yesterday, defeating Robert Allen Cruickshank, Scotch professional of the Shackamaxon Country club, Westfield, N. J., by two strokes in the play-off of a tie that existed Saturday at the end of the regular 72-hole championship round. Jones took 79 and Cruickshank 78.

Jones, an amateur of Atlanta, Ga., came into the title he long had sought on the 18th and very last hole, ending one of the most dramatic contests in the quarter of a century of title history. In the long, winning battle over green, rough, tee, fairway and trap, the Georgian was pitted against a master golfer, a greater fighter and a sportsman. And Robert Allen Cruickshank was a glorious loser.

Both the Georgian and the Scot, at the end of the rounds Saturday in which 77 golfers competed, were tied at 296 strokes. That tie came into being on the 18th green. Jones, with the championship ready for a journey south, had fallen into ill luck and had taken six strokes; there Cruickshank's almost hopelessly defeated, had made a birdie three to square the stroke count.

Thrilling enough as far as the 17th hole, where the Scot, with a remarkable recovery from a trap and a four foot putt, squared the match the play-off developed epochal elements on the last hole. Cruickshank's 13th tee shot, half topped, landed behind a clump of trees and to the left of the fairway. Jones 160 yards longer with his drive, to the right of the fairway. Cruickshank played safely, pitching 25 yards short of the brook guarding the green.

Jones selected his iron a heavy one, took a mighty swing, the ball hit the green dead for the cup, ran slightly to the left of it and rested four feet away.

The southern boy needed to hole his putt for a 1-hole, and two putts would put him down in four, almost certainly enough to win. But Cruickshank had a chance to tie, slim as it was. If he could pitch to the pin and hole his putt Jones would need the birdie to win.

The Scot drew a long breath. He studied almost every inch of the ground up to the cup, smiled, set himself and shot. His ball hit the green, but rolled into a shallow trap to the left. He had to hole from there or be certain of defeat. Again he studied the terrain, again he smiled and shot. The ball overran the cup 15 feet. There wasn't a ghost of a chance left, but he putted and missed.

Then he walked to Jones to congratulate him, signifying that he conceded defeat. But Jones elected to putt it out. The Atlantan played safe, rolling his ball to the edge of the cup and sinking it in four.

There were more than 7000 spectators around the green to cheer the boy from Georgia as he realized his great ambition, and captured the premier crown of American golfdom worn last year by Gene Sarazen of Briarcliff, who finished 16th Saturday.

FORMER LOWELL BOXER

"Kid Roy" Whom Jacks Meets After Manty Bout Known Here as George Parker

Lowell fans are particularly interested in the bout between Freddie Jacks of England and Charley Manty, of New Bedford, the New England featherweight champion, to be staged by the Moody club at the Crescent rink on Thursday, for aside from the fact that the bout itself is a real "tidbit" the fact that four days after the battle Jacks is to go to Montreal to meet Kid Roy for the British title, has local flavor.

The "Kid Roy" referred to is no other that the well known former Lowell battler who appeared in Spindle City rings under the name of George Parker. He went to Canada about two years ago and soon won his way to the top ranks among the Canadian featherweights.

The many local admirers of Parker will be at the ringside Thursday night to get a line on Jacks and form an idea of his chances against the present holder of the Canadian feather title.

Jacks is no stranger to Lowell fans. His bouts here against Andy Chaney and Benny Volger, are well remembered by those who were at the ringside. He's a smart, clever, fast worker, and against the speedy Manty ought to be at his best.

Manty has not fought here since his sensational bout with Billy Murphy, last winter, but since that time has been active in Boston, New Bedford and Newport rings. Only last week he created quite a sensation in the latter city by stopping Fighting Ned Fitzgerald in two rounds. His work was a revelation and he won additional admirers by his spectacular battling. A good preliminary card surround the Jacks-Manty bout.

YACHTS TESTED IN LONG SAIL

CHICAGO, July 16.—Yacht racing honors on the Great Lakes will be at stake when the starting gun booms here July 21 for the Chicago-Mackinac Island race, the longest freshwater race in the world.

Competition this year for the Mackinac cup, the most coveted Great Lakes racing trophy, will be even more spirited than during the 19 years' history of the race, and will take on an international aspect with at least one and probably several Canadian entries.

From the break in the harbor at Chicago to the end of the 331 mile run at Mackinac Island, a course stretching almost the entire length of Lake Michigan, yachtsmen concede that the winning of this race calls for the maximum in seamanship and puts to the test a yacht's best sailing qualities.

The Canadian bottom, the flagship of the Royal Canadian Yacht club at Toronto, has indicated it will start in the race, and others from the dominion are expected to be on the line.

Preparations for this year's contest recall the old yachtsmen the first Mackinac race held in 1904 when the final winner was not decided until the last few minutes of the long sail. In that race the Vencedor, once defender of the Columbia Yacht club, beat out the Vanenna by less than four minutes, the Vanenna losing out when she lost her headsails after fighting almost bow to bow with the Vencedor more than half the distance up Lake Michigan. The last day's run of this race was fought out between the two yachts in a wind which frequently reached gale strength.

RECORD ENTRY FOR HORSESHOE TOURNEY

CLEVELAND, July 16. Several hundred entrants are expected in the National Horseshoe Pitchers' tournament to be held here August 30 to September 2, as the result of announcement by local tossers in charge of arrangements that many state and county fairs throughout the country are to hold horseshoe tournaments to determine entry in the national contest.

Harold Faber, 15-year-old boy of Akron, O., will defend his title as world's champion pitcher, he has announced.

"RED" O'HARE COACH OF TRACK TEAM

George "Red" O'Hare, former Lowell high school track star, has been appointed coach of the Butler-Bunting track team which will participate in the big track meet at Bunting park on July 28. Entries for the meet are coming into headquarters and it is expected a big field will compete. All athletes contemplating participating must be registered as amateurs in the New England association of the A.A.U. and they may obtain such classification by applying to J. Frank Facey, in Cambridge.

GEORGE "RED" O'HARE

The joint committee of the Butlers and Buntings is doing everything possible to make the coming meet one of the most important days in the track annals of Lowell.

New bleachers are being installed and other changes are being made for the accommodation of a big crowd.

12-INNING GAME

St. Peter's Cadets Win Over Merrimacks — Regan and Conlin in Pitcher's Duel

St. Peter's Cadets defeated the Merrimack A. C., 7 to 4, in 12 innings at Shed park yesterday afternoon. McHale featured with two throws from deep left getting a runner each time. Regan pitched the 12 innings for St. Peter's and he gave a great exhibition, allowing four hits and striking out 18. For five innings St. Peters could do nothing with Bing Conlin's slants, but he weakened in the 12th inning, allowing four hits and two bases on balls for four runs. The score.

CINCINNATI AND PITTSBURGH CHALLENGE GIANTS' LEADERSHIP

World's Champions' Lead Over Reds Cut to Three and One-Half Games—Close Fight for Third Place in the American League—Yankees Have 12-Game Lead

NEW YORK, July 16.—The National league race is developing into a pretty contest with Cincinnati and Pittsburgh strongly challenging the Giants' leadership. Two of the three leading teams were in action yesterday while the third, the Cincinnati Reds gained in one respect and lost ground in another through their idleness. The Giants were defeated by the Chicago Cubs, the defeat cutting the lead of McGraw's men over Cincinnati to three and one-half games. But Pitsburgh, by defeating Brooklyn 3 to 2, moved up to within half a game of the Reds.

The feature of the American league race, aside from the 12 game lead of the New York Yankees, continues to be the close fight for third place. The Yankees yesterday maintained their position by defeating the Cleveland Indians, who trailed the Hugmen, 4 to 2.

St. Louis holds third place today by a narrow margin, but Detroit, Philadelphia and Chicago follow so closely that it is possible for the clubs to switch positions almost daily. The closeness of the race for third place is more clearly shown by the difference in games than by the percentage column—St. Louis in third place being only one and one-half games ahead of Chicago in sixth place.

The Athletics downed the White Sox yesterday 3 to 1, while Detroit easily defeated Washington, 10 to 2. The Boston Red Sox after being shut out 11 to 4 by the St. Louis team, went back and played the Browns even, darkness ending the game after 11 innings with the score six all.

C. M. A. C. BREAKS INTO WIN COLUMN AT EXPENSE OF FALL RIVER TEAM

A big crowd turned out at Spalding park Saturday afternoon and saw Lowell score its first win in the Massachusetts Twilight league, defeating Fall River by a score of 9 to 3. George Tyler started on the hill for the local outfit, but soon realized his arm was not functioning properly and retired in the third inning in favor of Pouliot.

Pouliot pitched masterly ball, allowing only four hits in the seven innings he pitched. Only one run was scored off him, this coming in the seventh inning when a two-base blow came after he had hit a batter. He was master of the situation at all times and received fine support, both offensively and defensively.

Gould started in the box for the visitors, but was routed in the fourth inning. Arthur, who succeeded him, fared no better. The C.M.A.C. lads had on their batting togs Saturday and every pitcher looked looked alike to them.

Eddie Cawley was the leading hitter of the day, getting a double and three slashing singles in five trips to the plate. Wilson, a Boston college man, was the shining light in the visitors' lineup, accepting nine chances.

Lowell scored in the first and third innings, and the visitors tied the game up in their half of the third on a pass and three bunched hits. It was then that Tyler retired.

But the Lowell sluggers uncorked a fusillade in the fourth inning and put the game on ice. Five runs were scored on a succession of hits. Then for good measure Lowell added two more in the sixth frame.

The victory Saturday has given the C.M.A.C. lads renewed confidence and they are now out to start climbing in the league standing. Tomorrow night Lowell will play the league-leading Fitchburg team at Textile campus. The Fitchburg team is headed by Jack Kiernan, the old New England leaguer.

If Cincinnati Fails to Win Pennant Daubert Will Shoulder Blame

By N. E. A. Service

CINCINNATI, July 16—When the 1923 National league season closes, if the Cincinnati Reds are found below the Giants, and perhaps the Pittsburgh Pirates, too, Jacob Daubert will rise on his spiked shoes and shout: "I'm the guy!"

In some quarters Patrick Moran, as the manager, may be blamed for not ushering the Reds into another world series.

There will be others who will insist that McGraw's bank roll in rebuilding the Giants resulted in the downfall of the Reds.

But Jacob Daubert will lean against the hot-stove league during the winter and point to another baseball mystery in explaining the pennant defeat of the Reds.

Daubert will pick to pieces a batting slump of his own.

In 1922 Daubert experienced the most successful season of his career. He had the remarkable average of .336, in his thirty-seventh year, made 205 hits, more than any time in his life, and scored the most runs with 114.

Squinting through the National league batting averages recently Daubert almost had to drift down to the last line to find himself.

"There's a reason," remarked Daubert. "See what I'm hitting? Not many points above .200. It was .225 the last time I looked at the figures. Can you figure it? I can't.

"I'm hitting the ball just as solidly as I did last season. I have the same swing, haven't changed my stance, pick on the curve and the fast one, but I'm lining to infielders and outfielders, hitting into double plays where last season I was getting them safe, advancing base runners and getting runs for the boys.

"I can go through the book and show where a hit or two in the pinch on my part would have won at least seven games that we have lost.

"What does this mean: add seven victories to our pennant percentage, knock off seven defeats, and we'd be out in front of the Giants."

How many players would put the blame on their own shoulders for keeping a ball club out of the pennant race? Baseball boasts few players of the Jake Daubert type.

PINCH HITTER'S JOB TOUGHEST IN GAME

By N. E. A. Service

ST. LOUIS, July 16—"Playing pinch hitter is the toughest job in baseball." So says Rogers Hornsby, premier star of the National league.

"There may be some soft jobs in baseball, but pinch hitting isn't one of them," continues Hornsby. "I am content to play regularly rather than to earn my salary by going in as pinch hitter when the occasion demands.

"It is hard enough to hit 'em safe when you are in the game every day, playing regularly. It's some tough job, believe me, to get off the bench cold and step into the breach, realizing that much depends on your ability to come through with a base hit.

"Don't overlook the fact that the good pinch hitter is invariably called upon in the crisis only. He is saved for the big moment where often a base hit means the old ball game. The pinch hitter is always up in the crisis.

"The toughest thing in the world is to make a base hit under pressure. At such spots the pitcher is giving you everything in his assortment. The pinch hitter is always looking at what the opposing pitcher has in reserve. Just a wee bit more speed or a trifle faster breaking curve.

"Never until my recent injury did I realize what a job the pinch hitter really has. When recovering from my injured leg I several times went to bat in a pinch and, believe me, the feeling is much different than being in there regularly."

Most ball players will say "Amen" to Hornsby's expression relative to the pinch hitting job, yet there are players who seem to thrive on it.

INJURY MAY FORCE UMPIRE ORMSBY OUT

By N. E. A. Service

CHICAGO, July 16—Umpire Ormsby of the American league staff is probably out of the running for the remainder of the season, as a result of a very unusual accident.

In a game at Boston several weeks ago, Ormsby, while working the bases, turned to get a play at second, the runner on first attempting to steal that base. It so happened that he got in a direct line with the throw of Catcher Al Walters of the Boston club. The ball struck Ormsby directly under his left ear. He dropped as if completely knocked out but quickly got to his feet and resumed play.

Ormsby finished the game and also worked the following day. He then began to be troubled with a severe headache that made it impossible for him to work. After resting for about a week in Boston he was able to make the journey to his home in Chicago.

There a careful examination was made which showed a blood clot forming that was the cause of all the trouble. Ormsby is undergoing treatment for the injury under a specialist, but it is not believed that his condition will enable him to do any more umpiring this year.

It is a rather singular fact that Ormsby is the second American league umpire to suffer serious injury as the result of being struck by a thrown ball by Catcher Walters.

Several years ago Umpire George Moriarty turned too quickly to get a play at second and was struck on the head and severely injured.

HARVEY MOST VALUABLE UTILITY MAN IN MAJORS

By N. E. A. Service

DETROIT, July 16—Most ball players of today are specialists. They learn to play one particular position. Ask them to shift to some other spot and they are lost.

Back 15 years, or even less, practically every major league ball club boasted a utility man who could play any position and do a good job of it.

Things are different now. Most major league clubs have a substitute for every infield position, a half dozen outfielders, three or four catchers and a dozen pitchers.

Infielder Fred Haney of the Detroit club takes you back to the old days in baseball. Haney stands out as one of the very, very few high-class utility players in the big show.

Haney is a third baseman by trade, well able to hold his own at that position with the best the National and American leagues can boast. But Haney can do other things equally well.

Since joining the Detroit club Haney has played every position on the infield and starred in each instance. He has done his bit in the outfield, and in a pinch could go behind the bat and get away with it.

Recently in a game at Cleveland when Detroit ran out of catchers, when the last available backstop, Woodall, was put out of the game, Haney offered to catch the offerings of Herman Pillette. However, Coach Carisch was pressed into service and Haney lost a chance to add more laurels to his utility record.

It is questionable if there is a more valuable player in the major leagues than Fred Haney. Combined with his ability to play any position, Haney is a fine hitter, a player of the aggressive type with plenty of courage.

When speaking of the most valuable player in the majors, you can't very well afford to overlook Fred Haney.

TILDEN NOW HOLDS CHAMPIONSHIP CUP

INDIANAPOLIS, July 16—The long string of tennis achievements of William Tilden, II, of Philadelphia, was increased yesterday when he won the national clay court men's singles tournament at the Woodstock club here for the third time, and gained permanent possession of the championship cup given by the United States Lawn Tennis association.

Tilden triumphed over Manuel Alonzo of Spain in the finals in a sensational four set match, 2-6, 8-6, 6-1, 7-5.

Robert and Howard Kinsey, the San Francisco doubles team won the clay court title from John Hennessey of Indianapolis, and Walter Wesbrook of Detroit in straight sets, 6-4, 13-11, 6-3.

George Lott of Chicago, won the junior tournament for the second consecutive year by defeating David O'Laughlin of Pittsburgh in the finals, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3.

Kinks o' the Links

by "PRO"

In medal play if the player farther from the hole believes the ball of his opponent, which is the nearer, may handicap him in his putting, can he request his opponent to lift his ball?

A player has the right to ask his opponent to either lift or play his ball as he chooses.

Two players in a match game reach the putting green on the second shot. The one a trifle nearer the hole putts first and holes out. This being contrary to the rule, what attitude should be assumed by his opponent relative to the play?

If an opponent who is nearer the hole plays first, you may recall his stroke and make him replace his ball and wait until you have putted.

Is there a time limit on trying to find a lost ball?

There is a definite time limit to look for a ball. A player has five minutes in which to find the ball. Failing to do so in that time, it must be considered a lost ball.

KITCHEN PAINT

Oil paint is an excellent finish for kitchen walls because it can be cleaned and is very durable.

The day of the fast ball pitcher has passed. No longer can the twirler with blinding speed alone make the grade in the majors.

Not so many years ago speed was considered the greatest asset of a successful pitcher. Speed is still to be desired, but is no longer the dominating factor in a pitcher's success.

Why the change? Charge it to the "rabbit ball" and the short fences. While most of the modern ball parks have a tremendous seating capacity, few have so large a playing field as was the case 15 or 20 years back. Also in those days the ball in use was far less lively.

Most of the crack major league batters of today dote on speed. They like nothing better than to face a pitcher who serves a continual diet of fast balls. It is far easier to time the fast ball than any other style delivery. With the lively ball and short fences it doesn't take much of a swing to convert a fast ball into a home run.

I could name a dozen pitchers in the two major leagues who a dozen years back would have rated big stars, yet most of them are finding the going rather tough at present. They are pitchers with a great fast ball and a fair curve. Everything is lovely when they are getting the fast ball past the batters, but when the opposition starts to time the speed ball they are in trouble. The reason—they have nothing in reserve to offer.

A pitcher who depends almost entirely on speed for success is decidedly up against it at present unless he develops a change of pace. A change of pace enables a pitcher to vary his style. If a batsman feels that seven out of every ten balls pitched will be fast ones, he can adopt a stance at the plate that will work to his advantage. A pitcher who has a change of pace can offset this advantage by mixing them up, thereby upsetting the batter who has his mind set on speed.

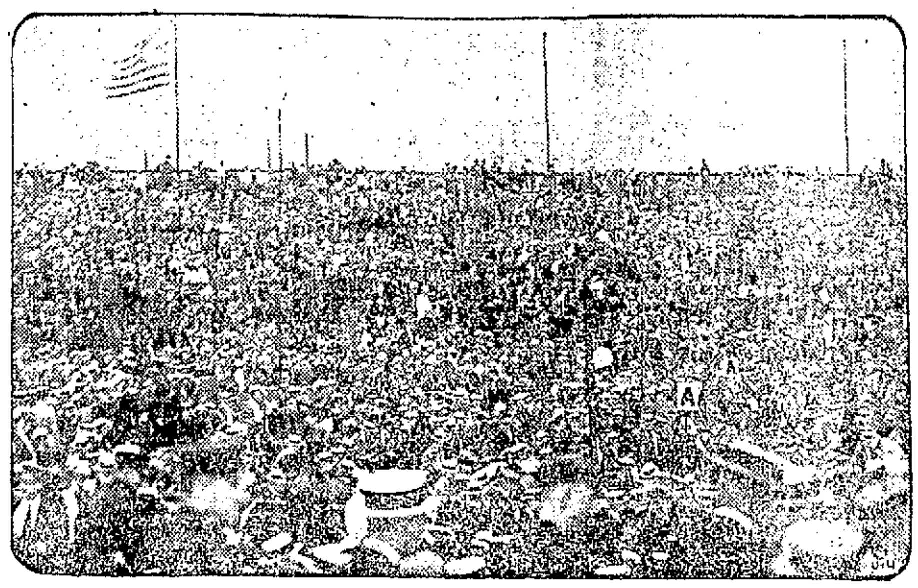

A majority of the pitchers who are having great success this year are twirlers who have a varied assortment of stuff, in which the use of the fast ball plays only a very minor part. The knuckle ball, the floater, the fadeaway and the half speed ball are just a few additions to the old style fast ball and curve.

Rolly Naylor, who is going great for the Athletics, is a shining example of the truth I have expounded. When Naylor came to the Athletics he boasted a great fast ball and a good curve. Yet for a number of years he met with only ordinary success. Naylor worked constantly to increase his stuff. He finally perfected a good change of pace, a slow curve and a half speed ball.

I have seen Naylor win ball games this year in which he didn't throw a dozen fast balls, yet at one time that was his stock in trade. It is nice to have a fast ball that a pitcher can shoot across every now and then to let the batsman know he still has one. Yet to be a big winner, the modern pitcher must have far more than a mere fast ball. As a matter of fact the fast ball these days is more or less used as a threat.

CURVES SURE CURVED HIS ARM

BALTIMORE, July 16.—Tommy Gibbon's right arm has a bend in it from "hooking" so much. His reach is shortened two inches as a result. It is possible. Harry Frank, a Baltimore Oriole pitcher, has thrown so many curves in the last four years that his right arm is very crooked. Frank has little speed and relies on curves and a tantalizing slow ball. He is one of the best pitchers in the International league. "But half a dozen years more and I don't know whether I can get my hand off my chin," says Harry.

Buzz-Saw Has No Terrors for This Woman; She's 69, Yet Runs Planing Mill Herself

By N.E.A. Service

ORANGE, N. J., July 16.—A 69-year-old woman is the best mill hand in town.

She is Mrs. Rachel Neill, a gray-haired mother who took up the work as an avocation 35 years ago. Now her plant is one of the busiest in the state. Is one of the busiest in the state.

There's little about milling that Mrs. Neill doesn't know. She can feed a buzz-saw as skillfully as any man; she can plane a board as quickly as her fastest worker; and there is no machine in her place that she can't operate.

Her chief business is turning out window sashes, wall frames and the like. When a rush order comes in, Mrs. Neill leaves her little office on the first floor of her plant, goes upstairs to the workrooms and sees that the job goes through. If it doesn't go fast enough, she rolls up her sleeves and lends a hand.

"Old?" she says. "Not at all. Work is the greatest elixir of youth. It keeps one young indefinitely."

Although she is close to 70, Mrs. Neill walks as sprightly as her youngest employe, shouts as loud as the rest of them, as they raise their voice above the hum of the buzz-saws, and needs no glasses to improve her eyesight. Worry about business troubles?

"Never," she says. "What's the good? If costs of labor and material mount, just be optimistic that they will come down again."

Play in doubles will begin tomorrow. W. T. Tilden 2d, of Philadelphia, who won the event last year, will not compete.

Players "seeded" in the singles draw in order which they will meet should they survive early matches, are: suitable one for the announcement of any change in French policies, and the fact that Premier Poincare merely reaffirmed the rigid French views without making them any stronger, offered some little satisfaction and encouragement.

The British, it is indicated, will proceed with the work of drafting the note to be submitted to the allies and the United States just as if M. Poincare had not spoken his mind. Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary, arrived at the foreign office early this morning, and the completed draft of the document will probably go to the cabinet tomorrow.

The French premier's pronouncement has left the British undaunted in their efforts to make proposals which will be acceptable to the allies.

London Papers Comment

LONDON, July 16—(By the Associated Press) A bad impression here was made by Premier Poincare of France in the address he delivered at Senlis yesterday which is generally regarded as an indirect reply to the outline of Great Britain's reparations policy made by Prime Minister Baldwin in the house of commons last Thursday. There is widespread disposition to treat it as an intended rejection of the views which Mr. Baldwin projected.

The only favorable comment in this morning's newspapers is made by the Morning Post which favors maintenance of the entente at all costs. It declares that the only policy promising satisfactory results for Great Britain is whole-hearted co-operation with France to force Germany to pay.

The Daily Mail, another pro-French paper, does not comment.

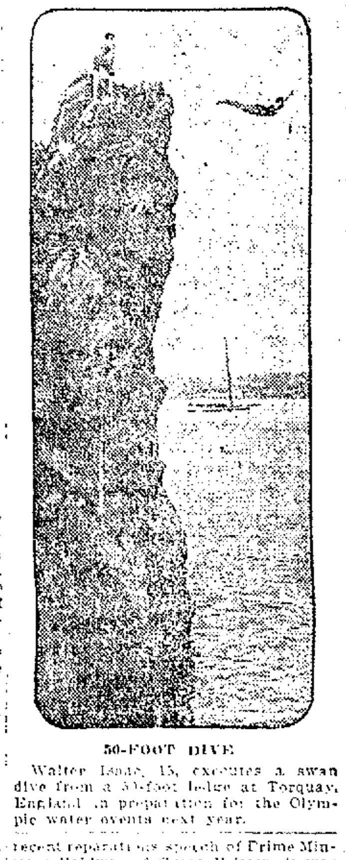

The Times thinks that M. Poincare's speech was unfortunate and protests his assumption that Great Britain no longer supports the treaty of Versailles, declaring that this government differs only from France in selecting the best method of getting the treaty observed. The Times, however, refuses to believe that M. Poincare's utterance is final.

The Daily News fears there is little hope that France will receive the British proposals favorably, but deprecates an attitude of despair. The Daily Express regards the speech as putting an end to "Great Britain's high hopes" and urges the country to cut loose from European connections, but at the same time, getting what it can from European markets and devoting its energies to peaceful development of the British empire.

The Daily Chronicle treats the speech as finally slamming the door against Great Britain and indignantly charges that France is seeking nobody's interests but her own, paying no regard to the manner in which British industry is suffering from her selfish action and asks how it is possible to maintain the entente under such circumstances.

Not Intended as Reply

PARIS, July 16 (By the Associated Press.)—Premier Poincare's address at Senlis yesterday was a mere reiteration of the French government's policy and was not intended as a reply to the recent reparations speech of Prime Minister Baldwin of Great Britain, it was explained in official circles here today. The entire address, with the exception of a few paragraphs, was written before the British premier spoke it was stated.

BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD, SHE SAYS

It is strange that people will disregard the early symptoms of stomach trouble and wait till they are down sick, unable to attend to their duties. Stomach disorders lead to a long train of other troubles. The liver, kidneys and bowels are closely allied with the stomach and soon become affected.

In all sincerity, Mrs. Frank Cassel, 165 Pare avenue, Lowell, Mass., says:

"Headaches bothered me so bad that I thought my head would burst. I couldn't think or see that pain was so great. At the least noise my heart would start pounding and I would shake from nervousness.

"Around my eyes and mouth lines of pain began to show. After every meal my food would sour, lying in my stomach like lead, and rising from my stomach burning up the inside, making it impossible for me to catch my breath. Cramps would double me up.

"My skin was sallow and sickly looking. A safe constipation wore down my system. I felt tired and listless. I had to drive myself to do my work.

Here I am now doing my work with pleasure. I feel fine. My nerves don't give me a bit of trouble. I sleep like a top and I enjoy every meal knowing that afterward I won't suffer from cramps and pains. I look so much better that my friends are congratulating me on my improvement—All due to Dreco.

I want every man and woman suffering as I did to have the same opportunity to restore them to good health."

Dreco is a scientific combination of good old-fashioned roots, herbs, barks and leaves. It contains absolutely no mineral salts or harmful metallic drugs. It has been strongly recommended for stomach, liver, kidney, nerve and blood disorders and already there are hundreds of men and women right here in this section who are taking it with excellent results.

Call today at Green's Drug Store and ask to talk with the expert from the Dreco Laboratories. He will courteously tell you of the merits of this wonderful remedy. Also he will honestly tell you whether or not he thinks Dreco will benefit you. Also Dreco is for sale in Nashua by Nashua Drug Co., 175 Main st.—Adv.

HARDING PARTY

To Go Further Into Interior of Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, July 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Having reached the northern end of steel rail transportation, President Harding proposed today to go further into the interior of Alaska by automobile. The ride will take five hours. It was originally planned that the presidential party should go over the trail 372 miles to Chitina and there take the Copper river and northwestern railroad to the port of Cordova, but the trip was abandoned as possibly too strenuous, much to the regret of Mrs. Harding, who has been urging it.

As now planned, the party on reaching McCarty will go aboard a river steamer for Tenana, where on Tuesday evening they will board a train for a 24-hour trip back over the government railroad to Seward.

built at the camp and the boys will have an opportunity of attending religious services.

A first aid tent is also provided for the boys. Mrs. Jeremiah Dooley and Miss Mary Curran are the nurses in charge and they are thoroughly capable of caring for any of the boys who feel indisposed or who receive slight injuries.

Miss Catherine O'Conner is the dietitian of the camp and upon her thoroughly capable shoulders rests the responsibility for the boys' daily rations.

The officers in charge this year are Francis Garkan, military instructors; John O'Connor, assistant military instructor; Col. William Dooley, Lt. Col. Arthur McQuade. The engineers' battalion is under Major Richard Thomas and the camp mechanician is Joseph Boyd. "Mike" Rynne is the physical instructor. Sydney McKenzie, chef, and Edward Duffy, mess sergeant.

A feature of this year's encampment is the radio section. This is under the command of Capt. Thomas Kelliher and the equipment consists of a military sending and receiving outfit. Capt. Kelliher plans to entertain the boys during the evenings with concerts picked out of the ether. This section is something new and has already proven exceedingly popular with the boys, many of whom own receiving sets.

The training schedule will follow as closely as possible that in use at West Point. Setting-up exercises, running, boxing, wrestling, rifle practice, manual-at-arms, and other drills and training exercises which are followed at the training camp for the U. S. army officers will be faithfully carried out.

Pr. Sullivan has taken every precaution possible in making the purchases for the commissary department. He has refrained from purchasing canned stuff for fear that some of the boys might get ill and has purchased only meat and vegetables of the highest quality. Among the articles on the menu for the week is a cadet chicken supper for tonight, lamb stew with fixin's for Tuesday's dinner, roast beef for Wednesday, corned beef dinner for Thursday, either fish or clam chowder for Friday and broilers for Saturday. These are only the chief articles on the menu, ice cream and cake being the popular desert.

There will be no visiting hours today or tomorrow as the boys will need these two days to become familiar with the camp. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday the visiting hours will be from 1 to 9 p. m. Absolutely no visitors will be allowed on the camp during the morning hours as these will be given over to military maneuvers.

Thursday and Friday will be the big days for the cadets. On Thursday a baseball game between picked teams will be played and a number of races run off. The races include 50, 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes, shot put, relay race, broad jump and 50 and 100 yard swimming races. These will be under the supervision of Michael Rynne.

Friday is the day picked for the sham battle. This is the feature of every year's encampment. It will start early in the morning and will be over by noon. The judges for the battle have not yet been chosen.

COULD NOT SLEEP OR EAT FOR DAYS

WINCARNIS Was the Only Thing That Seemed to Do Mrs. Hueston Good

"Before taking Wincarnis, I was completely run down. My nerves were in an awful state. I also had indigestion so badly that gas would form around my heart, causing it to palpitate. I could neither eat nor sleep for days at a time. I took a small bottle of Wincarnis and it seemed to do me good, so I bought a large one and within a week I began to feel much better. I started to sleep and eat much better, and my nerves quieted down. After taking three bottles, I felt better than I had for years. Wincarnis is certainly a wonderful tonic."

How Nuxated Iron Helped Me To Whip Tom Gibbons

Put Me In Such Superb Condition As To Enable

JACK DEMPSEY "TIGER OF THE RING"

Tells A Secret Of His Training — Advises People Who Are in a Weakened, Rundown Condition To Use Nuxated Iron To Increase Their Strength, Vigor and Vitality

And Retain the World's Championship

Today, recognized as the physical superior of any living man, the superman of the age, Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, explains below the part Nuxated Iron played in helping to prepare him for the three supreme tests of his career. First he used Nuxated Iron as a part of his training to increase his strength and endurance in his decisive victory over the mighty Willard who had never before been knocked from his feet. In this battle Dempsey displayed a dynamic overwhelming strength and power never before known in the history of the ring; and then again in his phenomenal victory over Carpentier he displayed that same indomitable force and nerve never before seen in any human being. Now once more in his smashing victory over Gibbons, he demonstrates the great advantage possessed by an athlete whose blood is rich in iron. The fact that Dempsey took Nuxated Iron as part of his training for Willard, Carpentier and Gibbons is convincing evidence of the importance he attaches to keeping his blood rich in strength-giving iron, and the high regard in which he holds Nuxated Iron as a master strength and blood builder.

In a statement made at his headquarter after the fight Jack Dempsey said: "Four years ago in preparing for my big fight with Jess Willard I took Nuxated Iron, and after I had taken it for a short while I was positive I could stand harder strains with less fatigue than before, and I firmly believe that Nuxated Iron put added power behind my punch and helped me to whip Jess Willard and thereby win the world's championship at Toledo. After that time whenever I felt rundown I used Nuxated Iron to help build up my physical condition; and when I started to train for the international championship bout against Carpentier I resumed the regular use of Nuxated Iron, feeling positive that it would help give me that rugged strength, endurance and power that is of greatest importance in contests of this kind, because, other things being equal, victory always goes to the strongest man. In this I was not mistaken as Nuxated Iron again came in the front at the time I most needed it, and I am sure that it played an important part in getting me into such fine physical condition as to enable me to win so quickly and easily in my battle with Carpentier. Before the fight I had heard so much of Carpentier's great skill and the ease with which he had defeated all the noted heavyweights of Europe that I felt I might have a battle royal on my hands, but I found him even easier for me than Willard and I felt practically as fresh after the fight as when I started. This year in training for the fight with Gibbons, I felt that the basis for all my other work was to be sure that I would possess that stamina and power that is impossible unless one's blood is rich in iron. Just as in preparation for all my previous championship fights, I took Nuxated Iron faithfully all through my training. The result proves that I possessed all my old time strength and punch."

It should occur to every thinking person that if a man as physically fit as Dempsey should consider it advisable to take Nuxated Iron, in training for his battles, how much more important it is for the average man or woman to see that there is no lack of iron in the blood or nerve force in the nerves. Thousands of men and women are weak, rundown and old before their time, their nerve force shattered and their health wrecked simply because they have allowed worry, overwork, grief, constant nervous strain and excesses of various kinds to sap the vital nerve fluid from their nerve cells and the iron from their blood in such cases one may not only suffer from terrible physical torture such as great nervous irritability, heart palpitations, indigestion, splitting headaches, pains across the back, dizziness, sleeplessness, extreme weakness, etc., but the mind is naturally more or less affected, the memory becomes poor, and the judgment bad.

Many a capable man or woman falls just short of winning success and happiness in life because they do not back up their mental ability with the physical strength energy and endurance which comes from having plenty of good rich red blood and nerve force. In such cases it is often worse than foolish to take mere stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs. What you need is something to put more nerve force in your nerves and more iron in your blood. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron. This valuable product contains the principle chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most resembles that in the nerve and brain cells of man. It also contains organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. This form of iron will not blacken or injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It is an entirely different thing from metallic iron which people usually take. Nuxated Iron may therefore be termed both a blood and nerve food as it feeds strength-giving iron to your blood and the principal chemical ingredient of active living nerve force to your brain and nerve cells.

Important Statement of Jack Kearns, Manager for Dempsey

"Knowing the benefits that Dempsey had derived from the use of Nuxated Iron in training for his contests with Willard and Carpentier, I strongly insisted that he must again use this product as part of his regular training for his battle with Gibbons, and from the results which Dempsey has obtained from the use of this product in his three phenomenal victories over Willard, Carpentier and Gibbons, I strongly advise people who are in a weakened rundown condition to try this wonderful strength and blood builder."

MANUFACTURERS' NOTE: From the above article the reader must not infer that Nuxated Iron will make a giant in strength or a world's champion out of the average man; but Nuxated Iron will increase the red blood corpuscles and by so doing greatly increase your strength, power and endurance, and supply increased nerve force to the starving nerve cells. You can try Nuxated Iron on our absolute guarantee that if it does not increase your strength, power and endurance in two week's time and give you perfectly satisfactory results your money will be refunded. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package. Nuxated Iron for the blood and nerves is sold by all druggists.

Theatre seats collect dangerous dirt

Why Crowds are Dangerous

ON the street—in school—in public places—your children come face-to-face with disease. The grime they collect on face and hands is mute evidence of countless dangerous contacts.

That grime is not "clean dirt"—but a product of city congestion—containing millions of invisible enemies to health.

What Mothers Must Do

You cannot keep children from this ever-present disease-dirt. But you mothers, the "Health Doctors," can and should do everything possible to prevent its deadly effects. All the health authorities in America ask your co-operation.

Make sure that your children are really clean when they wash themselves. Ordinary cleanliness is not enough. They need the rich purifying lather of Lifebuoy with its unique health ingredient to go down deep into the dirt-clogged pores and combat the dangers ever-present in dirt. The pungent, healthful odor of Lifebuoy proves the presence of this extra element.

Because of its rich, red palm-fruit oil and oil of cocoanut, Lifebuoy is most grateful to youthful, sensitive skins. And many blemishes yield to Lifebuoy's sanative, stimulating action. Men delight in Lifebuoy lather.

Why Lifebuoy Leads

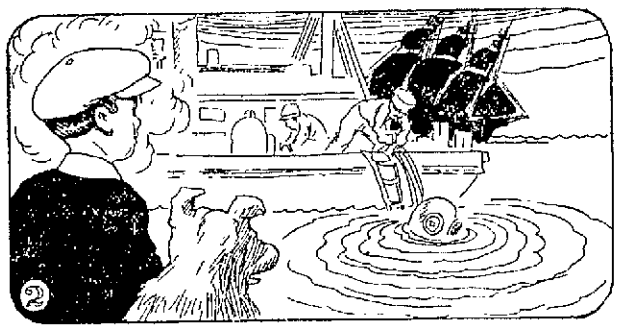

But the real reason why Lifebuoy is now probably the widest selling toilet soap in the world is that millions of mothers have proved it to be the health soap. Rely on Lifebuoy. Put a cake of Lifebuoy at every place in the house where there is running water. Lifebuoy protects health. Lever Bros Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 24

It was one of the bright, warm, sunshiny days when every youngster wants to go down by the water. Jack Daw sat on a dock, dangling his feet and watching some divers at work on their flatboat. Flip, his faithful dog, lolled by his side, now and then snatching at a buzzing fly.

Jack had seen a man crawl into a big diver's suit and slip gently down a rope ladder and out of sight beneath the water. He was waiting for this man to come up. Suddenly he saw some bubbles on top of the water and then the diver's head appeared. It was very interesting to Jack.

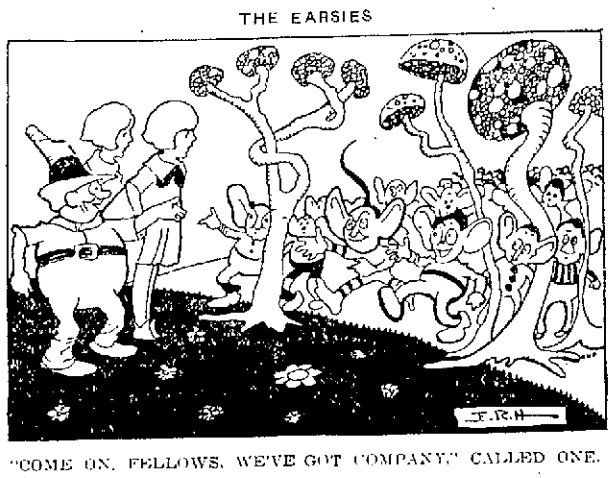

As the diver crawled up on to the flatboat, Jack slipped down off the dock and joined the men who were now starting to take the diver's suit off. One of the men turned to Jack and said, "How would you like to put this suit on and go down and see the bottom of the sea?" (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

THE EARSIES

"COME ON, FELLOWS, WE'VE GOT COMPANY," CALLED ONE.

After the Nosey had left them, Mister Sky Bow asked Nancy and Nick if they would like to see where the Earsles lived.

"Are they some more of the odd people who live in Rainbow Land?" asked Nancy.

"Yes!" nodded the little fairy man, "and a happier crowd you never saw, although they are not very handsome."

So they went along past several queer houses and other queer things, and by 'n' by they heard a noise.

"Isn't that awful!" remarked Nancy. "What is it?"

"It's the Earsies singing themselves to sleep," said Mister Sky Bow. "We'll have to hurry."

So they hurried as fast as they could go.

And on turning a corner they came to the place the Earsies were. But all they saw was a hundred hammocks swinging this way and that.

"Hello!" called Mister Sky Bow loudly.

Instantly all the Earsies stopped swinging and singing and sat up. But they looked so funny the Twins could hardly keep from laughing.

For the ears of these queer little folk were so large they stuck out on each side of their heads like sails.

"Come on, fellows, we've got company," called one, and with that every little Earsy jumped out of his hammock bed and came up to shake hands.

"Where are your ears?" asked one when everybody'd said how d'do to the visitors.

"Here under our bobbed hair," said Nancy, showing him.

"Too bad," said the Earsy. "There are so many things you can't hear with such little ones."

"But it's better in a thunder storm," said Nick, laughing.

"And when Jack Frost is around," added Nancy.

"Oh, we don't mind them," said the little Earsies, running back to their hammocks. "Goodby."

"DELINQUENT GROUPS" FOUND IN COLLEGES

EVANSTON, Ind., July 16.—Too little sleep, too much play, not enough study, too much leisure; fast eating and diversified thinking are factors that devitalize students and are responsible for the "delinquent groups" found in every university, according to a report made public by Professor Dolton Thomas Howard of Northwestern University.

In Northwestern alone, out of 1,635 students in the college of liberal arts, Professor Howard has found a "delinquent group" of 205 composed of 166 men and 39 women. In other words, he points out, 16 out of every 100 students do not "pass." But delinquency does not necessarily imply lack of intelligence, the professor found.

"No result of our study," the Northwestern professor writes, "is more significant and interesting than the discovery that the average intelligence of the so-called delinquent group is quite as high as that of the general student body."

Students found to be delinquent are put on probation at Northwestern and have to make good or be dropped from the roster.

"The probationers," the investigator reports, "devote more time, as a whole, by their own confessions, to athletics, social activities, outside work, leisure, than do the freshmen; less time to sleep, campus activities, meals, classes and studies.

Among the total group of men interviewed, 15 were thought to be handicapped by "mental immaturity." Commenting on this Prof. Howard remarks:

"These are boys who have, for the most part, been reared under easy circumstances and who have never been required to view life seriously. Such students have a distinctly childish attitude towards their class-room work, have no intellectual interests, no definite ambitions, no sense of responsibility. In most of these cases, as might be expected, high school preparation has been superficial and inadequate."

Illness, family troubles, and financial worries are among the other causes leading to students being put on probation.

Safety Lessons FOR The Auto Driver

No. 9—The Carburetor

The carburetor vaporizes the gasolene and mixes this vapor with air in a certain proportion to form an explosive mixture. For use in automobile engines this mixture is about 14 parts of air to 1 part of gasolene vapor. (Parts are determined by weight.) If the mixture contains to omuch gasolene, it is too rich; this wastes gasolene, deposits excessive carbon, dilutes the oil in the crank case and prevents the oil from properly lubricating the engine. If the mixture contains too little gasolene, it is too lean; this may cause the engine to start hard, miss, or lack power.

This proportion of gasolene vapor to air can be regulated by certain adjustments of the carburetor. These adjustments are very sensitive and after they are once made properly, there is little if any need for change. Only properly qualified and experienced persons should attempt to do anything to or make any adjustments on the carburetor.

No gasolene or air can enter the engine cylinder without first passing through the carburetor. Gasolene is fed from the gasolene tank to the float chamber of the carburetor. Here the gasolene is maintained at a level just below the end of the spray nozzle and sucks out some of the gasolene which is this vaporized and becomes mixed with the air, forming an explosive gas.

The amount of gasolene and air entering the cylinders is controlled by the throttle valve (sometimes called a butterfly valve) located just above the carburetor in the pipe leading from the carburetor to the engine. The opening and closing of this valve is controlled by the hand throttle lever on the steering post, or by the foot accelerator, or by both. Opening the throttle valve admits more gasolene and air and speeds up the engine. Less gasolene and air are admitted and speed is lowered by moving the throttle toward the closed position.

The engine must ordinarily be cranked or turned over several times before it will start. This is because a charge of gasolene and air must first be drawn into the engine, then compressed and fired.

If the air drawn into the carburetor, or the mixture of air and gasolene coming from the carburetor is heated before it enters the engine cylinders the cylinder walls are not unnecessarily cooled and the engine will operate more economically.

The daily waste of gasolene is enormous. If the drivers in our country were more careful they could save over a million gallons of gasolene a day, simply by having the carburetor adjusted properly, operating the car only when necessary and shutting off the engine when standing still.

DEVELOPMENT OF SHIPS SHOWN IN PICTURES

A subject interesting to people in all walks of life, from the children who study about their ancestors, to the older folk who have witnessed the development of naval activities, is an exhibit at the Lowell public library. A group of pictures representing ships from the time of Noah's Ark up to the 20th century, is a topic which seems to fit in appropriately at the present time when there is so much questioning concerning naval limitation.

Among the group is a sketch of Odysseus' bark in which he made his famous travels. Interesting indeed is the comparison between the Santa Maria, Columbus' flagship, and the Imperator Tirpitz is a difference of 49,500 tons between the two ships. Another comparison, the first "Dreadnaught," built by Queen Elizabeth, and our super-dreadnaughts of today, shows the marvelous expansion in naval crafts.

"Three Centuries of Development" is the title of a sketch showing the three largest ships of their century, the Great Harry, The Victory and The Hood, the latter being built in the beginning of the 20th century and weighing 41,000 tons. The exhibit is one of the best ever shown locally, and promises gripping educational moments to those who visit it.

America has the strongest submarine power in the world, she has 104 ready and 27 building, while Great Britain has 54 and eight building.

SEAMEN ACCUSED OF DESERTING

SOUTHAMPTON, July 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Twenty-five members of the crew of the American steamship Leviathan were summoned in police court today on charges of deserting other ships, including the Berengaria, Aquitania Olympic, Mauretania and Homeric.

Fireman Courtney, alleged to have deserted the Aquitania, proved that he had never been on the ship and the case against him was withdrawn with the allowance of one guinea for costs. Two other cases were taken as tests. The prosecuting solicitor said the proceedings were not instituted to embarrass the United States lines, but with a view of vindicating the rights of British shipping companies to maintain discipline aboard their own vessels.

The Cunard line has lost 600 men through desertion in four months and the White Star 500 men. All defendants before the court returned here as seamen on the Leviathan.

The allies made this proposal last night in an effort to break the deadlock.

ELECTION OF U. S. SENATOR

Election Ends a Campaign Unusual in Political Annals of State

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 16.—(By the Associated Press) Voters of Minnesota today are writing the verdict in the unprecedented contest involving the selection of a United States senator in succession to the late Knute Nelson.

In 8520 polling precincts, ballots are being marked determining whether a supporter of the Harding administration shall go to the senate, or if this state shall throw its complete senatorial strength to the La Follette group.

While there are three candidates it is between Governor J. A. O. Preus, republican, and a Harding adherent, and Magnus Johnson, a Farmer-Laborite and follower of Robert L. La Follette, that the real contest lies.

James A. Carley, state senator and democratic choice, is the third candidate, but even his close political friends counted him out of the race before the polls opened at 6 a. m. today.

The election ends a campaign unusual in the political annals of the state. Called specifically to fill the vacancy, Senator Nelson's death created, the primary June 18 was marked by apathetic balloting that attracted only a few more than 300,000 of the state's 800,000 votes.

NEW YORK, July 16.—Investors were given an opportunity to take a financial interest in boxing today when public offering was made of 50,000 shares of the new Madison Square Garden corporation, class A cumulative, participating preference stock of no par value at $20 per share. The corporation has been organized to take over the Madison Square Garden corporation including the boxing and other athletic exhibitions staged by G. L. "Tex" Rickard.

SUBSTANTIAL INCREASES FOR BANK CLERKS

All the other banks are expected to follow suit. This means that the bank clerk's pay will be brought more into line with that received by workers in other professions. About 20,000 will be affected.

In the post-war shuffle to bring wages up to living costs the bank employe has been left behind. Other types of "white collar" workers are receiving 10 to 100 per cent. more than their fellows in the banking field. The pay in the banks and that given skilled manual workers, such as bricklayers, plumbers or painters, tells a story of contrasts.

The rank and file bank worker has been averaging around $75 a month for women and $100 for men.

The bonus system is to go. It gave the employe a chance to share in the profits of the bank and was all right in prosperous years, but a burden in lean years. The amount devoted to the bonus will be divided among the workers in the form of salary increases. This will not mean a blanket increase, but will result in substantial increases for men and women whose efficiency records warrant such. The inefficient will be shifted into other lines or shunted out of the field.

The insurance plan will also enter into the new era for the bank clerk.

NASHUA MAN PAYS $210 IN COURT

Charles T. Swain of Nashua made a contribution of $210 to the county treasury this morning, this sum being imposed by Judge Enright in district court on six charges.

Swain was arrested in Tyngsboro about a week ago, and when his machine was stopped by the officers it was alleged he started to show what he could do with his fists, with officer Joseph Riley as the objective.

In court today a drunkenness complaint was filed; for operating an auto without a license he was fined $5; for operating without a certificate of registration a fine of $5 was imposed; for operating while under the influence of liquor a fine of $100 was imposed, and fines of $50 each were imposed on the charges of assaulting an officer and operating an auto in such a manner as to endanger lives and safety of pedestrians.

LOSE REDUCED RATE SERVICE

Company Withdraws Discount Privilege Enjoyed by Striking Phone Operators

Declares Conditions Everywhere Are Normal or Approaching Normal

BOSTON, July 16.—Striking telephone operators in Massachusetts and Rhode Island will not receive the 50 per cent. discount on local and toll service granted by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. to its employes after tomorrow. The ruling already announced in Springfield and Worcester, will apply to all exchanges in the affected territory, officials of the company announced today.

The strikers will have the option of retaining their telephones at regular subscribers' rates or having them disconnected.

"The company waited three weeks for the girls to return and during that time, which was considered a fair interval, the reduced rate service was furnished," it was stated at the company's general offices.

Official bulletins on service conditions in New England, which have been issued daily since the beginning of the strike on June 26, have been discontinued. Conditions everywhere are normal or are approaching normal, through the recruiting of new operators, officials said.

Approximately 8000 operators walked out on June 26 to enforce a demand for increased pay and a seven-hour day.

Five Strikers Return

LAWRENCE, July 16.—Five telephone operators who have been on strike at the local exchange, returned to work today, Manager Cheney announced. All of them had been invited by the company to return, he said. Four were union girls and one a non-union girl, he said.

Improvement at Salem

SALEM, July 16—Ninety-six operators are on duty at the local exchange, a gain of six since Saturday, two being strikers who have quit the union. More strikers are expected to apply for positions today, according to the local manager. The removal of half rate telephones from the homes of strikers started today.

WILL SPEND TWO WEEKS AT SUNSET HOUSE

A happy party of fifty boys and girls left Lowell (automobiles this morning, bound for the Sunset House, Nantasket beach, where they will be the guests of the Particular Council of St. Vincent de Paul society for the next two weeks. Accompanying the children was Mrs. Sara F. Hunt, supervisor of the Catholic Charitable Bureau of Lowell, who will look after their many wants during the stay at the beach.

Sunset house was established at Nantasket about 12 years ago by His Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell and has capably fulfilled the needs of a children's recreation center during the warm summer months. The Lowell party left this city at 8.30 o'clock and motored to Rowe's wharf, Boston, boarding the steamer there for Nantasket.

Brookline Riding school structure, where it was wrecked. Before the car crashed, Patrolman Travers signalled for the driver to halt, and when his signal was unheeded he fired three shots into the air. The next instant the automobile smashed into the side of the building, ripping a hole several feet long.

Patrolman Travers ran to the wreckage and found the driver hanging over the wheel in a semi-conscious condition. McMahon was walking away from the car in a dazed condition but apparently unhurt. Beauparlant was sent to the Peter Bent Brigham hospital, where it was stated he had received serious internal injuries, lacerations of the head, face and body. The police and witnesses who saw the crash marveled at the man's miraculous escape from instantaneous death.

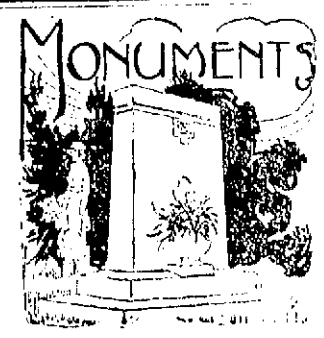

According to the Boston police, charges will be preferred against Beauparlant if he recovers. They allege he was under the influence of liquor. McMahon was placed under arrest for drunkenness. At the station house, he told the authorities that he and Beauparlant had had lunch in Cambridge and that Beauparlant had driven at a reasonable rate of speed to a point not far from the scene of the accident. He said that then Beauparlant, despite his pleadings, "stepped on it" and refused to slacken the pace. McMahon said he grabbed the emergency brake and jammed it on. When he tried to wrest the wheel from the control of Beauparlant, the car skidded almost at right angles before crashing.

London Paper Treats Speech as Finally Slamming Door Against Britain

LONDON, July 16—(By the Associated Press) British hopes of assuming the allied leadership in the negotiations for a reparations settlement with Germany are considered here to have had a serious setback during the week-end by reason of the speech which Premier Poincare of France delivered at Senlis Sunday.

Nevertheless the British officials who returned to Downing street early today to resume the task of drafting a reply to the latest German offer were not so sure that the situation was as gloomy as the news from Paris seemed to indicate.

The British attitude, as reflected in official circles, is that the least said about the Poincare address, the better. It is recognized that the atmosphere of a war memorial unveiling was not a

STREET WORK WELL UP TO 1923 SCHEDULE

That the street department is keeping pace with its 1923 schedule of work is shown in a report submitted to the press today by City Engineer Stephen Kearney. The schedule of granite block paving for the season is 6,271.8 square yards and already 5,959.3 has been done. Reinforced concrete work scheduled for the year is 3,142.9 square yards and in this instance the department is far ahead, for the work accomplished to date amounts to 4,541.1 square yards. Relative to asphaltic concrete the schedule calls for 6,385.4 and in this case also the department has done more than contemplated, for 7,005.6 square yards have been laid.

This morning a gang of men of the street department were put to work on the excavating of the south side of Westford street near Tyler park, preparatory to the laying of reinforced concrete.

NEW TAX LAW AFFECTS MORE THAN HALF MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF PROPERTY

City Treasurer Will Act to Collect Unpaid 1922 Taxes, as Authorized by Recent Legislation—Demands To Be Followed by Auction Sales After August 1—$528,000 Involved at Present

Acting in accordance with an amendment to Chapter 128 of the General Laws of Massachusetts, recently passed by the legislature, City Treasurer Fred H. Rourke soon will send out demands for the unpaid 1922 real estate taxes. Later on the real estate on which the taxes remain unpaid, will be advertised and after Aug. 1 will be sold to the highest bidders. The 1922 unpaid taxes in this city amount to $528,000 and under the new law the city treasurer is instructed to collect at once.

The amendment to the law, recently enacted by the legislature, reads as follows: "If any tax betterment or special assessment remains unpaid fourteen days after demand therefor, the collector, in the case of any tax betterment or special assessment upon real estate within one year from the date of the year of assessment of such tax, or any other tax within two years from the said Oct. 1, shall collect [illegible] together with all incidental charges and fees and in the manner provided by law." Heretofore the law allowed three years for the payment of real estate taxes.

TRUCE ENDED AT BROCKTON

Rank and File of Strikers to Decide Move to Renew Active Campaign

BROCKTON, July 16.—Announcement that "the truce is ended" was made today by leaders of striking shoe workers of the city. A meeting was called for this afternoon at which the question of resuming picketing of shoe plants will be voted on.

It was said by strike heads that they refused to assume responsibility on the question of renewing an active campaign, and will let the rank and file of strikers decide.

The city solicitor's ruling on July 8 that picketing was illegal resulted in clashes between police and strike sympathizers last week in which many arrests were made. A permit for a mass meeting yesterday of strikers at which the question of calling off the strike and abandoning picketing, was to be put to a vote, was refused by the city authorities. The strike has been in progress since May, when a large number of shoe workers went out to enforce demands for abrogation of the contract between the Shoe Manufacturers' association and the Boot & Shoe Workers' union which calls for settlement of all disputes by the state board of conciliation and arbitration.

TWO MEN KILLED, GIRL MAY DIE

Truck Slips Across Rails in Path of Locomotive—Was Loaded With Blankets

NASHUA, N. H., July 16.—Two men were killed and a girl is dying at the Memorial hospital here, the result of the striking of a five-ton auto truck by the locomotive of the Nashua-bound passenger train on the Keene branch of the Boston & Maine railroad at Richardson's crossing, Milford, this morning. The dead:

Earl Wilfred Moore, 25 State street, Lynn, Mass.

The identification of Mr. Cheever seems positive as owner and driver of the truck. The truck was loaded with blankets from Monadnock mills in Marlboro, going to Lowell.

On the body of the young man was the card bearing the name and address given, and also a penciled notation: "Hotel Ellis, Keene."

The girl, Mary Cheever, 14-year-old daughter of the driver was unconscious from skull fracture when removed from the wrecked truck. At the hospital here at 10 o'clock she was said to be dying.

Train and truck came to the crossing at the same time. The driver of the truck applied his brake to stop, but owing to the slippery condition of the roadway the truck slid across the rails, where it was struck by the locomotive.

Cadets Go Into Camp at Wilmington

TRUCK LOAD OF O. M. I. CADETS AND GROUP OF INSTRUCTORS OFF FOR CAMP

Two hundred khaki clad boys left the O.M.I. Cadet Armory in High st. at 1 o'clock today for their annual encampment at Milligan's grove. This is the 15th annual encampment of the Cadets and the number journeying to the camp today assures its success as the greatest of the eighteen.

The journey from the armory to the grove was made in trucks and regardless of the rain that threatened to become heavy and the rough-riding of the trucks over the slippery pavements, the boys enjoyed every minute of the ride, singing and cheering all the way.

One company left last Saturday and spent that day and Sunday in setting up the 2o tents and the mess hall so that the boys today had dry quarters to go into on arrival.

Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., chaplain and founder of the organization, went with "his boys" and will stay with them until their return home. A military chapel has been

CAUSE OF AMESBURY BLAST A MYSTERY

AMESBURY, July 16—Although a rigid investigation was made yesterday of the explosion and fire which destroyed a part of the Amesbury and Salisbury Gas company's plant early yesterday morning, the cause of the explosion was not determined. It is believed, however, that a leak started in the pipe line carrying the coal tar oil and the oil in some way became ignited, either from a static spark at the pumps or from the gas fumes.

An emergency crew was put to work at once and enough of the machinery was repaired today to operate a part of the plant, so that the company expects to be able to furnish sufficient gas although its customers have been asked to be as economical as possible in the use of gas until the service can be fully restored.

The main building of the plant was wrecked and much of the machinery damaged or destroyed. Within 100 feet of the burning building was stored more than 125,000 cubic feet of gas. The efforts of the firemen averted an explosion of these storage tanks, which would have practically destroyed the town had it occurred.

HEARING ON ASPHALT MATERIAL TODAY

The hearing granted the Nashoba Construction Co. by Mayor Donovan on the matter of a contract for 20,000 square yards of asphaltic concrete material was held in the mayor's reception room at city hall at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The company requested a hearing, claiming it is entitled to the contract for which a requisition has been sent to the mayor's office by the purchasing agent at the request of the public service board, on the ground that it was the lowest bidder for a similar contract a short time ago. The members of the public service board were present at the hearing, which was presided over by the mayor.

Whether or not the city council will be called upon to take action on an additional $350 for the election department, boiled to make up the increase in salary for the members of the election commission or Hollingsworth & Vose Co. at the regular meeting tomorrow evening, will depend upon whether or not the city solicitor will present an order therefor.

Of course the members of the board are also vitally interested in the matter and are doing their utmost to have the order put through. FRANCE DEMANDS FULL PAYMENT

Premier Poincare Declares France Has Made Last Concession to Germany

Government Insists on Complete Execution of Treaty of Versailles

SENLIS, France, July 16.—(By the Associated Press) In this little town, the nearest point the Germans reached on their smash to Paris, Premier Poincare gave yesterday what is considered his preliminary answer to Great Britain's attitude on reparations which was enunciated last week in both houses of parliament. His real answer, of course, will be in reply to the note that Great Britain will propose as a joint allied reply to Germany.

The French premier did not make any direct reference to the British position, but simply outlined his own, anticipating in several instances what is generally believed will be the features of the British proposal.

France, asserted M. Poincare, stands unalterably for the complete execution of the treaty of Versailles and the full payment by Germany of the debts of 132,000,000,000 gold marks, the sum fixed at the London conference. France, he added, in consequence opposes the appointment of an international finance commission to reconsider Germany's debts and supplant the reparations commission.

No more concessions will be made by France, was the gist of his address to the citizens of Senlis, some of whom saw the Germans place part of their village in flames and shoot some of the civilians. From the signing of the peace treaty until now, France has been making concessions continuously, he asserted.

"Then why have we said we have reached the end?" he asked. "It is because until now they always have been at our expense. Has not Germany been so well looked after during three whole years that she has been allowed to default on all her obligations so that we had to pay with our own money 100,000,000,000 francs she owed us and has not paid? Has she not been allowed to rebuild a commercial fleet and develop her canals and railroads and enrich her great industries at the expense of her creditors."

Germany has done nothing to stabilize her finance, he declared, and will not put her house in order unless forced. To think that she will do otherwise is a delusion.

"For three years the allies had followed this mirage and for three years things have been going from bad to worse. If we were not in the Ruhr Germany would have continued to slip into the abyss she dug, but we would have been empty-handed, while now we hold security, and we are powerful enough not to have let go."

The French premier reminded his hearers that France had been disappointed in promises of guarantees of protection from her allies in the war and reasserted his position that France's present methods are legal under the Versailles treaty. He laid stress on his and the government's hope that close relations with Great Britain will be continued and recalled that he was one of those who helped bring about the alliance between Great Britain and France.

RECOVERS HER SIGHT

FISKDALE, July 16.—One of the greatest pilgrimages yet held in honor of St. Anne, one rivalling the famous ceremony held at Beaupre, Quebec, occurred in this little hillside town yesterday when more than 5000 men, women and children climbed the steep, grassy slope to the tiny out-door shrine dedicated to the mother of the Virgin Mary.

The climax to this remarkable spectacle came late in the afternoon when it was announced that one of the pilgrims had been restored to sight after nine months' of blindness that had been diagnosed as chronic by specialists.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Corset, 65 years old, who lives at Prospect Park in Springfield, and is mother of 15 children, was the woman who said her eyesight had been restored.

"Six weeks ago I commenced a series of novenas to Saint Anne," Mrs. Corset told a reporter as she emerged from the little chapel here. "I was stone blind for nine months. My heart was bad. The doctors all gave me up. I had faith in Saint Anne. I prayed to her and made the journey here from my home and prayed all the time. I felt the good saint would hear.

"After my first journey here a heart affliction disappeared. Then my eyes began to improve and after yesterday's service my poor, weak old eyes began to see. I can see clearly as when I was a girl and without glasses. I owe it all to St. Anne. I will dedicate my whole life to her in the future."

Many Cures Reported

A score of other remarkable cures and improvements have been reported thus far this season, according to the Rev. Father Joseph M. Marceau, pastor of the church here.

From all sections of New England and New York state and from as far west as Ohio, the pilgrims came for yesterday's service. The blind, the halt and lame participated in the ascent to the tiny shrine hidden in a clump of fir trees at the summit of a mount that sets directly back of the village center of Fiskdale. The climb to the shrine represents Christ's last journey to the cross of Calvary's mount.

Heading this impressive march was the pastor of the church followed by surpliced and cassocked altar boys carrying beneath a canopy of gold and silk covering a marble statue of St. Anne carrying the Virgin Mary as a child in her arms. Following these came a long line of uniformed Boy Scouts of America from St. Joachim parish, Chicopee Falls.

In this procession were men and women and little children of many races and creeds. Some were men and women who had travelled miles for yesterday's service on stretchers. They were carried up the steep green slope by uniformed men, St. Jean the Baptiste guard, connected with the parish.

Elderly men and women were pushed up the ascent on wheel chairs by eager relatives and blue coated guards, the most touching sight being the long thin line of little ones in carriages and stretchers and in arms of parents as they toiled their way over the hill—tiny victims of infantile paralysis with little wide eyes blazing with the fervor of faith in the saint.

Along a pathway on the edge of the hillside a choir of a hundred mixed voices chanted hymns and meanwhile Father Superior Deydier, head of Assumption college, Worcester, lead the audience in prayer.

Arrived at the summit, Father Gagnon of Chicopee directed the singing of his choir from a band stand opposite the shrine. Then Father Deydier opened the services in French while the pilgrims fell to their knees on the ground and facing the shrine the supplicants repeated the Litany of the Blessed Virgin and the Litany of St. Anne. The ceremony was repeated in English.

It was after the descent and during vespers in the chapel below that Mrs. Corset made the announcement of the return of her sight. During the benediction the afflicted who made a novenna to the saint had places nearest the altar rail. The church was filled to capacity and thousands knelt outside.

PRES. HARDING PLAYS ROLE OF ENGINEER

TALKEMTNA, Alaska, July 16 —(By the Associated Press).—President Harding, as head of the government, drove one of his own locomotives today over his own railroad. He and Mrs. Harding has as much fun as two youngsters on their first train trip.

When the train arrived at Wasilla on the Alaska railway, Mr. and Mrs. Harding went up to the engine and climbed into the cab. The chief executive, after brief instructions, took the throttle and drove to Willow. He was in charge of the engine for 26 miles, which was traveled in 51 minutes. Mrs. Harding occupied the fireman's side of the cab.

The engineman said that Mr. Harding was a good engineer but the dining car steward disagreed. This fireman pointed out that in stopping the train the pilot had jerked the cars so severely that 11 cups were broken in the diner.

While the engine took water the president visited with some section men at work nearby. He helped them paint a new bunkhouse, wielding the brush vigorously.

The Hardings, while going to Fairbanks the northern terminus of the railway from Steward, its southern end, have been spending much of their time in a speeder. This is an automobile with flanged steel wheels fitting the rails. Traveling in this behind the train is much better than staying in the presidential private car, Mrs. Harding assured members of the party.

Statistics show that the favorite marriage age is 24 for men and 21 for women in England.

AUSTRIAN ROYAL PLATE TO GO ON SALE

VIENNA, July 16.—What is probably the rarest and most valuable collection of silver plate in Europe, the famous silver treasure of the Cumberland family, is reported to be coming into the market. It was kept in the Cumberland royal villa at Penzig, just outside Vienna, until the death of the old King of Hanover in 1878. Afterwards it was removed to the Cumberland country seat at Gmunden in Salzkammergut.

The collection includes priceless specimens of the work of the first silversmiths in England, France, Augsburg, Hanover and Aschabruck, during the three centuries between 1560 and 1850. The only other collection which approaches it in extent and completeness is that in Windsor castle.

The total weight of the Gmunden treasure is about 130,000 ounces and its value in Austrian crowns must amount to several hundred milliards. But it is understood that the purchaser, or purchasers, will have to pay in some foreign money of normal exchange, and not in depreciated Austrian crowns.

SAVING IN COST OF MAKING ELECTRICITY

(The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The United States is becoming an increasingly heavier user of electricity, but despite the mounting power totals, the consumption of fuel to produce it is decreasing in proportion. Geological survey figures show that the consumption of coal for that purpose in 1922 was only 2.5 pounds a kilowatt hour, as compared with 3.2 pounds in 1919.

A total of 47,659,000,000 kilowatt hours was generated last year. Of this amount 36.1 per cent. was generated by water power. New York leads the list of states in production, manufacturing 16.87 per cent. of the total for the country. Other states in order are Pennsylvania, California, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Massachusetts and West Virginia.

TO SORT MAIL IN SPEEDING AIRPLANE

LONDON, July 16.—A "flying mail train" is the latest type of airplane to be developed in England.

In the plane's mail-chamber, says the Daily Chronicle's aeronautical expert, sorters will be able to carry on their work just as they might in a railway mail-train. It will have a radius of 2000 miles and will be able to stay in the air 21 hours without alighting. The crew in charge will be provided with regular sleeping quarters on board. They will, in fact, work in shifts while in the air, some of them sleeping while others are on duty in the control chamber.

If necessary, when flying at night or immersed in fog or cloud, the crew will be able to bring into play mechanisms which will endow the craft with the power of automatic self-balance. The machine will virtually fly itself, and all the helmsman will have to do will be to keep it on a compass course by means of the rudder.

Baldwin to Communicate With U. S.

LONDON, July 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Prime Minister Baldwin announced in the house of commons today that he would communicate to the United States for its information the draft of the reply he was preparing to the German reparation note. Mr. Baldwin's statement was made to J. Ramsay MacDonald, the leader of the labor opposition, in reply to the latter's question. In reply to Commander Joseph Kenworthy another questioner, the prime minister said the recent German note on reparations was addressed to the United States as well as to the British and allied governments, but that no recent conversations had occurred between representatives of the British and United States governments in regard to reparations or the present European situation.

Third Generation is Using Syrup Pepsin

No other Laxative can replace Dr. Caldwell's in the confidence of those who use it

THERE are thousands of healthy, robust young men and women who have never in all their lives taken any other laxative for constipation than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Their parents were given it by their parents; the grandparents are using it today. It is the one laxative ideally suited to all the family, safe for the little ones, effective in grownups, so compounded that elderly people, who are constantly forced to take a laxative because the intestinal muscles are weakening, find increased dosage unnecessary. This wonderful constipation remedy has been used continuously for 30 years, and over 10 million bottles are now sold annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world! The cost averages but a cent a dose. Every druggist sells it, and under a guarantee to do as claimed or your money will be refunded.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

Mr. J. B. Belk of Shaw, Miss., relies on it entirely to keep his children in health, and Mrs. Catherine Connolly of Jersey City, N. J., declares that not only herself but all her neighbors and friends use it and tell others about it. There is scarcely a day that someone in a family does not need it for constipation, flatulency, auto-intoxication, biliousness, intestinal poisoning, headaches, colic and cramps, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. The formula is on the package. As the popularity of this natural vegetable laxative increases, the public discards the harsher physics like calomel, coal-tar in candy form, salt waters and powders. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin empties the bowels more cleanly and without any danger.

SYDNEY, N. S. July 16.—The tension in the steel and coal strike area was increased today when the authorities reported that a rail had been removed on the Sydney and Louisburg railway shortly before the passage of an express and that a boy had been arrested while jamming a switch with a piece of iron, at a spot nearby. The tampering was discovered in time to prevent an accident.

The rail was removed near Dominion mine No. 1 during the night and replaced just before the Sydney to Louisburg express came along.

WRESTLING MATCH ENDS IN DISTRICT COURT

Anthony Zyrkowski went to visit his brother in Dracut over the week-end and between drinks on Sunday they got into a debate over their comparative strength. The two started to wrestle and the rumpus was so great that the police were summoned and brought Anthony back to the Lowell police station.

Anthony's brother told the court that Anthony got boisterous and they were forced to call in the police. But Anthony, with a perpetual grin and a bad cut on his head, said it was all fooling.

And then everyone in the court room wondered what might have happened had they been in earnest.

Anthony's case was filed upon payment of costs, with the understanding that he keep away from his brother's house. The costs amounted to one dollar, but Anthony was broke, and his brother settled.

Several suspended sentences were imposed today by Judge Enright.

George Gallanes was given a suspended sentence of two months for drunkenness.

Daniel J. O'Leary, making his third appearance within a year, was similarly treated, as was also James C. Buotte, before the court for the fourth time within a year.

Joseph Hall was given a like sentence.

A suspended sentence was ordered carried out against John F. Sheely and he will be committed to the state farm.

Bernard F. Meehan, who got drunk Saturday night and began to amuse himself by throwing pails of water out his window at people passing, his house was fined $15. He was given a week to pay.

Aleck Cherlonka was sentenced to two months, but execution was suspended.

It was charged that he was so drunk Saturday that he drove his wife and children out of the house.

John A. Berlin was charged with assault upon Camille McCartin, by whom he was employed as a baker in Billerica. Mrs. McCartin said that Berlin was a good worker when sober, but that he got drunk Saturday and started to abuse her. As she was alone in the store with him she was forced to cry for help.

Berlin said he did not remember anything about the occurrence. He agreed to leave Billerica if given a chance, and the court imposed a suspended sentence of four months.

Edward Demaris pleaded guilty to operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and a fine of $100 was imposed. The drunkenness complaint was filed.

Wilfred McIlver was charged with drunkenness. The court was informed that the defendant had acted unseemly in a camp at an early hour Sunday morning. The case was continued for further investigation and McIlvert was ordered to furnish surety in the sum of $500.

NO BARRIER TO KING CUPID'S ARROW

Far be it from Judge Enright to deflect the course of the arrow from cupid's bow.

This morning the judge continued the cases of Arthur J. Smith and John H. Burke until July 23, at Burke's request, as he said he was to be married on July 22, and he didn't want to be bothered with a second court procedure. Apparently one court was sufficient.

Smith was charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and Burke was charged with drunkenness.

FEW PASSENGERS ON BALTIC TO BE ADMITTED

NEW YORK, July 16.—Of 524 passengers from Great Britain on the Baltic, which arrived today from Liverpool, only 42 first cabin passengers will be admitted to the United States. The remainder will probably be deported as the maximum July quota for Great Britain has been exhausted.

Thirty-five of the British quota surplus, already are on the island. The arrival of the Olympic and Aquitania this week is expected to push the number above 1600.

A report gained currency that the immigrants on the Baltic in excess of the month's quota, would be admitted and charged against the August quota.

IN MEMORIAM

Though your death was sad, dear,
And you bore your pain so brave,
We have been so sad and lonely
Since they laid you in your grave.
A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is still,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
Yet again we hope to meet you
When the days of life are fled,
And in heaven with joy to greet you
Where no farewell tears are shed.
Friends may think we have forgotten
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the sorrow
That smile hides all the while.

Big Storehouse Collapses At Orange, Mass.

ORANGE, July 16.—The three-story building owned by the New Home Sewing Machine company and located at the rear of the Boston & Maine freight office collapsed between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Tapioca flour valued at $7,000, which was stored there by the Minute Tapioca company, was damaged. Workmen succeeded in covering the stock with canvas and preventing its total loss.

The noise of the collapse was similar to that of an explosion and startled people in the immediate vicinity.

The collapse was caused by overloading the building, there being 500 or more sacks of flour there. The estimated weight of this was between 250 and 300 tons.

The building, a wooden structure, had been used in years past as a storeroom for sewing machine cabinets by the New Home company. The Minute Tapioca company had leased it the past year for storage purposes.

The building is a total loss, timbers and wreckage being strewn for some distance. The estimated loss on the building is $20,000.

GIRLS HAVE ENJOYED CITY HEALTH CAMP

This is the second and last week for little girls at the city health camp being conducted under the auspices of the board of health. Dr. F. A. Flanagan, who is in charge of the camp, stated today that he is satisfied with the results achieved at the camp and said the daily attendance, which averaged 55 last week, was very gratifying to those in charge. The nurses assigned to look after the welfare of the children this week are as follows: Miss Grace Carroll, in charge, assisted by Misses Margaret Crain, Alice Gorman and Josephine Leclaire.

The girls will leave camp next Saturday noon and Monday morning the boys will take charge. Already 45 of them have reported to take in the two weeks of open air life, which is being offered them without charge and it is hoped this number will be increased before the latter part of this week. The boys' schedule will be the same as that for the girls, that is they will be conveyed to the camp in electric cars every morning and during the day will be put through health drills and given talks on hygiene.

MARY PHILBIN

BY JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, July 16.—In the past three years there have been six great performances on the screen by feminine players. Memory over a longer period is not to be trusted by one who sees hundreds of thousands of feet of film in a year.

Those six great performances are Lillian Gish in "Orphans of the Storm," Pola Negri in "Passion," Elsie Ferguson in "Outcast," Pauline Starke in "Salvation Nell," pauline Frederick in "Madame X" and Mary Philbin in "Merry Go Round."

The first five named gained their triumphs after considerable experience before the camera. Mary Philbin flashes like a meteor to her place in the constellation of screen stars.

"Who is Mary Philbin?" is the question being asked on Broadway today where "Merry Go Round" is being shown. That's the situation that Jack Jungmeyer predicted when he previewed the film at Hollywood.

Mary Philbin, winner of a beauty contest two years ago in Chicago and not yet 20 years old, is potentially the greatest feminine star of the screen today. Here is the greater glory because she is beautiful. Few beautiful women have acting talent, even though they do gain stardom because of their beauty.

Jungmeyer in his preview of "Merry Go Round" said that one could not tell where Von Stroheim had quit directing and Rupert Julian had begun. That is so, but Stroheim technique is stamped all over the picture. Beyond a doubt it was Stroheim's idea that Norman Kerry, the hero, should have his hair clipped as close as a convict's. That was his own effect in "Foolish Wives."

George Hackathorne does a great bit of character acting in "Merry Go Round" as a self-abnegating hunchback. He is doubling on Broadway, being a drug addict in Mrs. Wallace Reid's "Human Wreckage." These two roles place him in the foremost rank of screen character actors.

Saw John Charles Thomas enacting scenes in "Under the Red Robe," his first venture in movies. With three rhs meeting from recent fractures, he led one mounted chase after another, reining up his horse in a space of ten feet in the crowded Cosmopolitan studio lot. He was in the saddle the greater part of the day, displaying more physical stamina than one would expect from a singer. . . Saw Bill Powell in the same picture. Had never ridden a horse before, but said he at no time had to stand up to eat his meals and from now on he intends to take up mounted sports. . . Saw Alan Crosland, the director, handling mass scenes of "Under the Red Robe" without raising his voice above conversational tone. . . Saw Gloria Swanson, Lucille LaVerne, H. B. Warner and Ferdinand Gottschalk enacting scenes for "Zaza," under the direction of Alan Dwan. . . In an adjoining set at the Paramount studio Sam Wood directing James Kennis, Hale Hamilton, George Fawcett, Mary Eaton and Dorothy Mackaill in the film version of Arthur Train's "His Children's Children." They were going right along with the picture, although an actress to play the leading role of Diana has not yet been selected. . . . Saw Ralph Ince directing Tom Meighan, Lila Lee, Chas. Abbey and William P. Carleton in interior scenes of "Homeward Bound," a sea picture. Exteriors were taken during a storm and so rain and wind machines played a torrent against the windows of the interior cabin sets. Thus when the picture is completed there will be the illusion of the entire action actually taking place in the open. . . . Saw Cyril Ring, Tom Meighan's brother-in-law, making his film debut in "Homeward Bound." . . . Saw Seena Owen and E. H. Griffith, the director, recently back from Banff where "Unseeing Eyes" was filmed. Miss Owen tells me she is the first woman to cross the Canadian Rockies in an airplane and during the weeks they were on snow location she was the only white woman . . . She said an Indian girl having the only other feminine role in the picture. She and Lloyd Barrymore were lodged in a cozy shack in which all the conveniences were provided. . . . Saw "Doll Alley," a Christie comedy, with Jimmie Adams in the leading role. First comedy that I can call to mind in which all the principal characters were in blackface. A race between Mississippi steamboats is featured. Big Stuff for a two-reel comedy.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

THE STRAND

"What a Wife Learned," a highly dramatic picturization that will have a strong appeal to all ages and classes, is being presented at The Strand during the first part of the week. If you want to see and enjoy a reflection of present-day life, don't miss this special production. "Slippy McGee," an adaptation from the famous stage success, is the second feature, and this also should give genuine satisfaction. The remainder of the bill will have a good comedy, an interesting Weekly and musical numbers by Al Forest and Lea Petoncourt. Don't forget that Strand comfort is to be had here—and that means much.

MERRIMACK SQUARE

Elliott Dexter, George Fawcett and May McAvoy have the leading roles in "Only 38," one of the most entertaining comedy dramas of modern life ever filmed. It's the leading feature of the current program at the Merrimack Square theatre. Clara Kimball Young in "The Woman of Bronze" is the other underlined attraction. The Merrimack Square is cool and the most comfortable theatre in town.

RIALTO THEATRE

"The Danger Point," which opens a three-day run at the Rialto theatre today has in the cast many well known stars. Carmel Myers has the leading feminine role, while William P. Carleton, Vernon Steele and Joseph Dowling has important roles.

"The Danger Point" tells the story of a powerful man, James Benton, the founder of Benton city, a prosperous oil center. Benton carries a girl from the city and brings her to Benton to live. The young girl cannot accustom herself to the rough and ready ways of the oil town, and her husband, always busy, innocently neglects her. Of course, she bitterly resents it and decides to leave him.

From there on, the story really commences. There is a very realistic train wreck that changes the lives of everybody in the drama. You will like "The Danger Point," for it is just the sort of picture that appeals to everybody.

Bryant Washburn in "A Full House," is the second feature and it is said to contain laughs aplenty. Washburn as usual manages to get himself into a lot of trouble and has a pretty hard time explaining matters.

Jack Hoxie, famous western star, is also on the program in the first episode of "Thunderbolt Jack," a new serial and a Mack Sennett comedy, and Burton Holmes Travelogue are also included in the program.

EAGLES SPEND SUNDAY AT REVERE BEACH

Revere beach again took on a familiar aspect yesterday when more than 1000 members of the Lowell aerie, 233, Fraternal Order of Eagles, held their annual outing there. As a yearly event, it proved to be even more successful than previous outings.

Fourteen open electric cars, several trucks, and a great many automobiles were used in transporting the crowd to the beach, the start being made at 9.30 o'clock.

There was no set program for the day. The members of the party split up into small groups upon arrival at the beach and spent the day at the amusements along the boulevard. Several brought their own luncheons, but the majority had dinner at the hotels at the beach. Bathing and other outdoor sports were enjoyed during the afternoon, and it was a tired but happy crowd that returned to Lowell late last night.

CANVASES HANGING AT THE WHISTLER HOUSE

The Whistler house in Worthen street has opened a second annual summer exhibition of canvases by painters of Lowell and vicinity. The invitation this year was extended only to those who make a profession of painting. The exhibition will continue through to Sept. 15 with free admission.

The local painters are represented by Joseph A. Nesmith, who contributes four of his White Mountain landscapes, and Mary Earl Wood, who shows a figure study of a young girl, a large landscape, "Mountain Lake in November," and two outdoor sketches. Other sketches are expected and will be on exhibition at a later date.

W. Harry Smith of Billerica has contributed four very pleasing water colors. A view of Beacon street, Boston, on a parade day; "The New Bridge, Billerica," "Apple Blossoms, Concord River," and "The Blue Wagon."

H. Winthrop Pierce, of Andover, has a souvenir of his residence some years ago in Mexico, "The Road to Orizaba," a delightful work, "Milking," and other colorful pieces, some touched with fancy.

The exhibition committee of the art association has secured from Concord, four northland water colors lately exhibited by Charles Hovey Pepper in Boston and a delicate and exquisite "Figures on the Sand" by Elizabeth Wentworth Roberts.

60-FOOT CAMERA TO PHOTOGRAPH ECLIPSE

TUCSON, Ariz., July 16.—Immense telescopic cameras 40 and 60 feet long, gigantic reflectors and a number of smaller instruments will be moved into Mexico for the purpose of photographing the sun during its total eclipse next September, according to plans announced here by Dr. A. E. Douglas of the University of Arizona.

Dr. Douglas will head an expedition while a second will be conducted by Professor W. A. Cogshall of the University of Indiana.

The Douglas expedition will take with it a 40-foot focus camera which will reproduce the sun with a five-inch diameter. An even larger camera with a sixty-foot focus will be taken by the Cogshall expedition.

These cameras will be held in position by means of specially constructed towers.

San Felipa, 141 miles south of the international boundary, has been selected as the site of the Cogshall expedition's observations. Dr. Douglas has not definitely selected his location.

SYDNEY, Australia, July 16.—Two Irish republicans, Father Michael O'Flanagan and John J. (Sean) McKelly, arrested here in April on charges of engaging in seditious activities, were removed from jail today and escorted aboard the steamer Mongolia shortly before it sailed.

Ten days ago they were offered their release on provision that they agree not to address public meetings and later declined another offer to leave the country voluntarily.

GIRL CHUMS MARRIED TO THE SAME MAN

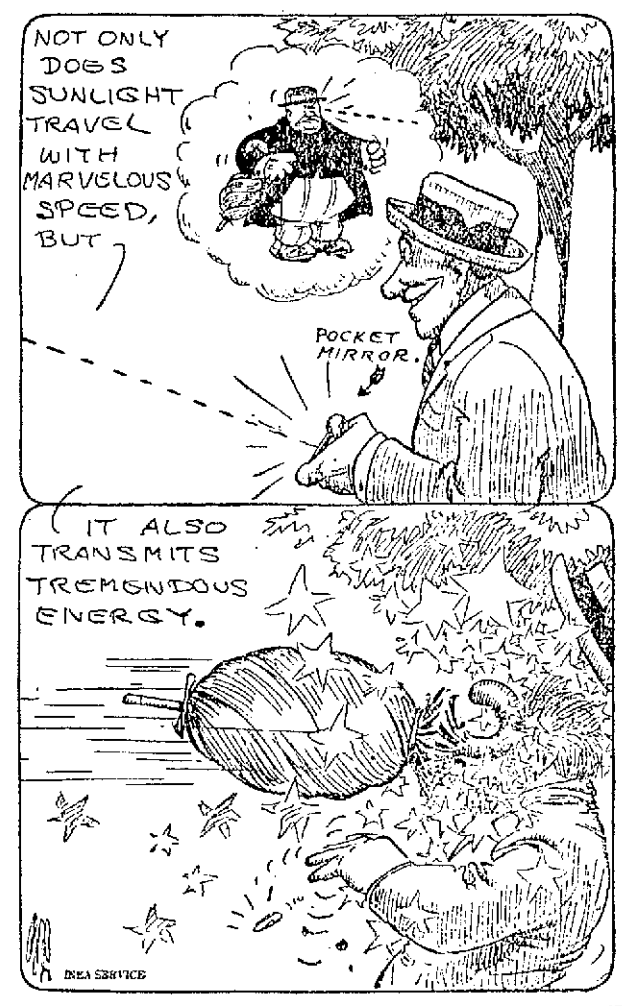

NORRISTOWN, Penn., July 16—Two Norristown girls, who attended the same Sunday school and lived on the same street, had the same man for a husband, but did not know it, according to proceedings brought by wife No. 2, who seeks to have her marriage declared null and void.

The girls were Virginia E. Young and Elizabeth Given. The man in the case is Joseph Rupp Smith, a student at the University of Delaware, Newark, who lived with his mother in Kennett Square, in Chester County, Penn. At the time of his marriage, Smith resided in Conshohocken.

The complaint, the girl, who is now with her mother, Rebecca G. Young, 818 George street, makes in her action to annul her marriage, is that she and Smith were married on Aug. 28, in Elkton, Md., by the Rev. D. F. Lockerbie. At that time, although unknown to her, he had a lawful wife living. His marriage to Miss Given took place on May 9, 1917, and the ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Thomas H. Evans, then pastor of Haws Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Norristown.

Smith is now in Montgomery county jail. He was brought here from Kennett Square Saturday night and had a hearing before Magistrate Kelly, who lived with his mother in here in Norristown, today.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE FOR MUSSOLINI

ROME, July 16. (By the Associated Press.)—Amid scenes rarely enacted in any chamber Premier Mussolini last night won a vote of confidence from the chamber of deputies with a margin of 163 votes on his electoral reform bill.

Before the vote was taken Mussolini harangued the deputies in his accustomed style. His fiery address was punctuated with outbursts of applause, both from the bench and the galleries that swept his auditors into song and those inside into a riot and those who waited outside into wild demonstrations.

The vote was 303 to 140, seven not voting, an enormous majority considering the strenuous attempts against the reform made by the socialists and communists, and some others, who thought this a good opportunity to break the premier's power.

HANGED HIMSELF IN DRACUT GARAGE

Early Saturday morning, John J. Sullivan of 201 Middlesex street, committed suicide by hanging from a rope attached to a Ford automobile in Cunningham's garage in Parker avenue, Dracut. The body was discovered by the owner of the garage later in the day, and the Lowell and Dracut police notified.

Officer Nolan of the Dracut police investigated and found that a previous attempt at strangulation had been made, evidence to this effect being found in a belt attached to a nail in the wall. An improvised noose had been constructed with the aid of a belt.

Sullivan came to Lowell about eight years ago from Hillsboro, N. H. For the past few years he had conducted a battery service station in Middlesex street. On his person was found a sealed letter addressed to his brother, Humphrey Sullivan, 64 Saratoga street, Hillsboro. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

WOODSMAN LOST LIFE IN N. H., FOREST FIRE

BEEBE RIVER, N. H., July 16.—The head bookkeeper for the Woodstock Lumber Co., stated this morning that a complete check-up of men who entered the woods to fight the forest fire which on Friday and Saturday burned over 6000 acres, left one casualty that could be confirmed. That was the death of a woodsman whose heart failed as he was running from a trap in which the flames caught him.

"To my knowledge all are accounted for," he said.

Rain which started last night, the first since June 7, has drowned forest fires in the state.

TAMMANY BLAMED BY DRY LEADER

HUNTINGTON, N. Y., July 16.—Repeating the charge that politics were back of the second grand jury investigation into his affairs, William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, declared last night that Tammany politicians had abandoned hope of convicting him, even should an indictment be returned. He charged, however, that they still were striving to obtain an indictment in the belief that it would destroy his influence. Mr. Anderson spoke at the regular Sunday night services at the Methodist Episcopal church.

"I had a representative last winter, unknown to the wets," he said, "who circulated among Tammany politicians who knew all the inside dope. They all admitted that they had nothing on me, many of them admitting it with curses and lamentations and the expression of desire that I be 'railroaded' in any event."

Mr Anderson concluded his address last night by declaring he had proved "to the satisfaction of every fair-minded person the deals that have been pulled off between Tammany and certain republican leaders to betray law enforcement republicans and elect Tammany wets."

FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY SAVED FROM DEATH

Through the heroism of Harry O'Hare and John Sheehan, two young men residing in the vicinity of Lawrence street, Ollie Richardson, aged 5 years, of 21 Watson street, was saved from drowning in the Wamesit canal yesterday noon.

As far as could be learned the boy fell into the water while playing on the banks of the canal at a point near the plant of the U. S. Cartridge Co. Attracted by his cries for help O'Hare and Sheehan rushed to aid him and without even taking time to divest themselves of their clothes, dived into the water and brought the unconscious form of the lad to shore.

While the rescue was going on a hurried call was sent to the police station and Inspector Walsh and Officers Liston and Spillane were rushed to the scene with the pulmotor, but the apparatus was not needed as O'Hare and Sheehan had rendered first aid and revived the lad, who was later taken to his home in the ambulance. O'Hare and Sheehan were warmly congratulated for their heroic act.

COUPLE ARRESTED BY NARCOTIC AGENT

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 16.—Federal agents here today were unable to corroborate the story of Walter E. Brown of Boston, arrested in Albany last night, charged with possessing narcotics, that he was a salesman from the M. D. H. Prodigis Co., of Buffalo. The agents reported they had found no such firm in the city.

Brown, with a woman claiming to be his wife, was arrested in an Albany hotel when a federal narcotic agent, who occupied an adjoining room, scented opium fumes. Opium and drugs valued at $1000 were seized in the room, together with a large amount of cash and valuable securities.

BROKER ENDS LIFE ON EVE OF INQUIRY

NEW YORK, July 16—Magistrate Oberwager today made the final entry "dismissed" on the record of an investigation of the charge that Smith Weigand, broker, had been responsible for the loss by "Little Joe" Jacobs, waiter, of his life savings of $60,000. Weigand committed suicide at Milford, Conn., yesterday, on the eve of resumption of the inquiry.

"Little Joe" appeared before the magistrate several weeks ago asking summonses for Weigand and Langley & Co., brokers. He told the court that by working 17 hours a day, seven days a week for 18 years, he had amassed $60,000. Weigand, one of his most liberal patrons, he said, had tipped lavishly and otherwise made himself "a good fellow" until, gaining the waiter's confidence, he had induced him to turn over the savings for investments in stocks.

Recently, finding his health failing, "Little Joe" decided to retire and asked Weigand for his money. Weigand, he said, told him it had been lost in the market.

Philip Wittenberg, Weigand's lawyer, declared today that Weigand had been blameless in the transaction. Jacobs, he said, had insisted, against Weigand's advice, on speculating.

LEGION URGES REMOVAL OF COLLEGE HEAD

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 16.—The executive committee of the American legion, Department of Oklahoma, yesterday voted to make formal demand upon Governor Walton for the removal of George Wilson from the presidency of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanic college.

On the eve of his appointment the American Legion charged that he was "unfit to hold a position of public trust." The legion has investigated a statement he was alleged to have made more than a year ago, in which he was quoted as saying said:

"I never see an American Legion button but I want to shoot a hole through it."

Wilson denied the statement.

Attempted to Serve Subpoenas on Mrs. W. S. Ward, Her Mother and Maid

WASHINGTON, July 16—The U. S. Department of Labor through the Bureau of Labor statistics here presents preliminary figures concerning the volume of employment in June, 1923, from 6441 representative establishments in 50 manufacturing industries, covering 2,251,595 employes, whose total earnings during one week amounted to $60,066,467.

Identical establishments in May reported 2,251,087 employes and total payrolls of $60,409,187. Therefore in June as shown from these unweighted figures for 50 industries combined, there was an increase over May of less than one-tenth of one per cent. in the number of employes, a decrease of 0.6 per cent. in the total amount paid in wages, and a like decrease in the average weekly earnings.

Comparing June with May 21 of the 50 industries show increases in employment and 23 increases in pay roll totals. The greatest increases in both occurred in the structural ironwork, confectionery and ice cream baking, and sawmill industries, with slaughtering and meat packing joining the group as to pay roll totals.

The general increase in rates of wages was continued, in a lesser degree, during the month ending June 15, 472 establishments reporting an average increase of 10.7 per cent., affecting 17,723 employes, or 31.8 per cent. of all employes in these establishments and 3.5 per cent. of all employes covered. Approximately 3000 establishments have reported increased wage rates during the last four months.

Twenty-three industries show increased per capita earnings in June, as compared with 36 out of 47 industries in May.

Comparing June, 1923, with June, 1922, all but two industries out of 12, men's clothing, and cigars and cigarets, show increased employment, while all show increased pay roll totals. Woolen goods, car building and repairing, automobiles, and silk goods show the greatest gains in employment.

A combined total of reports from the 50 industries shows that 83 per cent. of the 4518 establishments reporting as to operation were on a full-time basis, 16 per cent. on a part time basis, and one per cent. were shut down. This is a slight decrease over May. Men's clothing, sawmills, pottery, steel shipbuilding, and sugar refining have gained most in operating time.

Reports of the Interstate Commerce commission show an increase on April 15, 1923, in all employes on Class 1 railroads, excluding executives and officials, of 1.5 per cent. as compared with March 15, 1923, and an increase of 18.5 per cent. as compared with April 15, 1922. There was a decrease in the monthly pay roll total in April, 1923, of 3.9 per cent. as compared with March, 1923, but an increase of 21.3 per cent. as compared with April, 1922.

TO AID WAR VETERANS

Legislative Program to Be Pressed Upon Congress by Disabled Veterans

WASHINGTON, July 16.—A legislative program calling for adjusted compensation for World war veterans and affecting their rehabilitation, hospital care and insurance will be pressed upon congress when it convenes in December by the disabled American Veterans of the World war. The program, based on recommendations adopted by the third annual convention of the organization held recently at Minneapolis, was announced here today.

The proposals provide a rating of total permanent disability for veterans who have been given hospital care for 12 consecutive months, and that all veterans so rated and those being treated at home shall receive the same family allowance as given veterans' bureau trainees. An effort will also be made to have all veterans recommended for permanent total disability rating carried on this roll temporarily pending final award. Total disability rating will be sought for men entitled to training which has been found not to be feasible and a rating of 50 per cent permanent disability will be asked for men discharged from hospitals with diagnoses of arrested or quiescent tuberculosis.

Amendment of the civil service laws will be proposed to place disabled veterans who attain a passing grade in an examination at the head of the eligible list.

Hospital treatment for all veterans regardless of the origin of their disability is urged together with extension of the three year period of presumption for tubercular and neuropsychiatric disabilities.

Removal of the time limit on applications for compensation and permission for any applicant to appear before the rating board in person at government expense are asked and the same privilege of reinstating war risk insurance is sought for veterans disabled in the service as enjoyed by those not disabled. Retirement of disabled emergency officers on the same basis as regular army officers also is advocated.

Among other proposals is one for establishment of a committee on veterans' affairs in the house of representatives and another for codification of all veterans' laws.

PHILIPPINE OFFICIALS TO QUIT POSTS

MANILA, P. I., July 16.—(By the Associated Press) Political differences in the Philippines, reopened yesterday with the resignation of secretary of the interior J. P. Laurel, was of wider today when, according to reports in official circles, all other departmental secretaries, except Vice Governor General Gilmore, notified Governor General Leonard Wood of their intention to quit.

M'ADOO TO CONFER WITH COUNSEL FOR MORSE

WASHINGTON, July 16.—William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, was expected to confer today with counsel for Charles W. Morse, his sons and co-defendants in their trial here on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government which entered its 11th week on the convening of court.

Mr. McAdoo, who was subpoenaed as a witness by defense counsel to testify as to his knowledge of the affairs of the Virginia Shipbuilding corporation, a Morse concern, for which his law firm served as legal counsel, probably will take the stand tomorrow or Wednesday.

There was some probability also of a decision today as to service of the subpoena obtained by defense counsel for the appearance as a witness of Woodrow Wilson. Counsel have indicated they would be guided entirely by the opinion of Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the former president's physician as to whether his physical condition made his appearance in court advisable and would not insist on his attendance.

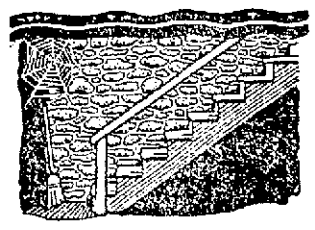

The defense also will introduce in evidence this week the deposition of John Barton Payne, former chairman of the shipping board, taken before his departure for Mexico City as one of the American commissioners now in negotiation with the Mexican government. In his deposition, as made public prior to being read to the jury, Mr. Payne declares, in reply to a question of defense counsel, that during his chairmanship of the shipping board he never was able to ascertain how the government's account stood with the Virginia shipbuilding corporation.

POLITICAL FIGHT IN PHILIPPINES

MANILA, July 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The political fight in the Philippines was opened anew here today when J. P. Laurel, secretary of the interior, resigned after he had instituted charges of bribery against Ray Conley, United States secret service officer.

Governor Wood has refused to accept Laurel's resignation, pending a conference. The resignation of the mayor of Manila will follow, according to reports in political circles here today.

LANGUAGE AND THE FILM

For some time past there has been considerable discussion in the newspapers and magazines regarding the necessity of an American language, and Esperanto has been proposed by some as a particular thing we need. Another kindred subject that has been discussed very widely is the possibility of instruction through movie films where language was formerly the only medium available.

In reference to these matters Dr. Henry Van Dyke recently told at a conference of British and American professors of English, that any attempt to establish a new American language would be a joke. He said "the proposal to make a new American language to fit our enormous country may be regarded either as a specimen of American humor or as a serious enormity." In this a majority of those who have had any practical experience in such matters, will agree fully with Dr. Van Dyke. "The natural style of the persons who bravely make the proposal, gives rise to practical dreams of the kind of new language which they would probably make if they were let loose upon the job," says Dr. Van Dyke. That such would be the case may easily be assumed from the grotesque failure of most people to use the English correctly. The invention of a language is no easy matter. There is no certainty as to who invented any particular language, but the assumption is logical that it grew slowly and naturally as a tree in the forest. Whether it will serve the best purpose of its originators depends upon the faithfulness and accuracy with which its principles are applied and developed.

The people of the United States are accused of having a contempt for accuracy of speech; and there is already apparent decay of conversation and the study and practice of oratory which is succeeded by what Dr. Van Dyke aptly designates the flimsy speech and abominable racket of modern life. "Really unintelligible, syncopated speech is like a dirty face. America may be the chief offender; but if my memory does not fail me, I have this year in Lunnon heard some folks talk who were hard to understand and whose voices were perceptibly nasal, quite as much so as the voices of 'Noo Yawk.'"

Before attempting to invent a new language it would be well to make the best use of that which we already have—a language capable of perhaps as fine and exact an expression of ideas as any other in the world. Naturally the professors of English offer the bitterest opposition to the influence of the movie as an educator, and they still place their faith in the soundness and delight of good books printed in correct English.

The movie is in no sense an educator except in the sense that it presents in a pictorial way, ideas that could not possibly be as well conveyed in language. It is impossible to describe a man's countenance and the expression of his face in terms of language, so that he can be easily recognized if met on the public streets. The picture alone can do this and in this respect it has its special field and it does not make any pretense of taking the place of language as an educator. Those who would attempt to make it a substitute for language would fail hopelessly although we do not agree with Dr. Van Dyke that the movie film has not a distinct place entirely its own as a medium of education. It is descriptive and graphic and thus presents pictures which make a lasting impression upon the mind and in this way certain forms of instruction can be conveyed by the film much better than in any other way. It is absurd to institute any comparison between the film and the application of language to the general communication of ideas.

TEXTILE MILL ACTIVITIES

Installation of new machinery, enlargement of working room and new power facilities increasing service in various New England cotton textile mills, are noted in a current industrial report of mid-summer advancements in the physical conditions of well known cloth production plants here and there. Lowell mills are regularly spending large sums of money from surplus accounts for the installation of new looms and other necessary machinery. The Jacquard loom is more popular than ever in many textile centers, and Lowell mill operators have taken a decided fancy for them, as is the case down south where competition stands as we.

Notable improvements for increasing and conserving the great water power privileges of the Amoskeag Manufacturing company in Manchester, are also just noted. Three feet of the stone foundation of the old Amoskeag falls dam are to be removed, this work resulting in increasing the height of the water in the pond above the new hydro station. Every added foot in the pond is equivalent to 28,000,000 cubic feet of water and 3,500 horse-power for eight hours in operating Amoskeag mills, or 2,500 horse-power for nine hours.

The removal of this dam at Manchester has called attention to its wonderful structure that has been in place and held sturdily for the past 52 years. The big granite blocks are doweled together and are as solid and substantial today as when the curve dam was erected in 1871. The removal of this old obstruction will mean increased water power for running the mills of Manchester. There are today 475 acres in the area of the artificial pond developed in the establishment of the hydro station abutting the new Manchester dam.

The important improvement now being made at the mills of our sister city "up the river," will not only increase very materially the amount of available horse-power by water for operating the Manchester mills, but in the course of 12 months, will play a most important part in the conservation of coal and fuel oil. In brief, there are likely to be no more vexatious periods of "low water in the canals" up in the city of the Amoskeag.

AIDING ANXIOUS GREECE

Serbia and Rumania have renewed for a further three years' period their so-called defensive treaty, concluded in July, 1921, the object of which is to oppose any attempt on the part of Hungary or Bulgaria to upset the treaties of Trianon and Neuilly.

This is one of the chain of understandings actually constituting the "little entente."

In furtherance of the policy of this bloc, the foreign ministers of Czecho-Slovakia, Jugo-Slavia, in Rumania, are to meet at Sinaia, in Rumania, on July 26, for a general conference to review the entire central European situation. And here the prospective entry of Greece into the "little entente" will be vividly discussed and an attempt made to bring into line the somewhat divergent attitude toward Bulgaria and Russia.

It is understood that another conference, with Poland assisting, will take place later on, the recent recurrence of the disagreement between Czecho-Slovakia and Poland having retarded the whole-hearted entry of the latter into the bloc.

LAWRENCE WANTS METHUEN

The city of Lawrence is to move for the annexation of Methuen. This town essayed the role of a city a few years ago but through some technicality, the change was illegal, and then Methuen resumed the even tenor of her way as a town. If it should vote in favor of becoming a part of Lawrence, that city would all of a sudden become equal in population to Lowell and considerably greater in area. In order to keep ahead of our ambitious sister down the river, it would then be necessary for Lowell to annex Dracut and North Chelmsford. We have discussed this change in the past, but it seems that the people who reside in these adjoining towns, do not care to be annexed to Lowell. Most of them have automobiles and thus they can earn their living in our city while residing outside our borders. Some of the suburban towns have a fairly low tax rate but the people who live in the city get more for the money they pay in taxes than do those of the neighboring towns.

DRUNKEN MOTORISTS

Daily, it seems, the menace of intoxicated motor drivers on the highways is becoming more serious. If present conditions are not speedily checked, we shall soon be face to face with a state of affairs in which cautious people will have to stay at home or use the highways at the peril of their lives. Registrar Goodwin, as shown in The Sun a week ago, has stated that there are 30,000 unlicensed operators in Massachusetts; but he did not say how many of these are intoxicated. Many, it is feared, of the licensed operators are among those who appear on the highways in a drunken condition. Judge Enright has given a few sentences; but nothing except a good stiff sentence to jail will have any effect in causing them to be more careful. But sentences in the lower courts are not of much use unless they are sustained on appeal to the superior court.

POLITICAL CRITICS

Two candidates for the office of mayor are adopting every possible means of misrepresenting Mayor Donovan's official acts evidently with the hope of making political capital by trying to discredit him; but the people are not blind to their game. Mayor Donovan is not stepping outside the charter to let contracts or make purchases in violation of law, nor is he troubled with a swelled head as a result of having been elevated to a high position. He is showing good judgment in letting his unscrupulous and carping critics keep up their political cackle. It does him no harm and it is not likely to do its authors any good, although it may fool a few of the simple-minded ones. The public is with the mayor.

TODAY'S ELECTION

All the resources of the republican party as an organization are being thrown into Minnesota to secure the election of Gov. Preus as United States senator. The defeat of the republican candidate would cast a shadow over the national election of next year and greatly encourage the democratic party and the disaffected elements of the republican party that have been lining up in various blocs particularly the Farm Labor party. The contest is being settled today at the polls and tomorrow there will be either great rejoicing among the republicans or all pervading gloom regarded as the harbinger of defeat in 1924.

UNDER THE TREATY

Now that the five power naval treaty limiting the competition of government ships, has been ratified, indications are not lacking to show that the same five powers are entering into a new competition in other lines of armament, principally aircraft. It is announced, too, that Japan is to exceed the United States naval program if congress authorizes the increase of auxiliary cruisers as proposed. At the same time, each of the powers, pretends to be living up to the spirit of the new treaty although some of them are quietly violating its main provisions.

One of the most refreshing features of the circus parade in passing through the streets of Lowell was the presence of so many fine horses. The horse has disappeared from our streets so that nowadays we rarely see one except some old nag attached to a dilapidated farm wagon or a peddler's cart. The horse is still one of the greatest attractions in every first-class circus.

A Thought

There is no beautifier of complexion or form or behavior like the wish to scatter joy, and not pain, around us.—Emerson.

No Need of More

The tramp's clothes were in the last stages of dilapidation, and he wore openwork shoes. But his face was radiant, and he whistled merrily as he slouched along the street. A man called from his door:

"Here, I have a job for you, if you want to earn a quarter."

The tattered man grinned happily as he shook his head.

Day Was Half Gone

Gov. McKelvie of Nebraska said at a Lincoln luncheon: "Farm life is very hard. A young coal miner thought that during the coal strike he'd take a kind of rest cure by working on a farm. Being a husky young coal miner, he soon found a job, and the farmer called him to go to work the first morning at 3 o'clock. He wasn't used to such hours and turned over and took another snooze. So it happened that it was quite 4:30 when he descended into the dark farmyard, where all hands were busy milking. He perceived the boss by the light of one of the lanterns, and strolled over to him. 'Good morning, boss. Fine morning,' he said heartily. 'Hump,' grunted the boss. 'It was.'"

How Different

The argument had been long and heated over the question of man vs. woman.

"Well," remarked the husband at last, "at least there is one good, sweet and perfect thing a man can have and a woman cannot."

"Never," cried his wife, passionately. "Never! I absolutely deny it! What do you mean?"

Use Hand Mashie

Two men, neither of whom could be considered of championship class, and whose knowledge of the rules of the royal and ancient game of golf were no more accurate than was their knowledge of the technique of the various shots, were standing at the first tee. One of the men, taking a vicious swing, sliced to such an extent that the ball struck an oak tree with such force that it came bounding back across the tee, and the player in question caught the ball in his hand. With a bewildered look on his face, he turned to his opponent and asked: "What shall I do now?" His opponent, with no intention of joking, replied: "Tee it up, hit it again and then put your hands in your pockets."

Evensong

The embers of the day are red
Beyond the murky hill.
The kitchen smokes; the bed
In the darkling house is spread;
The great sky darkens overhead,
And the great woods are shrill.
So far have I been led,
Lord, by Thy will;
So far I have followed, Lord, and wondered still.

The breeze from the embalmed land
Blows sudden inward the shore,
And claps my cottage door.
I hear the signal, Lord—I understand.
The night is Thy command
Comes. I will eat and sleep and will not question more.
—ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Now that Woodward avenue in Pawtuckaville is being graded, all that is needed to make the avenue perfect are a few electric lights and the residents of the district hope that the public service board will soon see its way clear to install two or three arc lights from the corner of Wright street to that of Brookside street, the end of the avenue. The avenue is a connecting link between Mammoth road and the Pawtucket boulevard and is the scene of considerable traffic. For a long time the roadbed of the thoroughfare has been in a very poor condition, but despite the appeals of the residents of the district, the street department officials could not see their way clear to remedy conditions. A few days ago, City Engineer Kearney instructed his employes to use the top layer that is being taken from Varnum avenue, in filling cradle holes in Woodward avenue and all that remains to be done is a little rolling and the avenue will be in a fairly good condition. Now if the public service board grants the petition that was filed some time ago for the installation of arc lights, the petitioners will be most grateful. There are but two gas lights in the avenue and oftentimes they are turned off in the early part of the evening by mischievous boys. The residents of the avenue feel that street lights are as important to a community as police protection.

Walter J. Bickford, the new custodian for the Gorham street courthouse, is one of the best known residents of Dracut. He is a republican who has been connected with the town politics for a great many years and at present is a member of the school board, a position he has held for the past seven years. For several years he was agent of the American Woolen Co. in Collinsville, having severed his connections with the company two or three years ago when operations in the plant were discontinued. He is a good mixer and counts a host of friends in this city.

Yesterday was a great day for the excursion trucks. I counted nearly a dozen of them gaily decorated and heavily laden with humanity of all sorts and sizes, bent upon having a real day's outing at the beach. But oh! what a bumping they got, and if I may be allowed to remark, what a drenching most of them got on the return trip. Some of the trucks were crowded and some were not even in the rain. There was a general wash down of the light dresses and even some of the straw hats worn by the men wilted.

PHONE STRIKE TO CONTINUE

BOSTON, July 16.—Julia B. O'Connor, president of the telephone operators department, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and leader of the present strike of operators in New England, yesterday declared that the effect of the refusal of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. to agree to the arbitration of the strikers' demands as proposed made their offer to return to work null and void and that from now on the strikers would continue their fight for a seven-hour day and higher wages.

Miss O'Connor made this statement at the meeting of the Boston Central Labor union. Later John J. Kearney urged that steps be taken to have the Massachusetts legislation order an investigation of the situation in Massachusetts. The suggestion was approved and the executive board of the central body was instructed to draw up a bill to be submitted to the convention of the Massachusetts state branch, American Federation of Labor, which opens in Worcester on Aug. 18, to be approved and urged as a state labor measure.

George E. Capell, press secretary of Local 103, International Brotherhood of Electric Workers, announced that the members of his union had voted a donation of $1000 for the striking operators and the next meeting of his union will be a "special notified meeting" for the purpose of voting to assess each member $1 a week until the strike is over. This union has more than 1000 members.

Miss O'Connor, in explaining the present situation, in part said:

"We attended the conference of mayors at Providence last Friday, knowing that nothing could come out of it, but the mayors believed they could do something and tried hard to bring about a settlement.

"When we were asked our minimum terms of settlement, I gave them, knowing all the time that they would not be accepted by President Jones of the company and also knowing that rejection by him would place the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. on the defensive and give us a big advantage.

"The telephone situation in Rhode Island has been in terrible shape for a number of years before the strike. This was not the fault of the workers, but undermanned forces and inadequate equipment. The records of the Providence city council show the requests from the officials of the company, asking the subscribers in that city to be patient for a short time and the troubles would be ended, as plans were under way to increase the equipment.

"At hearings in that city on the telephone situation the operators who are now on strike were eulogized by the company management and all kinds of promises made for the bettering of the service. Our offer for a settlement was not in any way a concession that we are defeated, but was made with the hope of bringing relief to the telephone users. This offer is now withdrawn and it is a fight for the first principles for which we went on strike."

The only serious disturbances since the strike was called on June 26 occurred in Springfield, where rioting has taken place on several occasions when gangs of strike sympathizers have clashed with the police and numerous arrests have been made.

Service to the public has been little impaired except in several Rhode Island centres and in Lawrence, Springfield and Worcester. In Greater Boston, where the faction of the operators which has refused to strike is the strongest, service was little affected.

Meantime the striking operators remain out and company officials claim that their places are being rapidly filled by new girls.

DEVICE TO AVERT SEA SICKNESS

NEW YORK, July 16.—Germany's answer to the question that has been puzzling the shipping world several years, "Will Germany regain her former prestige on the high seas?" was answered yesterday when the steamship Albert Ballin of the Hamburg-American line, a revolutionary piece of seacraft, steamed into New York harbor, her strangely bulging sides the puzzle of old seamen and ordinary craft that ply up and down the bay on a Sunday.

The Albert Ballin is the first merchant mariner to adopt the new stabilizing device, known as the Frahm system of anti-rolling tanks. Other vessels have tried out the device, the tanks occupying space in the hold. But the Albert Ballin has two compartments on each side of its hulk and these compartments are built within the skin of the ship. The effect is a strangely bulging appearance not without symmetry.

Capt. Kier in command of the new vessel, said that the stabilizing device worked perfectly and that during the voyage across there was not a single seasick person on board. The stabilizing device provides only for a beam sea and not for a head-on sea, when the best of vessels will pitch.

Washing machines which can cleanse 350 shirts at once are now being made.

NOTABLES AT FUNERAL OF SEN. DILLINGHAM

WATERBURY, Vt., July 16.—Funeral services for United States Senator William P. Dillingham, of Vermont, who died here last Thursday night, were held today at the Wesley Methdist church. About 350 federal and state officials, led by Vice President Calvin Coolidge, attended the services, conducted by Rev. Duncan B. Davenport, and they followed the casket to the Dillingham family lot in the local cemetery.

The service was brief, consisting only of a reading from the Scriptures and a prayer by the minister, in which he eulogized the senator.

Among those present from Washington were United States Senators Richard P. Ernst, of Kentucky, Ralph H. Cameron of Arizona, Park Trammell of Florida and Frank L. Green of Vermont; Walter W. Husband, commissioner general of immigration; Carl A. Loeffler, assistant sergeant at arms of the United States Senate and Mrs. F. A. Ainslee, assistant director of the budget bureau.

CHINA TURNING TO INTENSIVE FARMING

China has more than 60,000,000 farmers who, with their families, comprise 50 to 90 per cent of the nation's total population. Of a total area of more than 2,000,000,000 acres of land, about 212,000,000 acres are under cultivation, including 48,000,000 acres of wet lands used chiefly for rice production and 16,000,000 acres of gardens and fruit orchards.

China ranks first among agricultural countries in the production of rice, tea, silk, soy beans and grain sorghums, the report says, and is second only to the United States in tobacco and possibly in wheat production also. On the average China produces more cotton for commercial use than Egypt and, including production for local use, nearly as much as British India.

SACRED HEART CHURCH LAWN PARTY PLANS

The 14th annual lawn party of the Sacred Heart parish will be held on the parish grounds in Moore street next Saturday afternoon and evening. Plans are rapidly developing for this annual feature in connection with Sacred Heart social events, which have reached a high standard in years past.

As usual, a midway will be one of the many features. Articles of every description have been ordered and will be placed in attractive booths for inspection and sale next Saturday. Several booths of a novel nature will be erected this year in addition to the familiar stands of bygone years. Each table will have its own committee and competition for the largest number of sales will be at a high pitch.

Rev. John H. Dpherty, O.M.I., will have general supervision of arrangements and has the co-operation of every member of the parish. The general committee is as follows: General manager, Councilor Thomas McFadden; assistant general manager, David Anglulin; secretary, Kathleen McLean, and treasurer, Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I.

EX-PRISONERS ADOPT CHINESE BANDITS

NEW YORK, July 16.—Two of the Chinese bandits who kidnapped a trainful of foreigners recently in China have been adopted by ex-prisoners and will be brought home as servants, Ward Cheney, who greeted the freed captives, wrote to his father, Charles Cheney, in a letter made public yesterday.

The younger Cheney met the released hostages on a train in China.

"I must have been the first outsider they had seen since they were captured," he wrote. "They were still in the clothes they had worn as prisoners and all had full beards. They had with them two of the bandits, who had treated them kindly, and whom they were bringing down to adopt as servants. The two bandits, with rifles slung over their shoulders, looked like scared children."

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

In the Blood

I swear when I get home again I'll never care to roam again,
I'll settle down and try it
In some quiet
Little spot.
My friends shall not be censuring my roving and adventuring,
I'll be a plodding peasant.
In a pleasant
Garden plot.

For when of home I'm pondering, I feel I'm sick of wandering,
I weary of the places
And the faces
That are strange.
I think I'll be in readiness to lead a life of steadiness,
And stick around forever
Where there's never
Any change

And yet I know, down deep in me, though wanderlust may sleep in me,
It's pretty sure to waken
When I've taken
My abode;
And sure as flowers sprout again and grasses grow about again,
And luring winds are blowing,
I'll be going
On the road!

30 CHILDREN LOST IN THRONG AT REVERE

REVERE, July 16.—More than 150,000 persons passed the day at the beach here, and were it not for the rain in the late afternoon the attendance would have exceeded any record this year.

Thirty lost children were cared for at the Metropolitan District police station by the matron, Mrs. Ellen Gallant, during afternoon and evening. There were more than 4000 bathers and many special outings, several groups coming by auto trucks and cars. So great was the traffic along the beach roads that all automobiles were excluded from the boulevard at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Along the North Shore drives traffic was so congested that automobiles were unable to make headway in the usual manner, in some instances cars being delayed 20 and 25 minutes.

SEEK NEW ALPHABET FOR USE IN RADIO

NEW YORK, July 16.—The establishment of a universal telegraphic alphabet is urged in a statement issued today by the Engineering Foundation. Radio engineering is leading the peoples of the earth toward a common language, the foundation asserts.

Methods to simplify and expedite the electrical transmission and messages should be evolved through national legislation and international conferences. Science and commerce will not hesitate; is statecraft ready to perform its function? the foundation asks.

"There are ship lanes in the northern Atlantic." The statement continues. Crowding automobiles in city streets have necessitated traffic lanes. Aviation is establishing lanes in the air. Allotting of lanes in the ether has become urgent."

General Squier in 1913 commenced investigations for improving transmission of the telegraph alphabet, according to the foundation, as the old Morse system failed to meet the needs of present day transmission. In the Morse code the current is interrupted between signals; with the redesigned system the current flows uninterruptedly.

"The new continuous wave system designed by General Squier," the foundation states, "can be applied to radio telegraphy. Variations for dots, dashes and spaces are reduced to the minimum on the theory that the least practicable change of the fundamental wave should be made. For easier reading the waves have been made square-topped.

"The modulating frequencies employed in the new method being of low order, it should be simple to devise instrumentalities to differentiate between them and the higher frequencies of 'static' or other natural disturbances. This new plan proposes to enter the unused infra-audio range, not only adding a useful band of frequencies, but one below the range of the human ear. If employed for telegraphy this band could not interfere with radio telephony receiving.

"National legislation and international conferences are now in order," the foundation declares in conclusion, "to put into use these methods of relief to establish this simple universal alphabet. Radio engineering is leading the peoples of the earth toward a common language, a mutual understanding."

HEIRS OF ABDUL HAMID TO FIGHT FOR FORTUNE

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 16.—American lawyers may soon begin a legal battle to establish the right of the heirs of the late Sultan Abdul Hamid to oil properties and real estate in the territories new detached from Turkey, estimated to be worth $500,000,000. The heirs of the former sultan include four princes and four princesses, and they are headed by Prince Mahmed Selim Effendi, presumptive successor to the Caliphate.

The heirs are seeking satisfaction at Lausanne, and if this endeavor fails they will instruct their American attorneys to begin legal proceedings. They say that the Lausanne conference seems inclined to give a decision which would class the properties in question as belonging to the Turkish crown. This they aver is wrong, declaring that according to law the properties should pass in equal succession to Abdul Hamid's sons and daughters and that they will take every means to secure justice.

Although the former government of the Committee of Union and Progress usurped certain of the rights of the heirs and did its best to invalidate succession, it is claimed that it failed in its object.

A number of American concession-hunters have been after the heirs to grant them rights in the immense domains of the former sovereign of Turkey, and have competed with British promoters in their financial offers. If Lausanne decides in favor of the heirs, they will be able to farm out the properties without delay. Otherwise they will contest and make a legal fight.

DUKE OF YORK TOO BUSY TO ATTEND UNVEILINGS

LONDON, July 16—Members of the British royal family have announced that they will be obliged to decline future invitations to unveil war memorials.

This announcement was made when a reply of the Duke of York to an invitation to unveil a war memorial was made public. The duke said that he, in common with others members of the royal family, found it impossible to travel over the country, especially for these ceremonies, when he has so many other pressing and important demands on his time.

Members of the royal family have already unveiled more than three hundred war memorials which include many national memorials, to which local ones are but supplementary.

TO DECIDE KNOTTY QUESTION IN LAW

(The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 16. The supreme court has been asked to decide whether the counterfeiting in this country of Canadian securities can be punished under the penal code. The question was before the Eighth circuit court of appeals for solution, but that court found it so perplexing that it called upon the highest court for instructions.

Isadore Luvisch was convicted in the federal district court for eastern Michigan of counterfeiting Canadian excise stamps, and was sentenced to five years in Leavenworth. While serving sentence he applied to the federal district court of Kansas for a writ of habeas corpus, which ordered his discharge on the ground that the offense for which he had been convicted did not constitute a violation of any law of the United States. The warden of the penitentiary, while holding Luvisch in confinement, took the case to the federal court of appeals for that circuit, which suspended further proceedings until the supreme court could consider and pass upon the question.

WOOD ALCOHOL CLAIMS VICTIMS IN GERMANY

BERLIN, July 16.—Wood alcohol has claimed the lives of at least 15 German drinkers within the past few months, although neither prohibition nor bootlegging prevail here. This type of spirits is used widely in industry and science, and the victims have been laborers who believed they were getting cheap drinks by consuming small quantities of the liquid that remained in tank-cars after unloading.

At Hamburg some time ago a large number of harbor truckers became seriously ill from drinking wood alcohol and ten of them died. A few days ago five more victims were reported from Prussian Silesia, and three from Berlin-Grunewald.

Repeated warnings have been issued by employers and authorities against the deadly and blinding effects of the chemical as a drink.

For rain water to sink to the level of most wells it takes from 12 to 18 months.

SPAIN DISTURBED OVER NEW LOSES IN WAR

LONDON, July 16—Spain is facing a grave crisis over the Moroccan situation, says a Reuter dispatch from Madrid. The problem appears every day to be farther from a solution. The situation is extremely delicate, and the abortive attempts which have been made to arrive at a bloodless settlement have only aggravated it.

The Moroccan campaign is unpopular in many quarters, the correspondent continues, and the vacillating policy which has been the outcome of many recent changes of government has so far produced no definite results. The territory lost in 1921 has never been entirely reconquered and the civil protectorate which was declared last February exists in little more than name, inasmuch as the Riff leader, Abdelkrim, is still in possession of a large portion of the zone and has been able to make his own terms with the Spanish in regard to the release of prisoners.

The government's policy was to reorganize the army and make a determined bid for the conquest of the zone, but the recurring demands in the press for the cessation of hostilities and the punishment of those responsible for former defeats forced it, for a time, to abandon the idea of further aggressive action. The army was, however, reorganized and newly equipped with tanks, aeroplanes and other modern instruments of war.

Following the appointment of a new civil governor of Morocco, a friendly Moorish chief, Dris Er Riffi, was in April appointed native governor of the Rif province. But Abdelkrim was still in undisputed authority over half of the province, and the government decided to withdraw a large number of its troops. This decision was never translated into action and, in spite of protests from the press, the Spanish troops continued to occupy advanced positions at considerable risk of attack. On May 31 a Spanish convoy was attacked by a large body of the enemy and sustained nearly 20 casualties.

It has for long been felt, the correspondent concludes, that the Moroccan problem ought to be settled without further bloodshed, and the news of this disaster cannot but give further impetus to the demand for a cessation of hostilities, and that without delay.

Lowell Americans and Bellevues Listed to Pry Off Lid on the South Common Tonight—Both Teams to Present Strong Lineups—Umpires Lyons and Hickey in Charge

With Mayor Donovan on hand to formally open festivities by pitching the first ball, the new Twilight league is scheduled to get underway on the South common at 6.15 o'clock tonight, with the Lowell Americans and the Bellevues listed to pry off the lid. In the event of rain, the opening will be deferred until tomorrow night.

In arranging the schedule for the new league, it was planned to play on Monday, Thursday and Friday nights, the arrangement being arrived at in order not to conflict with other games. But it was decided that in the event of a game scheduled for Monday night being called off, the same teams would meet the following night.

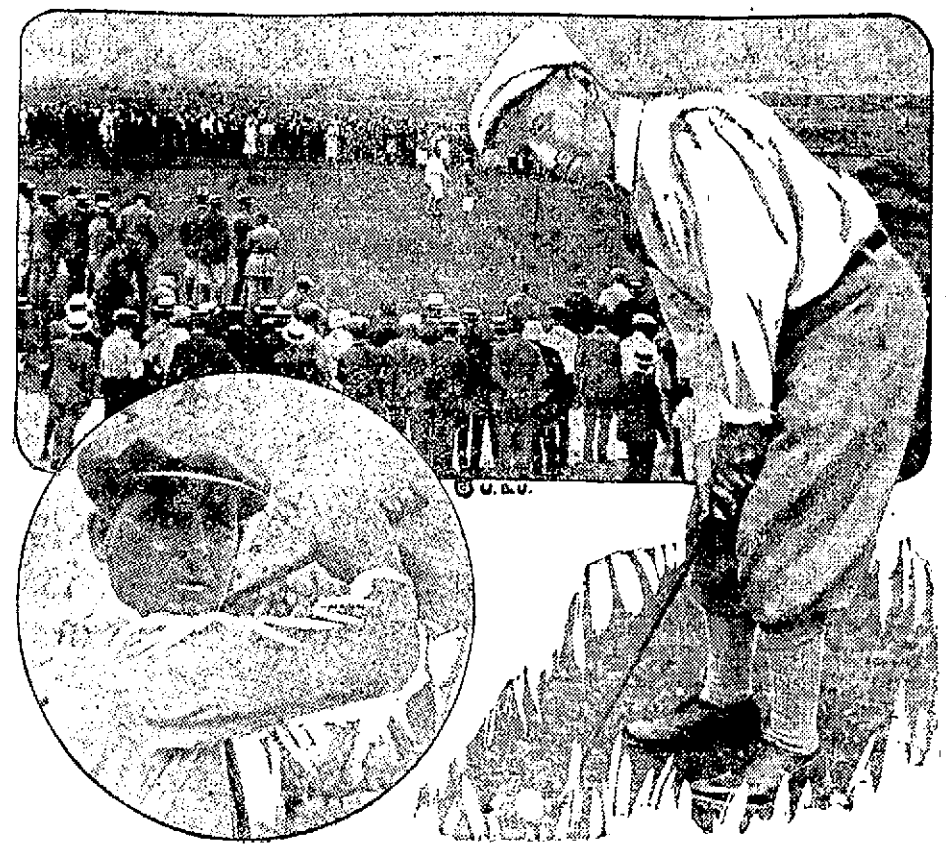

This action was due to the late start and the desire to play and play out the schedule within the regular season. Other postponements or ties will be played off as soon as possible. Should it be impossible to play both tonight and tomorrow night, no attempt will be made to get underway Wednesday night, but the teams scheduled to play on Thursday night will have at it.

The Bellevues and Lowell Americans are great rivals and the lineups include many of the younger stars of the local diamond. In addition may be found several prominent players of the former Twilight league.

The opening game is scheduled to start at 6.15 o'clock, with Umpires Wally Lyons and Tommy Hickey in charge.

To Continue Contest

Frank Ricard, the well known jeweler and booster of sports, announced today that he was well pleased to hear of a revival of Twilight league games, particularly because of the work done by Superintendent Kernan of the park department in erecting bleachers, etc., on the South common. Mr. Ricard also paid tribute to Superintendent Atkinson, Lieutenant Frawley and the other police officers, for their contribution to successful athletic competition on the common, to Mayor Donovan and the building departments, and in conclusion, he added that he was glad to see that their efforts were not in vain. He said that he would continue his Most Popular Twilight league player contest, and stood ready to assist in any other way in making the new league a success. He congratulated the officers and wished them a most successful season.

BOBBY JONES GOLF CHAMPION

INWOOD, July 16—(By the Associated Press)—Robert T. "Bobby" Jones Jr., a sun-browned boy from Dixie, became the open golf champion of America yesterday, defeating Robert Allen Cruickshank, Scotch professional of the Shackamaxon Country club, Westfield, N. J., by two strokes in the play-off of a tie that existed Saturday at the end of the regular 72 hole championship round. Jones took 75 and Cruickshank 77.

Jones, an amateur of Atlanta, Ga., came into the title he long had sought on the 18th and very last hole ending one of the most dramatic contests in the quarter of a century of title history. In the long, winning battle over green, rough, tee, fairway and trap, the Georgian was pitted against a master golfer, a greater fighter and a sportsman. And Robert Allen Cruickshank was a glorious loser.

Both the Georgian and the Scot, at the end of the rounds Saturday in which 77 golfers competed, were tied at 296 strokes. That tie came into being on the 18th green. Jones, with the championship ready for a journey south, had fallen into ill luck and had taken six strokes; there Cruickshank almost hopelessly defeated, had made a birdie three to square the stroke count.

Jones selected his iron carefully, took a mighty swing, the ball hit the green dead for the cup, ran slightly to the left of it and rested four feet away.

The southern pro seemed to gain his putt for a birdie, and two putts would put him down in four, almost certainly enough to win. But Cruickshank had a chance to tie, slim as it was. If he could pitch to the pin and hole his putt Jones would need the birdie to win.

The Scot drew a long breath. He studied almost every inch of the ground up to the cup, smiled, set himself and shot. His ball hit the green, but rolled into a shallow trap to the left. He had to hole from there or lose certain of defeat. Again he studied the terrain, again he smiled and shot. The ball overran the cup 15 feet. There wasn't a ghost of a chance left but he putted and missed.

Then he walked to Jones to congratulate him, signifying that he conceded defeat. But Jones elected to putt it out. The Atlantan played safe, rolling his ball to the edge of the cup and sinking it in four.

There were more than 7000 spectators around the green to cheer the boy from Georgia as he realized his great ambition, and captured the premier crown of American golfdom won last year by Gene Sarazen of Briarcliff, who finished 16th Saturday.

"Kid Roy" Whom Jacks Meets After Manty Bout Known Here as George Parker

Lowell fans are particularly interested in the bout between Freddie Jacks of England and Charley Manty, of New Bedford, the New England featherweight champion, to be staged by the Moody club at the Crescent rink on Thursday, for aside from the fact that the bout itself is a real "tiddlit" the fact that four days after the battle Jacks is to go to Montreal to meet Kid Roy for the British title, has local flavor.

The "Kid Roy" referred to is no other that the well known former Lowell battler who appeared in Spindle City rings under the name of George Parker. He went to Canada about two years ago and soon won his way to the top ranks among the Canadian featherweights.

The many local admirers of Parker will be at the ringside Thursday night to get a line on Jacks and form an idea of his chances against the present holder of the Canadian feather title.

Jacks is no stranger to Lowell fans. His bouts here against Andy Chaney and Bonny Valger, are well remembered by those who were at the ringside. He's a smart, clever, fast worker, and against the speedy Manty ought to be at his best.

Manty has not fought here since his sensational bout with Billy Murphy, last winter, but since that time has been active in Boston, New Bedford and Newport rings. Only last week he created quite a sensation in the latter city by stopping Fighting Ned Fitzgerald in two rounds. His work was a revelation and he won additional admirers by his spectacular battling. A good preliminary card surround the Jacks-Manty bout.

SILESIA TEAM WINS OVER DANVERS TOWN

"Rube" Greenhalgh pitched the Silesia Mills team to an easy 10 to 2 victory over the Danvers Town team at Silesia park, North Chelmsford yesterday afternoon. The big hinger was never in danger, and held the visitors to seven loan blades, struck out six and refused to walk a man. "Bing" Falls continued his hitting rampage, garnering five solid wallops in as many trips to the plate. Walter Fryer's two triples also featured Silesia's hitting. The score:

ABBOTS WIN AGAINST CARROLL AT SALEM

Before a crowd of 1000 fans at Salem last Saturday afternoon, the Abbot Worsteds of Granitville pinned a 4 to 2 defeat on the Salem town team with Ownie Carroll, Holy Cross pitcher, on the mound. Although outhit by the Witches, the Abbots played a wonderful game, breaking a 2-2 tie in the ninth inning when Greenslade singled to center with two men on the sacks.

Purvere, a southpaw, was in the points for the winners and pitched brilliantly. He was given air-tight support at critical stages. The score:

YACHTS TESTED IN LONG SAIL

CHICAGO, July 16.—Yacht racing honors on the Great Lakes will be at stake when the starting gun booms here July 21 for the Chicago-Mackinac Island race, the longest freshwater race in the world.

Competition this year for the Mackinac cup, the most coveted Great Lakes racing trophy, will be even more spirited than during the 19 years' history of the race, and will take on an international aspect with at least one and probably several Canadian entries.

From the break in the harbor at Chicago to the end of the 331 mile run at Mackinac Island, a course stretching almost the entire length of Lake Michigan, yachtsmen concede that the winning of this race calls for the maximum in seamanship and pits to the test a yacht's best sailing qualities.

The Canadian bottom, the dinghy of the Royal Canadian Yacht club at Toronto, has indicated it will start in the race, and others from the dominion are expected to be on the line.

Preparations for this year's contest recall the old yachtsmen the first Mackinac race held in 1904 when the final winner was not decided until the last few minutes of the long sail. In that race the Vencedor, once defender of the Columbia Yacht club, beat out the Vanenna by less than four minutes, the Vanenna losing out when she lost her headsails after fighting almost how to how with the Vencedor more than half the distance up Lake Michigan. The last day's run of this race was fought out between the two yachts in a wind which frequently reached gale strength.

RECORD ENTRY FOR HORSESHOE TOURNEY

CLEVELAND, July 16. Several hundred entrants are expected in the National Horseshoe Pitchers' tournament to be held here August 30 to September 2, as the result of announcement by local tossers in charge of arrangements that many state and county fairs throughout the country are to hold horseshoe tournaments to determine entry in the national contest.

Harold Falor, Geneva-on-the-Lake, O., will defend his title as world's champion pitcher, he has announced.

ABBOTS WIN AGAINST "RED" O'HARE COACH OF TRACK TEAM

Entries for the meet are coming into headquarters and it is expected a big field will compete. All athletes contemplating participating must be registered as amateurs in the New England association of the A.A.U. and they may obtain such classification by applying to J. Frank Facey, in Cambridge.

CINCINNATI AND PITTSBURGH CHALLENGE GIANTS' LEADERSHIP

World's Champions' Lead Over Reds Cut to Three and One-Half Games—Close Fight for Third Place in the American League—Yankees Have 12-Game Lead

NEW YORK, July 16.—The National league race is developing into a pretty contest with Cincinnati and Pittsburgh strongly challenging the Giants' leadership. Two of the three leading teams were in action yesterday while the third, the Cincinnati Reds gained in one respect and lost ground in another through their idleness. The Giants were defeated by the Chicago Cubs, the defeat cutting the lead of McGraw's men over Cincinnati to three and one-half games. But Pitsburgh, by defeating Brooklyn 3 to 2, moved up to within half a game of the Reds.

The feature of the American league race, aside from the 12 game lead of the New York Yankees, continues to be the close fight for third place. The Yankees yesterday maintained their position by defeating the Cleveland Indians, who trailed the Hugmen, 4 to 2.

St. Louis holds third place today by a narrow margin, but Detroit, Philadelphia and Chicago follow so closely that it is possible for the clubs to switch positions almost daily. The closeness of the race for third place is more clearly shown by the difference in games than by the percentage column. St. Louis in third place being only one and one-half games ahead of Chicago in sixth place.

The Athletics downed the White Sox yesterday 3 to 1, while Detroit easily defeated Washington, 10 to 2. The Boston Red Sox after being shut out 11 to 0 by the St. Louis team, went back and played the Browns even, darkness ending the game after 11 innings with the score six all.

C. M. A. C. BREAKS INTO WIN COLUMN AT EXPENSE OF FALL RIVER TEAM

A big crowd turned out at Spalding park Saturday afternoon and saw Lowell score its first win in the Massachusetts Twilight league, defeating Fall River by a score of 9 to 3. George Tyler started on the hill for the local outfit, but soon realized his arm was not functioning properly and retired in the third inning in favor of Poulliot.

Poulliot pitched masterly ball, allowing only four hits in the seven innings he pitched. Only one run was scored off him, this coming in the seventh inning when a two-base blow came after he had hit a batter. He was master of the situation at all times and received fine support, both offensively and defensively.

Gould started in the box for the visitors, but was routed in the fourth inning. Arthur, who succeeded him, fared no better. The C.M.A.C. lads had on their batting togs Saturday and every pitcher looked looked alike to them.

Eddie Cawley was the leading hitter of the day, getting a double and three slashing singles in five trips to the plate. Wilson, a Boston college man, was the shining light in the visitors' lineup, accepting nine chances.

Lowell scored in the first and third innings, and the visitors tied the game up in their half of the third on a pass and three bunched hits. It was then that Tyler retired.

But the Lowell sluggers uncorked a fusillade in the fourth inning and put the game on ice. Five runs were scored on a succession of hits. Then for good measure Lowell added two more in the sixth frame.

The victory Saturday has given the C.M.A.C. lads renewed confidence and they are now out to start climbing in the league standing. Tomorrow night Lowell will play the league-leading Fitchburg team at Textile campus. The Fitchburg team is headed by Jack Kiernan, the old New England leaguer.

If Cincinnati Fails to Win Pennant Daubert Will Shoulder Blame

By N. E. A. Service

CINCINNATI, July 16—When the 1923 National league season closes, if the Cincinnati Reds are found below the Giants, and perhaps the Pittsburgh Pirates, too, Jacob Daubert will rise on his spiked shoes and shout: "I'm the guy!"

In some quarters Patrick Moran, as the manager, may be blamed for not ushering the Reds into another world series.

There will be others who will insist that McGraw's bank roll in rebuilding the Giants resulted in the downfall of the Reds.

But Jacob Daubert will lean against the hot-stove league during the winter and point to another baseball mystery in explaining the pennant defeat of the Reds.

Daubert will pick to pieces a batting slump of his own.

In 1922 Daubert experienced the most successful season of his career. He had the remarkable average of .336, in his thirty-seventh year, made 205 hits, more than any time in his life, and scored the most runs with 114.

Squinting through the National league batting averages recently Daubert almost had to drift down to the last line to find himself.

"There's a reason," remarked Daubert. "See what I'm hitting." Not many points above .200. It was .225 the last time I looked at the figures. Can you figure it? I can't.

"I'm hitting the ball just as solidly as I did last season. I have the same swing, haven't changed my stance, pick up the curve and the fast one, but I'm lining to infielders and outfielders, hitting into double plays where last season I was getting them safe, advancing base runners and getting runs for the boys.

"I can go through the book and show where a hit or two in the pinch on my part would have won at least seven games that we have lost.

HARVEY MOST VALUABLE UTILITY MAN IN MAJORS

By N. E. A. Service

DETROIT, July 16—Most ball players of today are specialists. They learn to play one particular position. Ask them to shift to some other spot and they are lost.

Back 16 years, or even less, practically every major league ball club boasted a utility man who could play any position and do a good job of it.

Things are different now. Most major league clubs have a substitute for every infield position, a half dozen outfielders, three or four catchers and a dozen pitchers.

Infielder Fred Haney of the Detroit club takes you back to the old days in baseball. Haney stands out as one of the very, very few high-class utility players in the big show.

Haney is a third baseman by trade, well able to hold his own at that position with the best the National and American leagues can boast. But Haney can do other things equally well.

Since joining the Detroit club Haney has played every position on the infield and starred in each instance. He has gone his bit in the outfield, and in a pinch could go behind the bat and get away with it.

Recently in a game at Cleveland when Detroit ran out of catchers, when the last available backstop, Wondal, was put out of the game, Haney offered to catch the offerings of Herman Pillette. However, Coach Carlisch was pressed into service and Haney lost a chance to add more laurels to his utility record.

It is questionable if there is a more valuable player in the major leagues than Fred Haney. Combined with his ability to play any position, Haney is a fine hitter, a player of the aggressive type with plenty of courage.

When speaking of the most valuable player in the majors, you can't very well afford to overlook Fred Haney.

TILDEN NOW HOLDS CHAMPIONSHIP CUP

INDIANAPOLIS, July 16.—The long string of tennis achievements of William Tilden, II, of Philadelphia, was increased yesterday when he won the national clay court men's singles tournament at the Woodstock club here for the third time, and gained permanent possession of the championship cup given by the United States Lawn Tennis association.

Tilden triumphed over Manuel Alonzo of Spain in the finals in a sensational four set match, 2-6, 8-6, 6-1, 7-5.

Robert and Howard Kinsey, the San Francisco doubles team won the clay court title from John Hennessey of Indianapolis, and Walter Westbrook of Detroit in straight sets, 6-1 13-11, 6-3.

George Lott of Chicago, won the junior tournament for the second consecutive year by defeating David O'Laughlin of Pittsburgh, in the finals, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3.

Kinks o' the Links

by "PRO"

In medal play if the player farther from the hole believes the ball of his opponent, which is the nearer, may handicap him in his putting, can he request his opponent to lift his ball?

A player has the right to ask his opponent to either lift or play his ball as he chooses.

Two players in a match game reach the putting green on the second shot. The one a trifle nearer the hole putts first and holes out. This being contrary to the rule, what attitude should be assumed by his opponent relative to the play?

If an opponent who is nearer the hole plays first, you may recall his stroke and make him replace his ball and wait until you have putted.

Is there a time limit on trying to find a lost ball?

There is a definite time limit to look for a ball. A player has five minutes in which to find the ball. Failing to do so in that time, it must be considered a lost ball.

PINCH HITTER'S JOB TOUGHEST IN GAME

By N. E. A. Service

ST. LOUIS, July 16—"Playing pinch hitter is the toughest job in baseball." So says Rogers Hornsby, premier star of the National league.

"There may be some soft jobs in baseball, but pinch hitting isn't one of them," continues Hornsby. "I am content to play regularly rather than to earn my salary by going in as pinch hitter when the occasion demands.

"It is hard enough to hit 'em safe when you are in the game every day, playing regularly. It's some tough job, believe me, to get off the bench cold and step into the breach, realizing that much depends on your ability to come through with a base hit.

"Don't overlook the fact that the good pinch hitter is invariably called upon in the crisis only. He is saved for the big moment where often a base hit means the old ball game. The pinch hitter is always up in the crisis.

"The toughest thing in the world is to make a base hit under pressure. At such spots the pitcher is giving you everything in his assortment. The pinch hitter is always looking at what the opposing pitcher has in reserve. Just a wee bit more speed or a trifle faster breaking curve.

"Never until my recent injury did I realize what a job the pinch hitter really has. When recovering from my injured leg I several times went to bat in a pinch and, believe me, the feeling is much different than being in there regularly."

Most ball players will say "Amen" to Hornsby's expression relative to the pinch hitting job, yet there are players who seem to thrive on it.

INJURY MAY FORCE UMPIRE ORMSBY OUT

By N. E. A. Service

CHICAGO, July 16—Umpire Ormsby of the American league staff is probably out of the running for the remainder of the season, as a result of a very unusual accident.

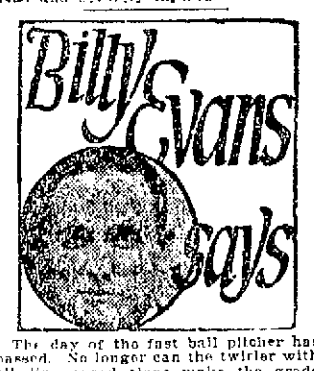

In a game at Boston several weeks ago, Ormsby while working the bases, turned to get a play at second, the runner on first attempting to steal that base. It so happened that he got in a direct line with the throw of Catcher Al Walters of the Boston club. The ball struck Ormsby directly under his left ear. He dropped as if completely knocked out but quickly got to his feet and resumed play.

Ormsby finished the game and also worked the following day. He then began to be troubled with a severe headache that made it impossible for him to work. After resting for about a week in Boston he was able to make the journey to his home in Chicago.

There a careful examination was made, which showed a blood clot forming that was the cause of all the trouble. Ormsby is undergoing treatment for the injury under a specialist, but it is not believed that his condition will enable him to do any more umpiring this year.

It is a rather singular fact that Ormsby is the second American league umpire to suffer serious injury as the result of being struck by a thrown ball by Catcher Walters.

Several years ago Umpire George Moriarty turned too quickly to get a play at second and was struck on the head and severely injured.

The day of the fast ball pitcher has passed. No longer can the twirler with blinding speed alone make the grade in the majors.

Not so many years ago speed was considered the greatest asset of a successful pitcher. Speed is still to be desired, but is no longer the dominating factor in a pitcher's success.

Why the change? Charge it to the "rabbit ball" and the short fences. While most of the modern ball parks have a tremendous seating capacity, few have so large a playing field as was the case 15 or 20 years back. Also in those days the ball in use was far less lively.

Most of the crack major league batters of today date on speed. They like nothing better than to face a pitcher who serves a continual diet of fast balls. It is far easier to time the fast ball than any other style delivery. With the lively ball and short fences it doesn't take much of a swing to convert a fast ball into a home run.

I could name a dozen pitchers in the two major leagues who a dozen years back would have rated big stars, yet most of them are finding the going rather tough at present. They are pitchers with a great fast ball and a fair curve. Everything is lovely when they are getting the fast ball past the batters, but when the opposition start to time the speed ball they are in trouble. The reason—they have nothing in reserve to offer.

A pitcher who depends almost entirely on speed for success is decidedly up against it at present unless he develops a change of pace. A change of pace enables a pitcher to vary his style. If a batsman feels that seven out of every ten balls pitched will be fast ones, he can adopt a stance at the plate that will work to his advantage. A pitcher who has a change of pace can offset this advantage by mixing them up, hereby upsetting the batter who has his mind set on speed.

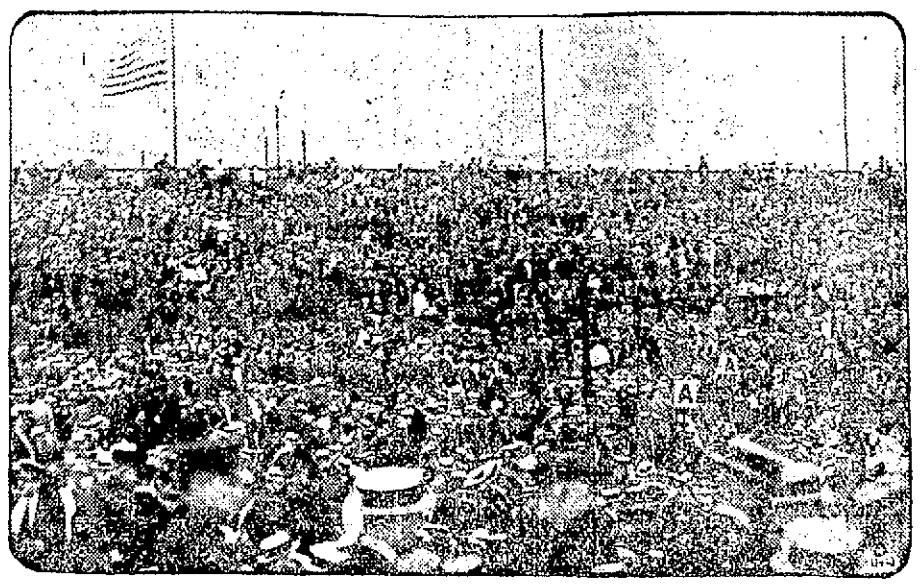

A majority of the pitchers who are having great success this year are twirlers who have a varied assortment of stuff, in which the use of the fast ball plays only a very minor part. The knuckle ball, the floater, the fadeaway and the half speed ball are just a few additions to the old style fast ball and curve.

Rolly Naylor, who is going great for the Athletics, is a shining example of the truth I have expounded. When Naylor came to the Athletics he boasted a great fast ball and a good curve. Yet for a number of years he met with only ordinary success. Naylor worked constantly to increase his stuff. He finally perfected a good change of pace, a slow curve and a half speed ball.

I have seen Naylor win ball games this year in which he didn't throw a dozen fast balls, yet at one time that was his stock in trade. It is nice to have a fast ball that a pitcher can shoot across every now and then to let the batsman know he still has one. Yet to be a big winner, the modern pitcher must have far more than a mere fast ball. As a matter of fact the fast ball these days is more or less used as a threat.

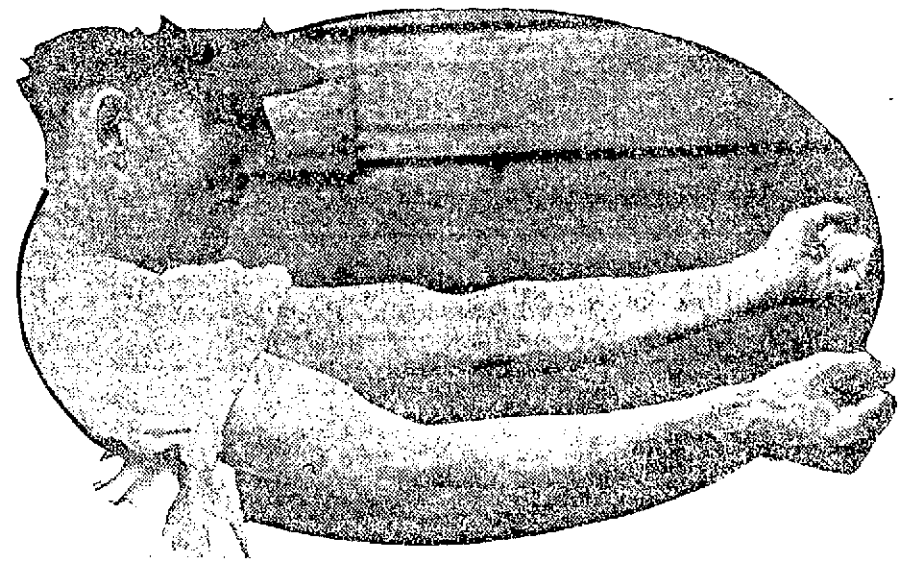

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 16.—Four hundred trotters and pacers are here today for the opening of the Grand Circuit races. The several events on the program have a total stake value of $35,000. The 2.07 pace and the Free-for-All pace are the leading events on today's program.

SOME OF THOSE WHO SAW FIRPO K. O. WILLARD

CURVES SURE CURVED HIS ARM

BALTIMORE, July 16.—Tommy Gibbon's right arm has a bend in it from "hooking" so much. His reach is shortened two inches as a result. It is possible. Harry Frank, a Baltimore Oriole pitcher, has thrown so many curves in the last four years that his right arm is very crooked. Frank has little speed and relies on curves and a tantalizing slow ball. He is one of the best pitchers in the International league. "But half a dozen years more and I don't know whether I can get my hand off my chin," says Harry.

Buzz-Saw Has No Terrors for This Woman; She's 69, Yet Runs Planing Mill Herself

By N.E.A. Service

ORANGE, N. J., July 16.—A 69-year-old woman is the best mill hand in town.

She is Mrs. Rachel Neill, a gray-haired mother who took up the work as an avocation 35 years ago. Now her plant is one of the busiest in the state. Is one of the busiest in the state.

There's little about milling that Mrs. Neill doesn't know. She can feed a buzz-saw as skillfully as any man, she can plane a board as quickly as her fastest worker; and there is no machine in her place that she can't operate.

Her chief business is turning out window sashes, wall frames and the like. When a rush order comes in, Mrs. Neill leaves her little office on the first floor of her plant, goes upstairs to the workrooms and sees that the job goes through. If it doesn't go fast enough, she rolls up her sleeves and lends a hand.

"Old?" she says. "Not at all. Work is the greatest elixir of youth. It keeps one young indefinitely."

Although she is close to 70, Mrs. Neill walks as sprightly as her youngest employe, shouts as loud as the rest of them, as they raise their voice above the hum of the buzz-saws, and needs no glasses to improve her eyesight. Worry about business troubles?

"Never," she says. "What's the good? If costs of labor and material mount, just be optimistic that they will come down again."

suitable one for the announcement of any change in French policies, and the fact that Premier Poincare merely reaffirmed the rigid French views without making them any stronger, offered some little satisfaction and encouragement.

The British, it is indicated, will proceed with the work of drafting the note to be submitted to the allies and the United States just as if M. Poincare had not spoken his mind. Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary, arrived at the foreign office early this morning, and the completed draft of the document will probably go to the cabinet tomorrow.

The French premier's pronouncement has left the British undaunted in their efforts to make proposals which will be acceptable to the allies.

London Papers Comment

LONDON, July 16—(By the Associated Press) A bad impression here was made by Premier Poincare of France in the address he delivered at Senlis yesterday which is generally regarded as an indirect reply to the outline of Great Britain's reparations policy made by Prime Minister Baldwin in the house of commons last Thursday. There is widespread disposition to treat it as an intended rejection of the views which Mr. Baldwin projected.

The only favorable comment in this morning's newspapers is made by the Morning Post which favors maintenance of the entente at all costs. It declares that the only policy promising satisfactory results for Great Britain is whole-hearted co-operation with France to force Germany to pay.

The Times thinks that M. Poincare's speech was unfortunate and protests his assumption that Great Britain no longer supports the treaty of Versailles, declaring that this government differs only from France in selecting the best method of getting the treaty observed. The Times, however, refuses to believe that M. Poincare's utterance is final.

The Daily News fears there is little hope that France will receive the British proposals favorably, but deprecates an attitude of despair. The Daily Express regards the speech as putting an end to "Great Britain's high hopes" and urges the country to cut loose from European connections, but at the same time, getting what it can from European markets and devoting its energies to peaceful development of the British empire.

The Daily Chronicle treats the speech as finally slamming the door against Great Britain and indignantly charges that France is seeking nobody's interests but her own, paying no regard to the manner in which British industry is suffering from her selfish action and asks how it is possible to maintain the entente under such circumstances.

Not Intended as Reply

PARIS, July 16. (By the Associated Press.) Premier Poincare's address at Senlis yesterday was a mere reiteration of the French government's policy and was not intended as a reply to the recent reparations speech of Prime Minister Baldwin of Great Britain. It was explained in official circles here today. The entire address, with the exception of a few paragraphs, was written before the British premier spoke, it was stated.

BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD, SHE SAYS

It is strange that people will disregard the early symptoms of stomach trouble and wait till they are down sick, unable to attend to their duties. Stomach disorders lead to a long train of other troubles. The liver, kidneys and bowels are closely allied with the stomach and soon become affected.

In all sincerity, Mrs. Frank Cassil, 108 Pare avenue, Lowell, Mass., says:

"Headaches bothered me so bad that I thought my head would burst. I couldn't think or see that pain was so great. At the least noise my heart would start pounding and I would shake from nervousness.

"Around my eyes and mouth lines of pain began to show. After every meal my food would sour, lying in my stomach like lead, acid rising from my stomach burning up the inside, making it impossible for me to catch my breath. Cramps would double me up.

"My skin was sallow and sickly looking. Acute constipation wore down my system. I felt tired and listless. I had to drive myself to do my work.

"Here I am now doing my work with pleasure. I feel fine. My nerves don't give me a lot of trouble. I sleep like a top, and I enjoy every meal knowing that afterward I won't suffer from cramps and gas. I took so much credit for my friends are congratulating me on my improvement. All due to Dreco."

I want every man and woman suffering as I did to give Dreco an opportunity to help to good health." Dreco is a scientific combination of good old-fashioned roots, herbs, barks and leaves. It contains absolutely no mineral salts or harmful metallic drugs. It has been strongly recommended for stomach, kidney, liver, nerve and blood disorders and I predict there are hundreds of men and women right here in this section who are taking it with excellent results.

Call today at Green's Drug Store and ask to talk with the expert from the Dreco Laboratories. He will courteously tell you of the merits of this wonderful remedy. Also he will honestly tell you whether or not he thinks Dreco will benefit you. Also Dreco is for sale in Nashua by Nashua Drug Co., 175 Main st.—Adv.

300 BRITISH SUBJECTS WIN OCEAN MARATHON

BOSTON, July 16.—Nearly 300 British subjects who were passengers on the steamship President Polk of the United States Line when that vessel sped across the Atlantic in a race against time, learned today that they had won the ocean marathon and might be admitted to this country under the British quota for July. The steamship put in here yesterday, hoping to land her passengers ahead of others making for New York on other vessels.

The British arrivals were examined today and practically all the 283 were admitted. Immigration authorities had believed yesterday that the President Polk had arrived too late and that the British quota for July was exhausted.

Misunderstanding of Law

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The suggestion made in the British house of commons today relative to the possible admission of British immigrants through the Boston immigration office without detention apparently was based on a misunderstanding of the American immigration laws.

W. W. [illegible], commissioner general of immigration, said today that there was no difference in the treatment of immigrants at the various immigration stations.

The only difference between the Boston station and that at New York he said, is that it is smaller and could accommodate fewer immigrants without overcrowding.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 16.—Prices opened somewhat lower in today's stock market, professional traders launching immediately into short selling as a result of the failure of the public to participate in the improved market on Saturday. Losses of 1 point each were recorded by DuPont, Gulf States Steel, Baldwin and Famous Players, while practically all of the oils were fractionally lower.

Selling orders were concentrated in the early dealings against the motors, equipment, oils and steels, with some of the specialties also under considerable pressure. Gulf States Steel and Stewart Warner each declined 2¼ points. Famous Players extended its loss to two points, and Mack Truck, Corn Products, American Can, Consolidated Gas, Bethlehem, Crucible and Baldwin Steels, dropped 1 to 1½ points. Foreign exchanges opened irregular, with Italian lire up five points.

With speculative sentiment unfavorably affected by the reparations question, little effort was made to sustain prices during the forenoon. Continued high money rates also discouraged buying while the vulnerability of leading industrial shares to pressure encouraged short selling by bear speculators. Several score stocks were pushed down 1 to 3 points. Buying of Studebaker, which rallied a point, injected a better tone into the market at mid-day. Baldwin, U. S. Steel, Gulf States Steel, American Can, Corn Products and other favorites recovering half a point or more. Call money opened at 5 per cent.

Sporadic short covering carried up many of the well known shares in the afternoon but prices failed to get back to a parity with Saturday's close. Quite a number of specialties were in demand, notably Foundation company which advanced 2½ to 72, the highest of the year. Sugars were bought on the advance in raw and refined sugars.

The closing was steady. Trading was almost at a standstill in the final hour. Buyers were unwilling to extend their commitments in view of the general uncertainty while the shorts also hesitated because of a seeming scarcity of stocks. Whatever trading there was [illegible] at slightly higher prices.

FOR CONSOLIDATION OF FALL RIVER MILLS

FALL RIVER, July 16.—The consolidation of print cloth mills of this city is a matter which is being given serious consideration at this time. In some quarters it is reported that already a plan is being discussed whereby 1,000,000 spindles are to be consolidated, embracing the print cloth mills of practically one section. The advantages of such a consolidation is not questioned, although it is believed some difficulties will be experienced in securing the approval of some corporations. The consolidation proposition is one of long-standing, but at this time it appears as though an effort will be made to relieve a situation that in time would mark the passing of the textile industry from the city.

Happenings of the past few weeks in the print cloth market, have won many adherents to the proposition as consolidation would entirely eliminate many of the pitfalls of manufacturing which manufacturers have to contend with at this time. The constant easing of prices in an already astoundingly low market is something that manufacturers feel cannot go on without serious impairment to the industry, while competition between mills continues unabated.

An example is given where one mill may manufacture a certain print cloth number and another a similar style. The result is both corporations are bidding against each other in the market for business, and many mills in the city are today engaged in manufacturing from 15 to 20 different print cloth numbers.

Under the consolidation proposition, it would be possible for one mill to make only one number, providing a tremendous saving for that plant. The same rule would apply to other mills and the overhead caused by the manufacturing of a varied number of styles would be eliminated.

It is pointed out that stockholders are about the same in all the corporations, but this proposition could be ironed out in a satisfactory manner, it is understood.

Federal Judges Deny Injunction Petition

NEW YORK, July 16.—Federal Judges Hough, Knox and Goddard today dismissed an application filed by the Delaware & Hudson company and eight other railroads, asking that a tentative valuation made by the Interstate Commerce commission be set aside, and that an injunction be issued prohibiting any order fixing valuation "before a lawful tentative valuation has been made." In their opinion the judges said: "We conclude that there is no equity in this application to suppress a merely preliminary step in a lawful valuation proceeding and for that reason dismiss the petition without cause."

Geddes' Views on "Dry" America

LONDON, July 16.—The government today published an official paper embodying a memorandum by Sir Auckland Geddes, the ambassador at Washington, on the effects of prohibition in the United States. Stating the claims made in America of economic benefits, increased wages, heavier savings bank deposits, etc., the memorandum says: "So many other factors have contributed to restore economic conditions since the war that it is almost impossible to form any estimate of the extent to which prohibition has contributed to this recovery or otherwise."

S. W. WASHINGTON DEAD

Samuel Walter Washington was 70 years old.

TURKS BLAME U. S. IN DEADLOCK

LAUSANNE, July 16.—(By Associated Press)—The allies made a move [illegible] to break the deadlock in the Near East conference when they sent a note to the Turkish delegation proposing a joint meeting of experts tomorrow morning to pave the way for a later assembly of the plenipotentiaries. The allies called upon the Turks definitely to recognize those things which have already been agreed upon, so that each side may know where they stand.

The note contained a detailed statement relative to the matters in controversy [illegible] understand them, [illegible] the Turks to come to an agreement on these points.

The Turks today threw the blame of the deadlock over concessions on the clash of antagonistic interests which revealed themselves in the recent Lausanne pourparlers." This opinion was expressed in a statement which the delegates to the Near East conference interpreted as aiming at the attitude of the United States on economic development contracts.

The Turks are said to have repudiated some of the principles on which the concessions agreement was reached, [illegible] out as the interests of the concessionaires conflict, the statement continues. It is not within the power of the Turkish delegation to conciliate them with the vital interests of the Turkish nation.

The statement is regarded as pointing to the United States because the American representatives protested against the treaty confirming the concession of the Turkish Petroleum company on the ground that it was a valid and still subject to negotiation with the United States and England.

Joseph C. Grew also registered American objections to the treaty incorporating preferential contract rights to British and French concerns during a period which was originally ten years but was reduced to five at the suggestion of the allies. America contends that this is a monopolistic violation of equal opportunity.

DRY AGENTS TURN TO BOUNDING MAIN

NEW YORK, July 16.—And now "Izzy" Einstein and "Moe" Smith, the much-discussed prohibition agents whose exploits have made them nationally famous, have turned to the bounding main.

This became known today when proprietors of two hotels in Freeport, L. I., and one bartender, were held on charges of violating the Volstead act.

Dressed as fishermen, the dry agents said they had appeared at the Silver Wave and Sea Breeze hotels and hired boats "with all the requisites." It was the requisites that called for the arrests.

HARDING PARTY

To Go Further Into Interior of Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, July 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Having reached the northern end of steel rail transportation, President Harding proposed today to go further into the interior of Alaska by automobile. The ride will take five hours. It was originally planned that the presidential party should go over the trail 272 miles to Chitina and there take the Copper river and northwestern railroad to the port of Cordova, but the trip was abandoned as possibly too strenuous, much to the regret of Mrs. Harding, who has been urging it.

As now planned, the party on reaching McCarty will go aboard a river steamer for Tenana, where on Tuesday evening they will board a train for a 24-hour trip back over the government railroad to Seward.

BUSINESS CHANGES IN CENTRAL STREET

Fred Howard, who for a number of years has been conducting a drug store at 157 Central street, has leased the store occupied by Frank J. Campbell at 225 Central street, and within a short time will remove his business to his new stand. The Campbell drug store was purchased by Mr. Howard from Andrew Roach and Mrs. Margaret J. Fitzgerald.

It was also learned today that the proprietors of Liggett's drug stores have leased the street floor of the new building being erected at the corner of Central and Jackson street and will establish another one of their chain drug stores here.

KILLED BY FALL FROM ICE WAGON

WOBURN, July 16.—Frances, 6-year-old daughter of Zebito De Posalo, died Saturday night at Choate Memorial hospital here from injuries due to her falling from the wheel of an ice wagon at the corner of Fowle and [illegible] streets last evening.

The child climbed on the wagon wheel while the wagon was standing still, lost her balance and fell, striking her head on the curbstone and fracturing several ribs.

BAR PUBLICATION OF RACE TRACK NEWS

TORONTO, July 16.—Newspapers and all other publications in Ontario are prohibited from publishing race track news, according to Atty. Gen. Raney's view of the anti-betting information act becoming effective this date.

The provincial law will be enforced on that basis, and publishers who disregard it will be prosecuted, Mr. Raney announced.

STEREOTYPERS' CONVENTION

OMAHA, Neb., July 16.—Delegates to the annual convention of the International Stereotypers and Electrotypers' union of North America were here today for their opening session. Renewal of an arbitration agreement with the American Newspaper Publishers' association which expired April 30, 1922, is to be the chief matter to be discussed.

FOUND DEAD IN BED AT HIS HOME

Honore Cote, a well known resident of this city, was found dead at his home, 152 Perkins street today. He retired at his usual time last evening and did not complain of being ill. This morning shortly after 6 o'clock when his wife attempted to wake him she found life extinct. Medical Examiner Alling was notified.

Deceased was 27 years, 6 months and 21 days of age and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Eva (Larrivee) Cote, a son, Wilfrid E. Cote; four brothers, Joseph, Louis, Frank and Paul Cote and two sisters, Mrs. Rosalie Clermont and Mrs. Severe Guilmette, all of this city. The death of Mr. Cote is particularly sad inasmuch as only two weeks ago the father of deceased, Elie Cote, passed away at his home in Tewksbury.

A first aid tent is also provided for the boys. Mrs. Jeremiah Dooley and Miss Mary Curran are the nurses in charge and they are thoroughly capable of caring for any of the boys who feel indisposed or who receive slight injuries.

Mrs. Catherine O'Connor is the dietitian of the camp and upon her thoroughly capable shoulders rests the responsibility for the boys' daily rations.

The officers in charge this year are Francis Gargan, military instructor; John O'Connor, assistant military instructor; Col. William Dooley, Lt. Col. Arthur McQuade. The cadets' battalion is under Major Richard Thomas and the camp mechanician is Joseph Boyd. "Mike" Kynne is the physical instructor. Sydney McKenzie, chef, and Edward Duffy, mess sergeant.

A feature of this year's encampment is the radio section. This is under the command of Capt. Thomas Kelliher and the equipment consists of a military sending and receiving outfit. Capt. Kelliher plans to entertain the boys during the evenings with concerts picked out of the ether. This section is something new and has already proven exceedingly popular with the boys, many of whom own receiving sets.

The training schedule will follow as closely as possible that in use at West Point. Setting-up exercises, running, boxing, wrestling, rifle practice, manual at arms and other drills and training exercises which are followed at the training camp for the U. S. army officers will be faithfully carried out.

Fr. Sullivan has taken every precaution possible in making the purchases for the commissary department. He has refrained from purchasing canned stuff for fear that some of the boys might get ill and has purchased only meat and vegetables of the highest quality. Among the articles on the menu for the week is a roast chicken supper for tonight, lamb stew with fixings for Tuesday's dinner, roast beef for Wednesday, corned beef dinner for Thursday, either fish or clam chowder for Friday and broilers for Saturday. These are only the chief articles on the menu, ice cream and cake being the popular desert.

There will be no visiting hours today or tomorrow as the boys will need these two days to become familiar with the camp. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday the visiting hours will be from 1 to 9 p. m. Absolutely no visitors will be allowed on the camp during the morning hours as these will be given over to military maneuvers.

Thursday and Friday will be the big days for the cadets. On Thursday a baseball game between picked teams will be played and a number of races run off. The races include 50, 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes, shot put, relay race, broad jump and 50 and 100 yard swimming races. These will be under the supervision of Michael Dunn.

Friday is the day picked for the sham battle. This is the feature of every year's encampment. It will start early in the morning and will be over by noon. The judges for the battle have not yet been chosen.

TWO CROWDED WOODEN COACHES OF N. Y. ELEVATED TRAIN CRASHED INTO EMPTY SUBWAY TRAIN

Wooden Cars Telescoped and Crushed —Seven Passengers Injured—Officials Attribute Accident to Rain Which Caused Brakes of Elevated to Slip

NEW YORK, July 16.—Two wooden coaches of a crowded elevated train were telescoped and crushed, injuring seven passengers today, when it crashed into the rear of an empty subway train in the Bronx. The collision occurred opposite the Interborough Parking yards near the Kings Bridge station on the Jerome avenue division, where elevated and subway trains travel the overhead structure. Transportation officials attribute the accident to rain which caused the brakes of the elevated to slip.

22 Indicted in Whiskey Conspiracy

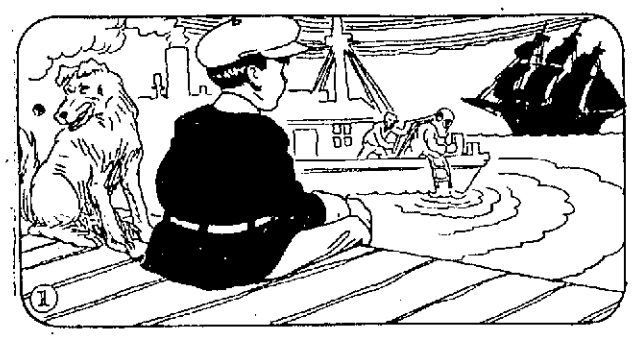

CHICAGO, July 16.—Twenty-two men were named in indictments returned by the federal grand jury here today, charged with conspiracy to transport 1000 cases of whiskey from the Old Grand Dad Distillery at Louisville, Ky., in September, 1920.

Among those named in the indictments are O. H. Wathen and E. C. Kennedy, both of Louisville; William A. Sadler, John J. McLaughlin and Matthew Weydert of Chicago. According to a statement made by the United States district attorney the indictments were returned by the June grand jury but were suppressed in order to apprehend Sadler. He was brought to Chicago last night by revenue agents.

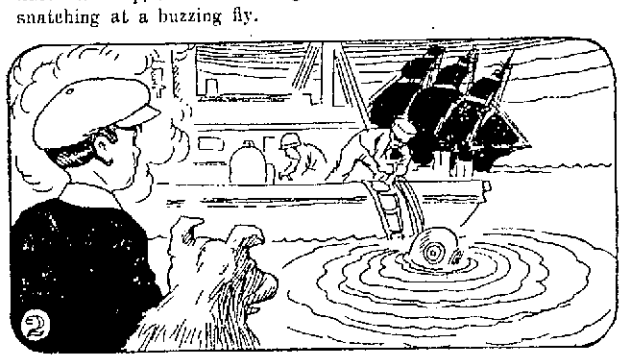

Aviators, Strapped to Seats, Drowned

VENICE, Cal., July 16.—Herbert Wilson and Cecil Coates, aviators, were drowned yesterday when the engine of a seaplane failed at an altitude of 200 feet. They had no chance to escape, as they were strapped to their seats.

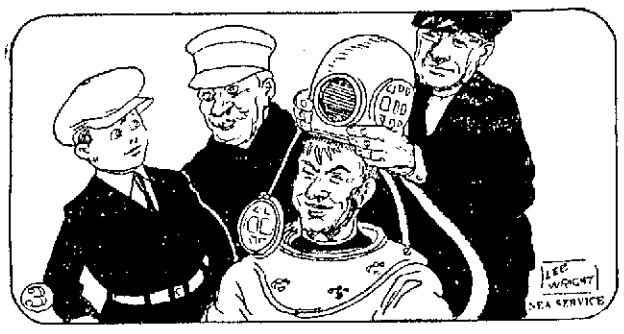

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 24

It was one of the bright, warm, sunshiny days when every youngster wants to go down by the water. Jack Daw sat on a dock, dangling his feet and watching some divers at work on their flatboat. Flip, his faithful dog, lolled by his side, now and then snatching at a buzzing fly.

Jack had seen a man crawl into a big diver's suit and slip gently down a rope ladder and out of sight beneath the water. He was waiting for this man to come up. Suddenly he saw some bubbles on top of the water and then the diver's head appeared. It was very interesting to Jack.

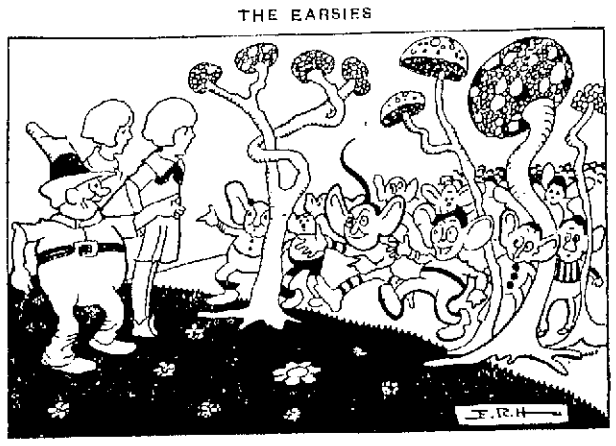

As the diver crawled up on to the flatboat, Jack slipped down off the dock and joined the men who were now starting to take the diver's suit off. One of the men turned to Jack and said, "How would you like to put this suit on and go down and see the bottom of the sea?" (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"COME ON, FELLOWS, WE'VE GOT COMPANY," CALLED ONE.

After the Nosey had left them, Mister Sky Bow asked Nancy and Nick if they would like to see where the Earsies lived.

"Are they some more of the odd people who live in Rainbow Land?" asked Nancy.

"Yes!" nodded the little fairy man, "and a happier crowd you never saw, although they are not very handsome."

So they went along past several queer houses and other queer things, and by 'n' by they heard a noise.

"Isn't that awful!" remarked Nancy. "What is it?"

"It's the Earsies singing themselves to sleep," said Mister Sky Bow. "We'll have to hurry."

So they hurried as fast as they could go.

And on turning a corner they came to the place the Earsies were. But all they saw was a hundred hammocks swinging this way and that.

"Hello!" called Mister Sky Bow loudly.

Instantly all the Earsies stopped swinging and singing and sat up. But they looked so funny the Twins could hardly keep from laughing.

For the ears of these queer little folk were so large they stuck out on each side of their heads like sails.

"Come on, fellows, we've got company," called one, and with that every little Earsy jumped out of his hammock bed and came up to shake hands.

"Where are your ears?" asked one when everybody'd said how d'do to the visitors.

"Here under our bobbed hair," said Nancy, showing him.

"Too bad," said the Earsy. "There are so many things you can't hear with such little ones."

"But it's better in a thunder storm," said Nick, laughing.

"And when Jack Frost is around," added Nancy.

"Oh, we don't mind them," said the little Earsies, running back to their hammocks. "Goodby."

"DELINQUENT GROUPS" FOUND IN COLLEGES

EVANSTON, Ind., July 16.—Too little sleep, too much play, not enough study, too much leisure; fast eating and diversified thinking are factors that devitalize students and are responsible for the "delinquent groups" found in every university, according to a report made public by Professor Dalton Thomas Howard of Northwestern University.

In Northwestern alone, out of 1,635 students in the college of liberal arts, Professor Howard has found a "delinquent group" of 265 composed of 166 men and 99 women. In other words, he points out, 16 out of every 100 students do not "pass." But delinquency does not necessarily imply lack of intelligence, the professor found.

"No result of our study," the Northwestern professor writes, "is more significant and interesting than the discovery that the average intelligence of the so-called delinquent group is quite as high as that of the general student body."

Students found to be delinquent are put on probation at Northwestern and have to make good or be dropped from the roster.

"The probationers," the investigator reports, "devote more time, as a whole, by their own confessions, to athletics, social activities, outside work, leisure, than do the freshmen; less time to sleep, campus activities, meals, classes and studies.

Among the total group of men interviewed, 15 were thought to be handicapped by "mental immaturity." Commenting on this Prof. Howard remarks:

"These are boys who have, for the most part, been reared under easy circumstances and who have never been required to view life seriously. Such students have a distinctly childish attitude towards their class-room work, have no intellectual interests, no definite ambitions, no sense of responsibility. In most of these cases, as might be expected, high school preparation has been superficial and inadequate."

Illness, family troubles, and financial worries are among the other causes leading to students being put on probation.

Safety Lessons FOR The Auto Driver

No. 9—The Carburetor

The carburetor vaporizes the gasolene and mixes this vapor with air in a certain proportion to form an explosive mixture. For use in automobile engines this mixture is about 14 parts of air to 1 part of gasolene vapor. (Parts are determined by weight.) If the mixture contains too much gasolene, it is too rich; this wastes gasolene, deposits excessive carbon, dilutes the oil in the crank case and prevents the oil from properly lubricating the engine. If the mixture contains too little gasolene, it is too lean; this may cause the engine to start hard, miss, or lack power.

This proportion of gasolene vapor to air can be regulated by certain adjustments of the carburetor. These adjustments are very sensitive and after they are once made properly there is little if any need for change. Only properly qualified and experienced persons should attempt to do anything to or make any adjustments on the carburetor.

No gasolene or air can enter the engine cylinder without first passing through the carburetor. Gasolene is fed from the gasolene tank to the float chamber of the carburetor. Here the gasolene is maintained at a level just below the end of the spray nozzle and sucks out some of the gasolene which is thus vaporized and becomes mixed with the air, forming an explosive gas.

The amount of gasolene and air entering the cylinders is controlled by the throttle valve (sometimes called a butterfly valve) located just above the carburetor in the pipe leading from the carburetor to the engine. The opening and closing of this valve is controlled by the hand throttle lever on the steering post, or by the foot accelerator, or by both. Opening the throttle valve admits more gasolene and air and speeds up the engine. Less gasolene and air are admitted and speed is lowered by moving the throttle toward the closed position.

The engine must ordinarily be cranked or turned over several times before it will start. This is because a charge of gasolene and air must first be drawn into the engine, then compressed and fired.

If the air drawn into the carburetor, or the mixture of air and gasolene coming from the carburetor is heated before it enters the engine cylinders, the cylinder walls are not unnecessarily cooled and the engine will operate more economically.

The daily waste of gasolene is enormous. If the drivers in our country were more careful they could save over a million gallons of gasolene a day, simply by having the carburetor adjusted properly, operating the car only when necessary and shutting off the engine when standing still.

A subject interesting to people in all walks of life, from the children who study about their ancestors, to the older folk who have witnessed the development of naval activities, is an exhibit at the Lowell public library. A group of pictures representing ships from the time of Noah's Ark up to the 20th century, is a topic which seems to fit in appropriately at the present time when there is so much questioning concerning naval limitation.

Among the group is a sketch of Odysseus' bark in which he made his famous travels. Interesting indeed is the comparison between the Santa Maria, Columbus' flagship and the liner Imperator. There is a difference of 15,500 tons between the two ships. Another comparison is the first "Dreadnaught" built by Queen Elizabeth and [illegible] today shows the [illegible] in naval crafts.

"Three Centuries of [illegible]" is the title of a sketch showing the three largest ships of their century, The Great Harry, The Victory and The Hood, the latter being built in the beginning of the 20th century and weighing 41,000 tons. The exhibit is one of the best ever shown locally, and promises pleasant educational moments to those who visit it.

America has the strongest submarine power in the world. She has already [illegible] building, while Great Britain has 65 and eight building.

LEVIATHAN SEAMEN ACCUSED OF DESERTING

SOUTHAMPTON, July 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Twenty-six members of the crew of the American steamship Leviathan were summoned in police court today on charges of deserting other ships, including the Berengaria, Aquitania, Olympic, Mauretania and Homeric.

Fireman Courtney, alleged to have deserted the Aquitania, proved that he had never been on the ship and the case against him was withdrawn with the allowance of one guinea for costs. Two other cases were taken as tests. The prosecuting solicitor said the proceedings were not instituted to embarrass the United States lines, but with a view of vindicating the rights of British shipping companies to maintain discipline aboard their own vessels.

The Cunard line has lost 600 men through desertion in four months and the White Star 500 men. All defendants before the court returned here as seamen on the Leviathan.

ELECTION OF U. S. SENATOR

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 16.—(By the Associated Press) Voters of Minnesota today are writing the verdict in the unprecedented contest involving the selection of a United States senator in succession to the late Knute Nelson.

In 3520 polling precincts, ballots are being marked determining whether a supporter of the Harding administration shall go to the senate, or if the state shall throw its complete senatorial strength to the La Follette group.

While there are three candidates it is between Governor J. A. O. Preus, republican, and a Harding adherent, and Magnus Johnson, a Farmer-Laborite and follower of Robert M. La Follette, that the real contest lies.

James A. Carley, state senator and democratic choice, is the third candidate, but even his close political friends counted him out of the race before the polls opened at 6 a. m. today.

The election ends a campaign unusual in the political annals of the state. Called specifically to fill the vacancy, Senator Nelson's death created, the primary June 18 was marked by apathetic balloting that attracted only a few more than 300,000 of the state's 800,000 votes.

SUBSTANTIAL INCREASES FOR BANK CLERKS

All the other banks are expected to follow suit. This means that the bank clerk's pay will be brought more into line with that received by workers in other professions. About 25,000 will be affected.

In the post-war scuffle to bring wages up to living costs the bank employe has been left behind. Other types of "white collar" workers are receiving 10 to 100 per cent more than their fellows in the banking field. The pay in the banks and that given skilled manual workers, such as bricklayers, plumbers or painters, tells a story of contrasts.

The rank and file bank worker has been averaging around $15 a month for women and $100 for men.

The bonus system is to go. It gave the employe a chance to share in the profits of the bank and was all right in prosperous years, but a burden in lean years. The amount devoted to the bonus will be divided among the workers in the form of salary increases. This will not mean a blanket increase, but will result in substantial increases for men and women whose efficiency records warrant such. The inefficient will be shifted into other lines or shunted out of the field.

The insurance plan will also enter into the new era for the bank clerk.

NASHUA MAN PAYS $210 IN COURT

Charles T. Swain of Nashua made a contribution of $210 to the county treasury this morning, this sum being imposed by Judge Enright in district court on six charges.

In court to a drunkenness complaint he was fined $[illegible]; for operating an auto without a license he was fined $5; for operating without a certificate of registration a fine of $[illegible] was imposed; for operating while under the influence of liquor a fine of $100 was imposed, and fines of $50 each were imposed on the charges of assaulting an officer and operating an auto in such a manner as to endanger lives and safety of pedestrians.

LOSE REDUCED RATE SERVICE

Declares Conditions Everywhere Are Normal or Approaching Normal

BOSTON, July 16.—Striking telephone operators in Massachusetts and Rhode Island will not receive the 50 per cent. discount on local and toll service granted by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. to its employes after tomorrow. The ruling already announced in Springfield and Worcester, will apply to all exchanges in the affected territory, officials of the company announced today.

The strikers will have the option of retaining their telephones at regular subscribers' rates or having them disconnected.

"The company waited three weeks for the girls to return and during that time, which was considered a fair interval, the reduced rate service was furnished," it was stated at the company's general offices.

Official bulletins on service conditions in New England, which have been issued daily since the beginning of the strike on June 26, have been discontinued. Conditions everywhere are normal or are approaching normal, through the recruiting of new operators, officials said.

Approximately 5000 operators walked out on June 26 to enforce a demand for increased pay and a seven-hour day.

Five Strikers Return

LAWRENCE, July 16.—Five telephone operators who have been on strike at the local exchange, returned to work today, Manager Cheney announced. All of them had been invited by the company to return, he said. Four were union girls and one a non-union girl, he said.

Improvement at Salem

SALEM, July 16.—Ninety-six operators are on duty at the local exchange, a gain of six since Saturday, two being strikers who have quit the union. More strikers are expected to apply for positions today, according to the local manager. The removal of half rate telephones from the homes of strikers started today.

WILL SPEND TWO WEEKS AT SUNSET HOUSE

A happy party of fifty boys and girls left Lowell in automobiles this morning, bound for the Sunset House, Nantasket beach, where they will be the guests of the Particular Council of St. Vincent de Paul society for the next two weeks. Accompanying the children was Mrs. Sara F. Hunt, supervisor of the Catholic Charitable Bureau of Lowell, who will look after their many wants during the stay at the beach.

Sunset house was established at Nantasket about 12 years ago by His Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell and has capably fulfilled the needs of a children's recreation center during the warm summer months. The Lowell party left this city at 8.30 o'clock and motored to Rowe's wharf, Boston, boarding the steamer there for Nantasket.

Before the car crashed, Patrolman Travers signalled for the driver to halt, and when his signal was unheeded he fired three shots into the air. The next instant the automobile smashed into the side of the building, ripping a hole several feet long.

Patrolman Travers ran to the wreckage and found the driver hanging over the wheel in a semi-conscious condition. McMahon was walking away from the car in a dazed condition but apparently unhurt. Beauparlant was sent to the Peter Bent Brigham hospital, where it was stated he had received serious internal injuries, laceration of the head, face and body. The police and witnesses who saw the crash marveled at the man's miraculous escape from instantaneous death.

According to the Boston police, charges will be preferred against Beauparlant if he recovers. They allege he was under the influence of liquor. McMahon was placed under arrest for drunkenness. At the station house, he told the authorities that he and Beauparlant had had lunch in Cambridge and that Beauparlant had driven at a reasonable rate of speed to a point not far from the scene of the accident. He said that then Beauparlant, despite his pleadings, "stepped on it" and refused to slacken the pace. McMahon said he grabbed the emergency brake and jammed it on. When he tried to wrest the wheel from the control of Beauparlant the car skidded almost at right angles before crashing.
